ARAB CRISIS BLAME SET

Lord Passfield Accused

White Paper on Palestine Policy Issued Without Cabinet Reading

MacDonald Expected to Pacify Jews With Modifications

[Copyright, 1930, by New York World]

LONDON, Oct. 28. (Exclusive)—The now famous white paper in which the British government announced a Palestine policy which has infuriated Jews all over the world was issued by Lord Passfield, Dominion Secretary, without coming before the Cabinet.

It was learned from a reliable Labor party source today that Prime Minister MacDonald, Foreign Secretary Henderson and Chancellor of the Exchequer Snowden had no knowledge of its contents before it was published.

LABOR CHIEFS ANGRY

The chiefs of the Labor party are said to be angry at its tone, and there is some talk in Labor Parliamentary circles about the possibility of Lord Passfield, who before he became a peer was Sidney Webb, eminent economist, resigning in consequence.

Another Cabinet Minister believed implicated in the publication of the document is Wedgood Benn, Secretary of State for India. He approved the white paper, according to the House of Commons gossip today, on the theory that Indian Moslem opinion would be pleased at the demonstration that Great Britain intends to support the interests of the Palestine Arab.

Although the Cabinet did not pass on the document, the fact that it was issued by Lord Passfield, the Secretary of State responsible for the administration of the Palestine mandate, makes it impossible for the Labor government to disavow it. In fact, however, it is believed that MacDonald intends to modify its terms as relating to the Palestine Jews. There was a possible hint of this, carefully veiled, in his speech today, although any such step will have to be carefully camouflaged now or the British will have the Arabs buzzing about their ears.

MacDONALD QUIZZED

Former Premier Stanley Baldwin asked in the House of Commons today if the white paper meant a change in policy toward the Palestine mandate.

In answering him, MacDonald said that the statement had to be made to reconcile contradictory parts of certain other declarations of policy. The Premier added that the government was "sticking strictly to the letter of the mandate."

SIMI VALLEY TOWN SAVED FROM BLAZE

Desperate Fight Waged by Townspeople Checks Brush Fire in Time

SANTA PAULA, Oct. 28. (Exclusive)—A fierce brush fire roared to within a mile of the town of Simi in the Simi Valley, east of here, today and only by concerted effort of the townspeople, who deserted their stores and homes to reinforce the fire fighters, was the blaze brought under control.

At nightfall a blackened, smoldering area on the hillsides told the story of the heroic efforts of the valley folk to stem the fiery tide that swept over hundreds of acres, destroying valuable watershed and much stock feed.

Another fire north of Santa Susana tonight is speeding before a strong wind toward the Tapo Hills and several hundred men are battling desperately to bring it under control. A stiff breeze is favoring the blaze as it crackles through the dry growth of the hills. It already has denuded hundreds of acres.

The Simi fire is believed to have started when a tent in a Mexican camp blew down in the wind and caught fire from an oil stove.

Destruction of the watershed is considered serious here, for Simi is limited in its water supply and the watershed was needed badly in conservation.

More than 700 men aiding the county fire fighters under Fire Warden Emerick have been at work on the two fire lines. A barn and a small portion of the residence of Dr. Fred Fitzgerald of Los Angeles were burned, but other property has escaped damage.

A third blaze is reported on the Coast Highway five miles southeast of Oxnard.

Boynton will remain here tonight. He said if the weather is clear and there is no wind tomorrow he expects to fly to Phoenix. If conditions are only partly favorable he said he will fly to Kansas City.

Hull, unable to be present, was represented by his son, Charles Hull, a member of the lodge.

Harindranath Chattopadyaya, poet and dramatist, succeeds her as president.

SHAW PRAISES EINSTEIN

Noted Men Exchange Compliments in Speeches Heard by Millions of Radio Listeners

LONDON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Two of the most famous men in the world, George Bernard Shaw and Prof. Albert Einstein, spoke and exchanged compliments tonight at a dinner in honor of the German scientist. The soft Irish brogue of Mr. Shaw and the sharp staccato German of Prof. Einstein were broadcast to millions of listeners in England and the United States.

In proposing the health of Prof. Einstein, Mr. Shaw was in his lightest vein.

"DIG" AT AMERICA

"Here in London we are still a great center. I don't suppose we shall be a great center long. All that will be transferred presently to the United States. But for the moment I am speaking in a capital where the reception of great men is a very common event."

Mr. Shaw proposed a toast to the scientist as "the greatest of our contemporaries," placing him among "the men who are great among great men."

Shaw said he had felt it would be impossible adequately to introduce a man so distinguished as Prof. Einstein, but he had accepted because he believed he could do it as well as anybody else.

OPINION OF NAPOLEON

Facetiously remarking one must be guilty of "suppressions and hypocrisy" in introducing many distinguished personages, he said:

"Suppose I had been called upon tonight to rise and propose a toast to Napoleon. I could say many things about him, but the things most appropriate I could not say—that it would perhaps have been better for the human race if he had never been born.

"There are great men, and there are men who are great among great men. Napoleon and the great men of his kind were builders of empires. But there is an order of greatness beyond that, the great men who are builders of universes. And the hands of these great men are unstained by the blood of any human being on earth.

GREATEST MEN NAMED

"They are very rare, these builders of universes. I can go back 2500 years and name them on my two hands."

He then named eight: Aristotle, Pythagoras, Copernicus, Ptolemy, Galileo, Newton, Kepler and Einstein. As he finished he added, "and I still have two fingers left.

"These are the leaders," he said, "of one side of the great movement of the human race. I call one side of that movement religion, and the other side science.

"Now religion always is right. Religion solves problems. Science is always wrong. Science never solves one problem without raising ten more."

He humorously described how Newton created "above everything else, a British rectilinear universe" and how "a young professor got up in Central Europe" 300 years later and proved Newton was not altogether right.

Prof. Einstein addressed the guests at the banquet, organized by the joint British committee for the promotion of the physical and economic welfare of eastern Jewry, and urged international Jewry to remain true to its traditions.

He said he came from virtual retirement at the urgent pleadings of the voice of his people. He believed serving the aims of humanity should always remain highest in the scale of Jewish ideals.

COURAGE URGED

"In the traditions of the Jewish people there exists a striving toward righteousness and an understanding which should be of service to the rest of the nations now and in the future.

SEA CALMS FOR BORIS AND BRIDE

After Braving Windstorm Yacht Reaches Corinth En Route to Sofia

CORINTH (Greece) Oct. 28. (AP)—After having braved an Adriatic storm of gale proportions, the Bulgarian royal yacht Czar Ferdinand, bearing King Boris and Queen Giovanna, tonight has safely passed through the Canal of Corinth.

The newly wedded royal couple are en route to Sofia, where on Thursday a civil marriage is scheduled to be performed.

This marriage, Premier Liaptcheff is understood to have said, will take place at 10 o'clock in the morning and will resemble more closely the Orthodox marriage form than a simple benediction.

The royal yacht was caught by a violent gale while the couple were crossing from Brindisi to Varna, Black Sea port. After being out of touch with the world for hours, due to atmospheric interference, the Czar Ferdinand radioed she would pass through the Corinth Canal late today and shortly after 3:30 o'clock the royal honeymooners were in the stilled waters.

CALIFORNIA BANKS SET HIGH MARK

Record Growth in Last Ten Years Revealed by Supt. Wood's Report

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28. (Exclusive)—California's banks made a growth during the ten years ending June 30, last, that is unparalleled in any previous decade in the State's banking history, Will C. Wood, State Bank Superintendent, reported at today's session of the Governor's Council.

In 1920, 725 State and national banks with 170 branches, were doing business in California, with aggregate resources of $2,499,316,000, whereas on June 30, last, there were 437 State and national banks in California with 852 branches and with resources totaling $4,233,409,000, a gain of almost $2,000,000,000 in ten years.

For this period savings deposits show an increase of almost $1,000,000,000, bringing their total up to $1,980,136,000. Commercial deposits which now stand at $1,003,637,000, have increased by more than $250,000,000.

TRIBE SLAYS JAPANESE

Head Hunters Massacre 190

Nippon Army Units Sent to Check Taiyal Savages on War Path in Formosa

Message Declares Wild Men Raided School Grounds and Slaughtered Girls

TOKIO, Oct. 28. (AP)—Fifteen hundred or more head-hunting savages took the warpath today in a Central Formosa uprising against Japanese rule.

They attacked Musha village and unconfirmed reports said they killed 1?0 Japanese and seventy peaceable Formosans.

A Japanese punitive expedition of 600 soldiers and policemen attacked aborigine mountain fastnesses today. Reinforced by artillery, the Japanese are expected to force their way into Musha tomorrow.

FEAR FOR SETTLERS

It is feared many Japanese settlers in the Musha district perished in the uprising of Taiyal tribesmen. War Office dispatches said the savages annihilated police stations before dawn yesterday.

Next they charged the village of Musha, attacking a school where a sports meet was taking place. Twenty schoolgirls are reported killed.

Having seized 100 rifles, the savages are said to be advancing upon other villages.

A fortnight ago Japanese dispatches from Formosa announced the process of subjugation of aborigines which has persisted for a quarter century finally was completed. Therefore, military contingents remaining in the last two danger spots in interior mountain districts were about to be withdrawn.

HEAD HUNTERS RISE

Subjugation evidently was less conclusive than Japanese administrators believed, for at least 1500 braves of the savage Taiyal head-hunting tribes again are on the warpath.

The Taiyal folk occupy a mountainous area between Mt. Morrison and Mt. Sylvia, parts of which still are unexplored and represent one of the few remaining strongholds of savage society remaining on the globe.

Japanese military effort to subjugate Formosan aborigines was begun in 1905 and has continued until today, despite occasional Japanese official announcements of its successful completion. The campaign cost Japan scores of millions of yen. Forces engaged sometimes reached 10,000 men and airplanes occasionally were used to bomb savage concentrations.

Since about 1910 the principal Japanese weapon has been a gradually contracting barbed-wire fence inclosing the savage area. This fence recently was 360 miles long, of which the greater extent was electrified. How the tribesmen passed the barrier Monday was not explained.

According to Japanese records, savages killed more than 7000 persons during the twenty-five-year conflict. While other aboriginal tribes easily submitted to Japanese rule, the Taiyals desperately resisted alike military subjugation and peaceable penetration.

The few civilian Japanese and Chinese who entered their valleys became engaged chiefly in forestry.

JUDD SAYS HAWAII BEST COMMERCIALLY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28. (Exclusive)—Gov. Judd of the Hawaiian Islands, who reached this city on the Maui today en route to Washington, declared the belief Hawaii is in better condition commercially and industrially than any other place under the American flag.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Oct. 28. [To the Editor of The Times:] Senator Shipstead of Minnesota paid me a little visit at the ranch Sunday. He ain't either a Democrat or Republican, and it was mighty refreshing to talk to somebody who could tell you the truth about both sides. He is the only Senator who don't have to have a convention to tell him what to think.

In the same paper this morning where I said we needed a big navy, why the Secretary of the Navy said the same thing. I never thought I would live to see the day that I would be thinking on a par with the Boston Adamses.

Mr. Coolidge said he wouldn't talk on the radio till some humanitarian cause presented itself. It did. The Republicans in Massachusetts needed him.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

HOOVER MAKES VIGOROUS ATTACK AGAINST KELLEY

Shale Lease Charges Denounced as Outrageous Effort to Smirch Administration Record

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (Exclusive)—President Hoover doesn't get mad very often, but, as was said of Lincoln, "when he gets mad, he gets mad clean through."

That was the case today when the President took occasion at his semiweekly press conference to denounce in the most vigorous and unequivocal terms the attempt that has been made to fasten an oil-shale lease scandal on his administration through charges made by Ralph S. Kelley, former field agent for the Interior Department at Denver, and published serially in the New York World, a Democratic newspaper, which syndicated them to other newspapers.

Plainly outraged at the accusations which have been hurled at Secretary Ray Lyman Wilbur and which the Department of Justice after thorough investigation has pronounced absolutely baseless, Mr. Hoover minced no words in calling it a political attack and in castigating the individuals and newspaper responsible for spreading it. He called attention to the fact the charges were launched in the midst of the campaign for control of Congress, that the author had refused to place particulars before his superiors in the government, listen to their offer of proof that his charges were unfounded or co-operate in the independent inquiry conducted by the Justice Department while all the time he was negotiating with a Democratic newspaper for publication of his "sensational story" for pay.

PAPER CONDEMNED

The newspaper that bought Kelley's charges was severely condemned by the President, although not by name, for not investigating before bursting into print.

"As a piece of journalism," declared Mr. Hoover, "it may be that the newspaper involved was misled. It certainly does not represent the practice of better American journalism."

As for the campaign aspect the President characterized the incident a "far below the ideals of political partisanship held by substantial men in that (Democratic) party."

Mr. Hoover said he recognized the right of newspapers to criticise and regarded it as one of the safeguards of good government. But with great feeling he expressed amazement that Kelley should have made such charges and a responsible newspaper should have printed them without any apparent attempt by either to determine the truth or falsity of the accusation. The paper, he asserted, could have learned by inquiry at the Interior Department and an examination of records that the charges were worthless.

KELLEY FACES CHARGES

Despite the report of the Department of Justice finding the Kelley charges without exception to be entirely lacking in foundation, indications are that Democrats and Republican-insurgents in the Senate will force a special investigation by the Senate when Congress returns in December. Secretary Wilbur has welcomed such an inquiry in a public statement.

When Kelley first made his charges just a month ago today he announced his resignation from the Interior Department, which has employed him more than twenty-five years, but the resignation was not accepted by Secretary Wilbur. It is understood now that instead of permitting him to resign, Secretary Wilbur will file charges against him with the Civil Service Commission and have him kicked out of the government service.

The statement made by President Hoover shows the "big stick" he occasionally employs when aroused swinging in the most vicious arc since his veto of the Spanish-American War pension bill during the last session of Congress.

HOOVER'S STATEMENT

The statement follows:

"The Department of Justice has now published the result of its examination into the sensational charges made by Ralph S. Kelley, employee of the Land Office, that Secretary Wilbur and other officials of the Department of Interior had been guilty of dishonesty and misfeasance in adjudication of title claims to oil shale lands running into hundreds of thousands of acres and into losses to the government of scores of billions of dol-

FASCISTS GO ON PARADE

'Young Strength' of Italy Shown

Black-Shirt Forces, Stirred by Duce's Words, March in Every City

Vatican Joins Demonstration, With Cardinal Blessing Military Flag

ROME, Oct. 28. (AP)—Italy today showed the world the "youthful strength" to which Premier Mussolini referred in an address in which he ushered in the eighth anniversary of Fascism.

The black-shirt militia, stirred to patriotism all over the country by the Duce's words "unmasking a warlike Europe," marched in every city and village.

Moving columns gave an inkling of what Mussolini meant yesterday when he promised that two years hence the tenth anniversary of the Fascist march on Rome will witness the greatest military concentration there in 3000 years.

Scores of fighting planes droned over the capital while the chief of state here and his ministers elsewhere officially opened hundreds of public works which Fascism has built to give employment and to develop the country's economic strength.

VATICAN PARTICIPATES

The Vatican participated. Cardinal Sincero, standing beside the Duce, blessed a military banner which Mussolini presented to a group of war wounded. It was the first time a prince of the church has in such public manner identified himself with Fascism.

Mussolini spoke briefly, directing his talk mainly to the wounded black-shirts, among whom were forty blind. Himself a wounded veteran, the Duce called them "comrades" and added it is eloquent that they, already proven in conflict, should feel the need of entering the militia to defend the Fascist revolution.

"I am sure," the Duce declared, "if events required it you, who already have given so much in yesterday's war, would be ready even tomorrow to march ahead of all the armed nations."

His hearers shouted "yes!"

"Will you do it?"

"Yes!" the throng repeated.

FIDELITY ACCLAIMED

"All Italy welcomes your oath and knows you will be faithful to her in every instant of your lives."

"Italy and the whole world must take note that the Fascist regime every year conquers new consciences of upright and valorous men, capable of renewing the gesture by which they made themselves great in victorious war," the Premier continued.

"The great family of the state's armed forces; the army to which we are all proud to belong; the navy, aviation, the militia—all this formidable mass of arms and hearts welcomes you with cordial comradeship and fraternity."

TWENTY-NINE IN MINE TRAP

Rescuers in Oklahoma Blast Tragedy Battling Deadly Fumes in Efforts to Reach Victims

M'ALESTER (Okla.) Oct. 28. (AP)—Fighting deadly after-damp which drove them back time after time, and handicapped by debris, mine rescue crews tonight continued efforts to reach lower levels of the Wheatley No. 4 mine, where a blast last night entombed twenty-nine men and killed William Donley, working at the mine mouth.

Working in short shifts, sixty-one rescue men, most of them from neighboring mines, battled gas and debris. Several were overcome by the fumes. Because of the debris-filled passageway, it took six men several hours to bring John Moore, a rescue worker, to the surface after he had been overcome.

Workers who ventured too far into the mine were driven back, choking, to better air. They reported that at times they conquered the gas sufficiently to go ahead, only to have a fresh wave of after-damp force them to retreat.

A report that the bodies of four men had been sighted on the sixteenth level was discredited later.

A chance some may have escaped the terrific blast, which was heard for two miles, and the after-damp that followed, led workers to redouble their efforts to break through rock falls, restore ventilation and reach the tomb where the men are trapped.

A group of seven who went into the shaft today returned to the surface after three hours' work to report they believed they were about 400 feet from the trapped miners. Walter Tate, one of the rescuers, said the gas at that point was still too dense to permit him to go further.

Three falls of debris had been bridged this afternoon to permit rapid removal of any of the men found alive when reached. A half-dozen ambulances waited near the mine mouth to rush any found alive to a hospital. An emergency hospital has been set up.

Ventilating fans were kept in operation to clear the mine of gas as barrier after barrier was penetrated.

UNEMPLOYMENT AIDS SUGGESTED

Industrial Director French Makes Recommendations

State and City Committees First Measure Needed

Survey and Study Urged to Forestall Recurrence

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28. (Exclusive)—Recommendations for the alleviation of unemployment conditions in California were submitted today to the Governor's Council by Will J. French, State Director of Industrial Relations.

He recommended the appointment of a State committee to cooperate with a similar committee to be named by each city in the State, and urged an appropriation of $100,000 by the 1931 Legislature to carry on the program.

SURVEY URGED

Other recommendations are:

That an intensive study of unemployment insurance be undertaken with a view to submitting to the 1931 Legislature a plan, or plans, for consideration by the people.

That attention be directed to stabilizing and regularizing employment, to the alternating of lay-offs, to the dismissal wage, and to the importance of new industries in providing work.

That free State employment bureaus be developed for a fuller service, and that the seasonal offices be increased in number, so that all kinds of labor can be furnished without charge to either employees or employer, and that transportation facilities be given to those who are without means.

That Federal resources be utilized to the best advantage when pending legislation is passed by Congress.

That State, county and city work be planned with a view to providing the maximum of employment.

SCAN FIVE-DAY WEEK

That the five-day week be studied, as well as other plans for combating unemployment.

That pension plans, group insurance, compensation insurance, age discrimination in industry and other like problems that are related to the unemployment question be investigated.

That the universities of California be invited to have their departments of economics assist in every way possible.

That censuses of the unemployed be taken at intervals, so that reliable information will be at hand.

That expert help be obtained by the State to direct the studies and research into the technical questions that will present themselves.

NEED IMMEDIATE

"So far as unemployment is concerned," said French, "there are things to do immediately and ideas that can be explored later. We are now dealing with hungry fellow-citizens. Attention to their need is paramount.

"Thoughtful people recognize the complexities of the economic changes that must be introduced to master unemployment, and yet they should not be insurmountable to those who have conquered in so many realms of life's activities.

"Occasionally men say the way out rests with industry, or with the employers, forgetful of the desperate straits in which so many business men find themselves. It is everybody's job to contribute to the great objective."

State free employment agencies last month placed 12,192 persons in positions, as compared with 17,219 given jobs in September, 1929.

STATE WORK STARTED, SAYS DIRECTOR MEEK

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28. (AP)—Establishment of work camps in Southern and Northern California to provide labor for approximately 2000 unemployed men is under way, B. B. Meek, director of the State Department of Public Works, told Gov. Young today in reply to proposals that the State alleviate the unemployment situation within its boundaries.

Meek told of his department's plan for giving work to "pick-and-shovel" men at the Governor's council after Will J. French, director of the Department of Industrial Relations, set forth an appeal that the State do something immediately toward lessening unemployment difficulties.

WHITE LIGHTS ROMANCE ENDS

Bob and Muriel Johnson at Parting

Famous Team in Divorce Courts

Bob and Muriel Johnson, former classmates at University of California, who became known as entertainers in night clubs all over world, finally break up.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (Exclusive) Bob and Muriel Johnson, classmates at the University of California in 1923 and since then baffling marvels of fidelity to one another in a string of night clubs girdling the globe have at last gone to the divorce courts.

For years they have played in the world's gayest night clubs. For years lovesick society matrons with millions sat entranced by Bob's banjo and worked their wiles in vain to take him from Muriel. For eight years philandering millionaires danced with Muriel and begged her to fly with them. But Bob and Muriel always went home together, deliriously happy, to a little apartment far from the fetid atmosphere of their places of business.

They were so faithful and devoted the cynics simply threw up their hands and gave them up years ago.

But the cynics gave up too soon. The banjo and piano song-and-dance team that has thrilled the hardest audience in New York to please—the gourmets of taste and entertainment who go from swank Park avenue to Barney Gallant's club in Greenwich Village — is through.

Bob, laughing, boyish and collegiate, was served today in a divorce suit brought here by Muriel. She intends to name a prominent society woman as corespondent through her attorney, Richard A. Knight. Knight refused to discuss the case today. But it was learned that Bob, ever gallant, is battling against the girl who has been his partner and wife since their college days, in a frantic effort to prevent her from naming her wealthy rival.

Bob and Muriel were a hit from the start because they didn't take themselves seriously. Possessed of marvelous talent at putting verve and sheer joyousness into their playing and singing, they starred together in college shows. They set out from California for Honolulu as soon as they graduated and proved an immediate night club hit. They made a triumphal tour of the world with their act. Then came their success at Barney Gallant's.

All Hawaii, Asia, Egypt, Istanbul, Paris, Berlin and London could not drag Bob from Muriel, but Broadway, it appears, has managed it.

These letters, which go to all employment agencies in the southwestern States as well as to individuals who write in, stress the fact that ample notice will be given as contracts are let and employment on the Colorado River development opens up.

MOVES TO HELP JOBLESS GET UNDER WAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—The campaign to rid the jobless horde of want in the lean winter months advanced with definite strides today as the Federal government made plans to create more opportunities for work and outside agencies began functioning to relieve local distress.

Announcements of the government's action coupled with reports from different sections of the country of the steps taken by voluntary organizations greeted Col. Arthur Woods, chairman of the President's emergency committee for employment, upon his return from New York.

Members of his staff he recruited in New York are to meet with him tomorrow. Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, consulting engineer of Montclair, N. J., is to be in charge of the women's activities. John B. Blandford, Jr., of Cincinnati, is to work with municipalities, and Bryce Stewart, New York statistician, is in charge of gathering information on unemployment and places were employment may be found.

Plans of the Postoffice Department to place 228,490 additional persons on its pay roll during the Christmas holiday season beginning December 13 were outlined today by Postmaster-General Brown. In this manner about $6,720,000 will be distributed to needy breadwinners, President Hoover having previously signed an executive order waiving civil service qualifications of workmen in order to make the widest distribution to the most destitute.'

Although about 200,000 extra employees were used last Christmas, many of them were not in actual need of employment. The Postmaster-General issued specific orders to postmasters throughout the country to determine the financial condition of the applicants to assure they need work.

Gen. Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans' affairs, said the Veterans' Bureau will award contracts within a few weeks for hospital units costing $7,000,000, which will provide work for 4500 men. The hospitals are to be located at Indianapolis, Waco, Tex.; Camp Custer, Mich., and additions are to be undertaken at Northport, L. I.; Somerset, N. J., and Tucson, Ariz.

Bids were opened for a $5,270,000 office building for the House of Representatives in Washington as another employment measure.

WOMEN URGED TO WAGE WAR ON SUFFERING

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—This period of united effort to give jobs to those who need them is like a time of war, Col. Arthur Woods, chairman of the President's emergency committee on employment, today told women's club leaders from six States.

"This is wartime," he said, "and the common enemy is great suffering. It is making an assault upon our people.

"When Mr. Hoover wanted a job done in his program for conservation of food, the people who put it across were the women," Col. Woods said. "Now, the President expects equal results. If the women understand the problem, they can put it across again."

SEVILLE UNIVERSITY STUDENTS ON STRIKE

SEVILLE (Spain) Oct. 28. (AP)—Five hundred students of the University of Seville refused to attend their classes today. They marched into the school of physiology and forcibly ejected all the class members. This school was the only one that attempted to hold sessions today.

HOOVER FLAYS SHALE CHARGES

Inquiry Finding Plaints Baseless Cited

New York Paper That Ran Stories Scored

lars. It is an attempt to charge odious oil scandals to this administration.

"The facts are that out of 8,000,000 acres of government holdings of such lands the whole matter boils down to the item that this administration had approved old title claims for some 43,000 acres arising under the mineral law prior to 1920. Under my orders no leases or titles have been passed under the new law. Of these old claims Kelley himself approved about 20,000 acres. The courts ordered about 16,000 acres and about 7000 acres came up on an appeal to the heads of the department for decision, only part of which Kelley opposed on the technical grounds. Furthermore, these oil shale lands have little present value and instead of being worth billions, can be bought from private owners for a few dollars per acre.

CHARGES BASELESS

"Atty.-Gen. Mitchell and Assistant Attorney-General Seth Richardson, after painstaking investigation of the records upon every statement and innuendo made by Kelley, pronounced that every one of his charges has been proved baseless, without merit or substance. They concluded that the government's interest in these lands has been vigorously protected and it is indicated that there has ever been over-strain in the zeal of protection from old claims as witness orders of the courts in favor of individuals overruling the decisions of the department.

"There are some phases of this incident on which it is desirable in public interest that I should comment. I may say at once that proper inquiry or proper criticism by the press is a safeguard of good government.

"But this investigation shows more than this. Kelley had been called to Washington last summer to discuss with his immediate superiors questions of organization in the office of which he had charge. He made no suggestion of these charges to his superior officers during a period of over six weeks in Washington, but during this time was in negotiation for the sale of his fabrications to a journal identified with the opposition political party, and they were launched in the middle of a political campaign.

STORY NOT CHECKED

"No single inquiry has been or was made by the agencies behind Kelley at the Department of the Interior or any other governmental department as to the facts before their publication. The charges, when first published, were in general and demagogic terms, but were instantly denied by Secretary Wilbur and proof offered which would indicate their falsity. Kelley was asked and refused to place any particulars before his superior officers and refused even to co-operate with the Department of Justice for an independent investigation.

"Furthermore, Kelley, himself, could, by the merest inquiry in his own department, have determined the falsity of his own statements, as witness his assertions of titles granted which were never granted, of hundreds of thousands of acres of land alienated which never was alienated, of papers destroyed which never were destroyed, of billions of dollars which never existed; and scores of other reckless statements.

"Yet despite all these opportunities to test the truth, these agencies have persisted in broadcasting them for the past six weeks by every device of publicity, and Kelley has received payment for them. Such inquiry by him or by the broadcasters of these statements would no doubt have destroyed the political or the sale value of these stories.

PAPERS MISLED

"As a piece of journalism it may well be that the newspaper involved was misled. It certainly does not represent the practice of better American journalism. As a piece of politics it is certainly far below the ideals of political partisanship held by substantial men in that party.

"There is, however, another phase. I am interested and have a duty in the preserving and upbuilding of honest public service. I hope the American people realize that when reckless, baseless and infamous charges in the face of responsible denial with no attempt at verification, are supported by political agencies and are broadcast, reflecting upon the probity of such men as Secretary Wilbur, the ultimate result can only be damage to public service as a whole. Such things damage the whole faith of our people in men.

"There is hardly an administrative official of importance in the Federal government who is not serving the government to the sacrifice of the satisfactions and remuneration he or she could command from private life. Aside from service to their countrymen the only thing they can hope for is the enhancement of their reputations with their countrymen. The one hope of high service and integrity and ability is that such men should be willing to undertake it, and when men of a lifetime of distinction and probity do undertake it they should not be subjected to infamous transactions of this character."

WILBUR SAYS "NONSENSE"

The Department of Justice, which has investigated the allegations of the former Denver land office official, today made public letters by Secretary Wilbur and Former Secretary of Interior Work. Both asserted they had no knowledge of irregularities and Wilbur described the affair as "nonsense."

In his letter Work said the department files are always open to inspection and that he did not believe any had been destroyed. He described the departmental routine and said, "At no time was I urged to rule in favor of any individual or corporate organization by any member of Congress from Colorado or elsewhere."

"Party politics was never intruded into the departmental decision," he added.

"Complaints were frequent and recurring against Mr. Kelley by homesteaders, claimants for patents to oil shale lands and from those who wished to buy patented claims. His discharge or transfer from the Denver office was repeatedly urged by citizens under his jurisdiction, but he was protected in his place by Assistant Finney, whom he now assails in the press."

PRESIDENT ACCUSES HIM OF BAD MOTIVES

Ralph S. Kelley

NO LAND SOLD

Work said the government sold no oil shale land and added:

"I never suspected and refuse to believe the administration of the oil shale lands in Colorado or other States under my jurisdiction was irregular, unlawful or prompted by political influence or personal gain of a government employee."

Wilbur called attention to the conservation policy inaugurated by the President and said it had been rigidly enforced.

"As to the oil shale lands," he said, "unlike oil prospecting permits, the secretary is under the law without discretion to refuse the application for patent if the law has been complied with."

He added in passing upon patent applications his action "was not in any single case influenced by any personal, political, financial or other interests or pressure and the decisions of the general land office, of this department and of myself personally have been based on the merits as disclosed by the record."

OFFICE ALWAYS OPEN

"My office is and always has been open to any man who has business there, including Mr. Kelley, who has never crossed its threshold," he said.

Wilbur said he called Kelley to Washington on July 7 to put him in charge of all oil-shale land work in the United States to permit him to formulate a program.

He explained he did this "because I was baffled by his complete inability to present coherently his vague and rambling intimations of 'sinister influences' operating in terms of 'billions of dollars' and so ingrained in the government itself that the destruction of records could be secured, as well as fraudulent adjudication of claims and the waiver of government rights."

He said letters Kelley had said were destroyed were found by department representatives to be intact in the files, and added that although called to Washington on July 7, Kelley did not report for duty until August 5, worked here until August 31, and then disappeared from sight except for one day's work thereafter. His letter of resignation was made public on September 29.

"WORLD" WANTS LAND COMMITTEE INQUIRY

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—The New York World tonight issued the following statement which it will print in its Wednesday morning edition:

"President Hoover has issued a statement criticising as 'reckless, baseless and infamous' the charges made against the Department of the Interior by Ralph S. Kelley and published in a 'journal identified with the opposition party.' The journal which Mr. Hoover thus describes is, of course, the World.

"To the best of our knowledge the facts with respect to the Kelley articles are these:

"The articles were prepared by a government servant who has an honorable record of more than a quarter of a century behind him in the Department of the Interior. The articles were written, Mr. Kelley informed the World and the readers of the World, because Mr. Kelley believed only a public protest on his part could put an end to methods he regarded as a scandalous betrayal of the public interest.

"The articles themselves were replete with specific facts, names, dates and figures. They raised questions which seemed to the World at the time and still seem to the World to call for exhaustive investigation. The only investigation they have had is a brief survey into Secretary Wilbur's department, conducted by an agent of one of Secretary Wilbur's colleagues in Mr. Hoover's Cabinet. This agent has denied the accuracy of Mr. Kelley's charges. Mr. Kelley, speaking as the former expert of the government and speaking on the basis of his twenty-five years of honest service to the government, has repeated his charges.

"It seems to us these charges call for a more thorough investigation than they have yet received, by an agency whose motives are perhaps less partisan. Such an agency is the Public Lands Committee of the Senate. It is quite apparent the Public Lands Committee will initiate an investigation as soon as Congress meets. It will be time then, we suggest to Mr. Hoover, to determine precisely how 'reckless, baseless and infamous' Mr. Kelley's charges are."

"To our English brethren the past years, and even the past days, have brought disappointment which you must feel keenly. Don't bemoan the hardness of fate. Rather see in it motives of remaining faithful to the Jewish community. We should not have survived as a community if we had had a bed of roses during the centuries."

"I am desirous to impress the government this is not a question merely between the Jews and the Arabs, but a question of British honor," he said.

HOOVER ASKED TO ACT ON PALESTINE POLICY

BALTIMORE, Oct. 28. (AP)—President Hoover today was asked in a resolution adopted by the Mizrachi organization of America to take cognizance of and express his opinion on the change of policy by the British government in Palestine.

The organization, composed of orthodox Jews of America, which tonight adjourned its annual convention, called the Passfield policy, restricting the emigration of Jews to the Holy Land, a "breach of honor and good faith" and a repudiation of the Balfour declaration.

The resolution was presented by the committee headed by Rabbi I. M. Davidson of Wilkesbarre, Pa. A copy was dispatched to the White House by wire.

VARGAS CHOSEN BRAZIL'S CHIEF

Leader of Revolution Named Provisional President

Northern Rebel Chieftain Acclaimed in Rio

Capt. Juarez Tavora Cheered by Capital Crowds

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 28. (AP)—Getulio Vargas, leading figure in the Brazilian revolution which began October 3, was definitely chosen today for the provisional Presidency of Brazil.

He will succeed Washington Luis, ousted by a movement of military and naval leaders last Friday.

Choice was made this afternoon at a meeting of southern revolutionary representatives with the military-naval junta.

REBEL LEADER CHEERED

Vargas is now the only important rebel leader not in the capital, for Capt. Juarez Tavora arrived by airplane late today from the north and was given a wild welcome.

The captain, who organized and conducted the revolution in nine northern States, was reported a few days ago to be suspicious of the Rio junta but said he was willing to co-operate when he learned that Vargas would take the Presidency.

Thousands crowded the avenues as the northern chieftain motored to his hotel, while sirens and whistles were tooted in welcome.

VARGAS PLANS POMP

Vargas has ordered a special train made ready by the Central Railroad and will soon come north, it is understood, leading a triumphal entry of southern revolutionary soldiers into the capital.

Rio was quiet today, following the military police mutiny of yesterday in which more than 100 casualties were reported.

An Associated Press correspondent, crossing the battlefields on the Parana front, learned that 1000 men had been killed in fighting for possession of Sengues bridgehead between the 15th and 20th inst. News of this battle was held up by censorship at the time.

ADDIS ABABA (Abyssinia) Oct. 28. (AP)—In order to qualify as "King of Kings of Ethiopia" Ras Tafari will personally kill a lion this week in preparation for his coronation as Emperor Haile Selassie early next month.

This custom is in accord with the picturesque Ethiopian tradition that no man is fit to govern a gallant and chivalrous people or lead warriors in battle, until he has slain at least one of the "king of beasts."

'SNAPPER' TIMED BY DARK ANGEL

Jockey of "Garrison Finish" Dies in Brooklyn

Forty Years Ago He Rode to Gold and Glory

World's Fair Derby Scene of $60,000 Triumph

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—Edward H. (Snapper) Garrison, one of the most famous jockeys in turf history, who originated what became popularly known as the "Garrison finish," died at 62 years of age at the Swedish Hospital in Brooklyn today. He had been in apparent good health until yesterday.

Snapper Garrison was a blacksmith's helper in New Haven, Ct., before he rode to riches and fame on some of the greatest thoroughbreds of his or any other time. He was in his prime as a jockey thirty-five to forty years ago, at one time owning and racing his own stable of horses.

OUTSIDER WINS

"Garrison's finish" became a byword on the turf in 1886 when he came from nowhere with an outsider, Dutch Roller, owned by James R. Keene, to win the Great Eastern Handicap at Sheepshead Bay, New York.

The label stuck to Garrison, who never liked front-runners and invariably rated his mounts along to do their stuff in the stretch, where he remarked "the money is."

Garrison was the highest-salaried jockey in the business in 1894, when he received $23,500 as contract rider for August Belmont, James B. Haggin and Gideon Knapp. A year later he wore the silks of Col. Jacob Ruppert, now owner of the New York Yankees.

NOTABLE VICTORY

Garrison's most famous race, the one about which more fanciful tales were written than any other, was his victory on Boundless in the $50,000 World's Fair Derby at Chicago in 1892. On one pretext or another, such as fixing his straps and saddle, Garrison helped delay the start exactly one hour and forty-two minutes, spending most of his time on the ground with the weight off his horse. In a large field Boundless, at 15 to 1, was booted home before 100,000 spectators, although Garrison was fined $1000 for his part in the long delay.

Tammany, owned by Marcus Daly, the copper magnate, was regarded by Garrison as the greatest horse he ever rode.

Garrison won, lost and partially regained a fortune in the racing game. He quit as jockey in 1897, later serving as an official at numerous tracks, especially in the South. He had spent the past few winters at Miami, Fla. He leaves his widow and one daughter.

Father Takes Two Sons With Him in Death

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—Twice Theodore Metelsky tried to take his own life and failed. But he tried again today and succeeded, and with him into death he took his two young sons.

A year ago Metelsky's wife died and then he lost his job in a tailor shop.

First he tried to jump from a pier, but workmen held him. Then he attempted to leap from the roof of the tenement in which he lived, but William, his 15-year-old son, caught him and made him promise not to try that again.

He came home early today to find William and John, 13, asleep. He turned on the jets of a gas stove and lay down beside them. All were dead when neighbors investigated.

Cecil Scores Dependence on United States

GLASGOW, Oct. 28. (AP)—Viscount Cecil told a meeting of university students today he very much deprecated any suggestion the League of Nations could not get on unless the United States joined it.

"I am quite sure," he said, "that we can attempt a great deal of admirable work and we merely are lowering ourselves, without doing any good, by looking over our shoulders to see what the United States is doing."

Robbers Obtain $200,000 Gems

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (AP)—Two self-assured robbers posing as telegraph messengers gained entrance to the jewelry store of M. Rosenthal & Sons at 1637 Broadway two hours before it opened for business today, waited until the clerical force arrived, then made the manager open the safe and escaped with jewelry valued at $200,000.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Adams said today an appropriation for construction of the ZRS-5, the second of two navy super dirigibles, has been included in the navy budget to be presented to Congress in December.

David S. Ingalls, assistant Secretary of the Navy for Aeronautics, said the Navy has asked for an appropriation of $1,500,000 for construction of the ship. The total appropriation sought for navy aircraft, he said, is approximately $32,000,000.

Under the contract with the Goodyear Zeppelin Corporation of Akron, O., the department is allowed thirty days from date of completion of the ZRS-4 to decide on construction of the ZRS-5. It is expected the ZRS-4 will be completed in April or May, 1931.

OPEN SHOP IN FRESNO LOOMS

Contractors Cut Loose from Building Trades Council

They Withdraw From Their Agreement With Body

'Craft-Unionism' Term Used in Their Declaration

FRESNO, Oct. 28.—Their business dwindling because of an agreement to employ only union building craftsmen, and with outside contractors working under the open-shop plan, obtaining many local contracts, members of the General Contractors' Association of Fresno last night withdrew from their agreement with the Fresno County Building Trades Council and established what they term "craft-unionism."

The plan is in effect a declaration for open-shop conditions in the building industry, although the individual contractors who were interviewed today denied that they intend to adopt that plan. R. E. Jolley, secretary of the General Contractors, said today that their plan is to accept bids from subcontractors, who may or may not employ union labor, in contrast to the former plan, which has been in effect for several years, to employ only union men. The craft-unionism angle of the situation comes through the asserted plan of the contractors to use either all union men or all nonunion men in any one craft.

Their plan is to allow union crafts and nonunion craftsmen to work side by side.

Fred C. Huss, secretary and business manager of the Building Trades Council, said that the council will not submit to such a plan. He added that union men will not be permitted to work on the same job with nonunion men.

W. C. Nixon, manager of the Valley Industrial Association, said his organization is in favor of the American plan, and expressed the belief that it is only a matter of time until all communities are operated under that plan, as it is impossible for a city to be run on a closed-shop basis and be able to compete with other communities.

JURORS SEE BALLISTIC TEST MADE

Outcome of Washington Murder Trial Hinges on Demonstration in Court

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (Exclusive)—Five revolvers and ten bullets tonight are in the hands of Col. Calvin Goddard, Northwestern University firearms expert, and in his ability to match them rests in a large degree the future of ballistics as an aid in criminal prosecutions, as well as the fate of Herbert M. Campbell, asserted murderer of Miss Mary Baker.

The bullets were fired from the guns before the judge and jury at the Campbell trial today as a result of an offer made by the prosecutor to prove Goddard's testimony that a gun owned by Campbell fired the bullets extracted from Miss Baker's body. One of the five guns used was Campbell's. With a microscope Col. Goddard has agreed to demonstrate for the first time in an American murder trial the infallibility of his science.

Immediately after the start of the ballistics test the prosecution rested its case and Justice Adkins denied a defense motion for a directed verdict of acquittal.

ATLANTA REFUSED RERATING

Georgia Metropolis Sued to Have Suburbs Counted in City Total

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Atlanta's attempt to attain official recognition as the "second largest city in the south" failed today in the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

Justice Siddons denied an application by the city and others for a writ of mandamus to compel Census Director Steuart to publish its population as 360,652 instead of 270,367. The larger figure included residents in the greater Atlanta area, embracing separate municipalities which are joined with the borough of Atlanta under a 1929 act of the State Legislature.

Hot Pleas Heard by Tariff Board

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Conflicting pleas for higher and for much lower duties than those established by the 1930 Tariff Act for straw hats were made today before the United States Tariff Commission recently reorganized by President Hoover.

Opening the first public hearing under the altered flexible provision, all six members of the commission heard straw hat importers, backed by a plea from the Italian government, urge a slash of at least 50 per cent in present rates. At the same time domestic manufacturers, joined by labor-union leaders, pleaded for more protection.

Westinghouse Sues for Taxes

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28. (Exclusive)—A test case which may mean the loss of thousands of dollars in taxes to the State of California was filed in Superior Court today by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company against Charles G. Johnson, as State Treasurer.

According to the complaint, the company's franchise tax, computed by the State, included $1,272,024, representing royalties on United States patents which the company contends are exempt from State taxation.

SENATE RACERS GET CASH AID

G.O.P. Committee Reports $47,005 Expended

Mrs. McCormick Refuses to List Inquiry Cost

Entrants in Western States Given Most Help

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—The campaign report of the Republican Senatorial Committee was filed today showing expenditures of $47,005 up to the 22nd inst., most of which was spent in the western States.

The committee sent $10,000 into both Montana and Colorado, where the Republican Senatorial nominees face stiff contests.

Another Republican Senatorial nominee, Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick in Illinois, submitted her campaign expenses to the Senate with announcement she would make no accounting for the "private investigators" employed by her to check up on the activities of the Senate campaign funds investigating committee in its inquiry into her primary expenditures.

PRIVATE INQUIRY

"I am not reporting such expenditures herein," she said, "because of the fact, and upon the opinion of counsel, that such expenditures were not made in aid or support of my candidacy for election, and, therefore, are not items required to be reported by the terms of the Federal Corrupt Practices Act, 1925."

Mrs. McCormick listed her campaign expenditures at $10,842 and contributions at $12,052. James Hamilton Lewis, her Democratic opponent, reported expenditures of $13,877 yesterday.

SPENT IN WEST

The Republican Senatorial Committee's report, filed by Theodore Gary of Kansas City, treasurer, listed contributions of $50,000 to the committee from the Republican Senatorial Committee. The following disbursements to Republican candidates were reported:

Senator McMaster of South Dakota, $2500; Senator McNary of Oregon, $5000; L. J. Dickinson of Iowa, $5000; Herbert B. Holt of New Mexico, $2500, and George M. Pritchard of North Carolina, $2000.

The committee also sent $7500 to George E. Brimmer of Wyoming, where there is a Senatorial contest.

Albert J. Galen, Republican nominee in Montana, filed his accounting, listing no contributions to himself and expenditures of $1049, of which $500 was given to the Republican State Central Committee.

Mrs. Lottie O'Neill, independent Senate candidate in Illinois, recently reported to the Senate expenditures of a little more than $2000.

Robert D. Carey, Republican Senatorial nominee in Wyoming, reported expenditures of $1000, but no contributions.

Harry H. Schwartz, Wyoming Democrat, listed contributions of $1200 and expenditures of $1151.

Secretary Davis, Republican nominee in Pennsylvania, reported no contributions and expenditures of $3786. Thomas P. Gore, Democratic nominee in Oklahoma, listed contributions of $2505 and receipts of $1141. Senator McMaster, Republican, South Dakota, reported contributions of $2500 and expenditures of $1577.

Ransom for Galva Banker Believed Paid

GALVA (Ill.) Oct. 28. (Exclusive) The payment of ransom for Earl L. Yocum, millionaire bank president, who was kidnaped Saturday night at the entrance to his estate, is believed to have been completed tonight. The belief grows among the authorities that the banker will be home soon.

County officials, nettled by public criticism of their lack of action in the investigation, spent the day in futile efforts to discover some clew to the abductors. They found themselves baffled by the implacable attitude of Mrs. Mae Yocum, wife of the missing banker, who continued to refuse to assist the investigators and who expressed resentment at the attempts to find her husband and his custodians.

SOVIET DUMPING SCARES EUROPE

Credits for Russia Turned Against Lenders

Trade Wall May Be Built to Check Red Activity

[Copyright, 1930, by New York Times]

PARIS, Oct. 28. (Exclusive)—Russian dumping throughout the world and the consequent dislocation of the economic structure is looked upon by many influential European experts as sufficient justification for a consultation to study the present international trade depression.

Those European quarters which believe the time has come for the broadest possible international discussion to fight the world trade recession, view Russian dumping as a menace which can only be successfully overcome through collaboration among the leading industrial states.

MAY CAUSE BLOCKADE

Assuming the accuracy of disclosures just made here—and the information comes from authoritative sources—Russian dumping has just taken a more serious turn, and one which may call for an international credit blockade. According to these reports, many millions of dollars' worth of credits granted to Russia for the purpose of aiding her purchase of German, French, British and American goods, have actually been turned against the countries that are supposedly the beneficiaries of such sales. Products in large quantities, after having been purchased on credit supplied by the selling countries, have actually been dumped upon the same countries at prices far below their normal level. The result has been the disorganization of these domestic markets. The money thus obtained by the soviet, it is further charged, goes partly to replenish their European propaganda budget.

CASE IN POINT

An example of how the foregoing manipulation works out is offered in the case of a $1,000,000 credit for steel products. An order was obtained through a two-year Russian state credit of $400,000 and a $600,000 credit arranged through a private banking syndicate in the country where the steel was ordered.

The steel was immediately dumped in the market where it was purchased at a price 20 per cent below the cost price to the soviet, thus yielding $500,000 cash in hand. The six months' bills were then discounted by private bankers as an accommodation to those selling the steel to Russia, and were then bought back at a heavy discount for cash through an intermediary of the soviet discount house, leaving the Russians with a two-year debt to the Russian state export credit institution, but with more than $200,000 cash in their pocket. All this, it is asserted, at the cost of the European nation involved, all of which leads to the belief that large soviet orders to its national industries are an asset and not a liability.

CAREFULLY PLANNED

This new phase of the Russian campaign, it is asserted, is only part of a carefully planned onslaught on the capitalistic market system, which challenges all industrial countries. Indeed, it is predicted that Russian dumping is rapidly developing into a dominant factor in the economic and political situation of Europe, and it is not unlikely that the attention of the old world countries may henceforth be diverted from attempts to create an economic front against the United States in favor of a defensive economic alliance against Russia, in which a benevolent American neutrality, if not an actual help, would be a decisive aspect.

It can be stated with authority that European business leaders are now thoroughly aroused to the threat of the Russian economic campaign, and some form of cooperation may be anticipated. In that consultation, Americans will have a part if they care to assume it.

RECOGNITION OF SOVIET RUSSIA OPPOSED

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., chairman of the Congressional committee investigating Communist activities, told a radio audience tonight if the United States should recognize soviet Russia this country will be apt to lose rather than gain.

"Russia desires diplomatic relations not for purposes of trade," he declared, "but because it would increase its prestige, help stabilize its government, discourage opposition from both within and without and permit it to intensify its revolutionary propaganda throughout the world."

The conference on the internal and external problems of Russia at the Institute of Politics at Williamstown, Mass., in August, he declared, was made an instrument of propaganda by Ivy Lee, whom he called a "propagandist for soviet Russia," and Paul Cravath, who, he said, "for many years has had a yearning for recognition of soviet Russia."

"What are the facts of our trade with Russia?" he asked. "Back in 1913, when we recognized the Imperial Russian government and were on friendly terms with it, our total export trade with Russia amounted to less than $20,000,000, and last year, without recognition of the soviet government, we exported $86,000,000 worth of goods to Russia.

"Great Britain and Germany, both of which recognized the soviet government, are doing four times less trade than they were before the World War."

Superintendent Reports to Governor's Council About Money For 1929-30

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28. (AP)—Funds available for kindergarten, elementary, high school and district junior college support in California during the 1929-1930 school year totaled $185,075,157, State Superintendent Kersey told Gov. Young's council here today.

Local school districts provided the largest share, $119,325,007, or 64.5 per cent of the money raised from taxation. The counties paid $38,693,566, or 20.9 per cent, and the State $26,782,113, or 14.5 per cent. The United States government furnished $274,470 for the education of Indian children and support of the Smith-Hughes vocational classes.

Total expenditures for school purposes, Kersey said, amounted to $149,951,679. Of this, $123,916,286 went for current operation and $26,035,392 for capital outlay.

Bandits Shoot Chicago Banker

CHICAGO, Oct. 28. (Exclusive) Failing to put up his arms quickly enough, Courtney R. Merrill, vice-president of the Union State Bank of South Chicago, was shot and probably fatally wounded by one of two bandits shortly before 8 o'clock tonight in the garage in the rear of the bank at 3026 East Ninety-second street.

TAXPAYERS RAP SCHOOL COSTS

Systems of California and Arizona Scored

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Oct. 28. (AP)—An attack on California's system of school operation by William H. Hanlon, superintendent of the Contra Costa county (California) schools, and a statement by E. A. Hughes, chairman of the Arizona Tax Commission, that Arizona's system of tax assessment and collection has resulted in a chaotic condition featured the opening session here today of the eighth annual western States taxpayers' conference.

In discussing taxation problems in California, Supt. Hanlon declared:

"Taxation in the local districts in California amounts to confiscation.

"In the last decade the State Legislature has enacted theoretically for the benefit of the people, eighteen additional features for its educational system, these including lengthening the school year, adding full-time physical education, which is made compulsory, raised the compulsory education limit from 14 to 16 years of age, and the partially compulsory limit from 16 to 18, provided for adult education, provided for courses in everything from trimming hats to building automobiles, provided courses in Americanism and added supervisors for this and that until it is no exaggeration today to say that a large part of the school system consists of supervisors busy running around supervising supervisors.

"Education costs in my county alone have, in the high school been increased 828 per cent."

FESS ASSAILS RASKOB IDEAS

Five-Day Week Declared Problem for Industry

Dry Referendum Suggestion Also Senator's Target

Stimson Flays New York's Governor via Radio

COLUMBUS (O.) Oct. 28. (AP)—Taking cognizance of suggestions by John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, for a referendum on prohibition and a five-day week for workers, United States Senator Fess in a statement here tonight said "these proposals will not be convincing reasons for the American people to exchange a Republican for a Democratic administration."

Fess, who is Republican National Chairman, said the five-day-week "is an economic problem to be worked out by industry rather than a political issue to become a football of partisan politics." This proposal, he asserted, must be considered in the light of agriculture as well as industry. It raises the question whether you can increase consumption by decreasing the number of days of labor."

Referring to Raskob's plan for a prohibition referendum, Fess said: "Mr. Raskob's position on the liquor question is well known. His position, as a solution, cannot be that of American people who will stand by the Constitution as the surest guarantee of liberty under law."

Fess said the tariff cannot be taken out of politics by the appointment of a bipartisan commission of seven as suggested by Raskob. Such a commission, he added, would be strictly partisan because the majority would rule. The only way it can be assured to be bipartisan is as in the present law providing an even number, so that each party can be equally represented. "Where the Congress reviews the rates recommended by the commission, politics is inevitable."

SECRETARY STRIKES AT JUDICIAL SCANDALS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—The record of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic Governor of New York, was assailed tonight by Secretary Stimson in a radio address in behalf of the candidacy of Charles H. Tuttle, the Republican gubernatorial nominee.

Emphasizing that he was speaking as "a citizen of this State, my home and birthplace," the Cabinet member reviewed the recent judicial scandals in New York City and asserted Roosevelt had limited grand jury investigations and "shown his unfitness to deal with the great crisis now confronting New York State."

On the other hand, he described Tuttle as "a strong, brave, energetic public official."

Stimson also praised President Hoover and asserted in the present business depression "common sense indicates he should be supported during the remainder of his term" by the election of a Republican Congress on November 4, next.

Stimson spoke from Washington over the Columbia Broadcasting System, which had arranged a hookup covering New York State.

W.C.T.U. DECLARES RASKOB STAND INSINCERE

CHICAGO, Oct. 28. (AP)—The charge John J. Raskob is not sincere in recommending a referendum on the Eighteenth Amendment is contained in a statement issued today by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

"Mr. Raskob will not dare submit the Constitution or any part of it before a constitutional convention," continues the statement. "Such a convention would be a law into itself and would be likely to make constitutional changes painful to the multimillionaires whose interests in repealing the Eighteenth Amendment have been exposed as a scheme for unloading the corporation taxes on beer drinkers."

JACOB'S WELL ON SALE NOW

Spot Revered by All Sects To Be Sold by Church For Lack of Funds

JERUSALEM, Oct. 28 (Exclusive)—The Greek Orthodox Church is reported to be offering for sale the famous biblical site of Jacob's Well at the ancient town of Nablus. The site also is known as the Samaritan Woman's Well, the gospels relating that Christ sat there and talked with a Samaritan woman and preached to the Samaritans. The spot is revered by Christians, Jews and Moslems.

About 100 years ago the Turkish government sold the site to the Greeks to build a church, but they were unable to complete it due to lack of funds.

MOSES SEES G.O.P. SAFE IN SENATE

Committee Chairman Says Outlook for Victory in East Much Better Now

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Optimistic over the outlook in Republican Senatorial contests in the East, Senator Moses of New Hampshire, the chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, today predicted the next Senate will be "safely Republican."

Moses at conferences with party leaders here reported "prospects have brightened" considerably for the Republicans in the Atlantic seaboard States, "from Massachusetts to Delaware."

"I think we shall meet some net losses in the election, the extent of which I hesitate to state in detail," Moses said. "I would expect, however, when we are all through the Senate will be safely Republican."

"In some States where we have gloomy forebodings the prospects have brightened. In others where our hopes were high we have encountered unforseen difficulties, but the net result will be as I have stated."

The campaign chairman said he referred to the contests in the East when he spoke of brightened prospects.

Canadians Draft Extra Policemen to Control Reds

PORT ARTHUR (Ont.) Oct. 28. (AP)—A force of 800 auxiliary policemen, armed with pick and hammer handles, patroled the streets of Port Arthur last night as a result of Communist demonstrations.

Wearing distinguishing white arm bands, the citizen police marched through the downtown streets in ten groups.

Meanwhile, at a meeting of the City Council demands of 825 men, described as the committee of the unemployed association, were read.

The extra force of police, composed largely of city employees and workers in various industries, was sworn in as special constables after disturbances starting Monday night crystallized yesterday when a police officer was assaulted and a prisoner released from custody.

SMITH ATTACKS REVISED TARIFF

Republicans Accused of Log-Rolling Methods

Ex-Governor's Speech at Boston Draws Crowd

Democratic Leader Now for Prohibition Repeal

BOSTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Alfred E. Smith, former Governor of New York, accused the Republican party of making a log-rolling tariff for the benefit of its campaign contributors in the face of unemployment and distress, in a speech at the Boston Arena here tonight. He also charged the Republicans were dodging the prohibition issue.

A crowd of 15,000 inside and thousands more outside the doors cheered the 1928 Democratic Presidential candidate.

After promising in 1928 a partial and scientific revision of the tariff, Smith said, the Republicans spent one year, five months and eight days indulging in "old-time methods of log rolling and backscratching."

"Joe Grundy demanded delivery of the goods," said Smith, "and he walked away with them."

AS TO PROHIBITION

Of prohibition, the Democrat said:

"This problem can never be solved by the Republicans. They are compelled by force of circumstances to dodge. They want to be wet among the wets and dry as a Sahara among the drys. Any leadership, any hope for relief, must of necessity come from the Democratic party."

President Hoover, Smith said, appointed a commission and after eighteen months the two things accomplished were—to change the personnel of the enforcement officers, and to transfer the duty of enforcement from the Treasury Department to the Department of Justice.

"That," Smith said, "inconvenienced the bootlegger, it put him to the distinct disadvantage of being compelled to get acquainted with new enforcement officers."

NOW FOR REPEAL

Smith said his solution was repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act. He declared that was further than his party had gone two years ago, but now it had advanced because opinion had advanced.

Turning to unemployment and the business depression, Smith said the Republicans were "defending a suicidal tariff and remaining silent on unemployment."

He made ironic reference to Republican promises of two years ago of "a chicken in every pot, an automobile and silk socks for every working man."

He compared the Republican "log-rolling" tariff, which kept business in suspense for more than a year with the Democratic solution of taking the tariff out of politics and placing it in the hands of a tariff commission of well-salaried experts.

"The Democratic party," he said, "pledged itself to a competitive tariff, but was opposed to the American people's paying a single dollar of tribute to industry."

SENATOR WAGNER SAYS G.O.P. BLOCKED AID

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—Senator Robert J. Wagner charged in a radio address tonight the Hoover administration had been delinquent in dealing with the unemployment situation by refusing to enact his measure stimulating the construction of public works.

"Had the Republican party cooperated in adopting the affirmative policy toward unemployment I formulated two and one-half years ago," he declared over WJZ, "the present depression would not be as severe as it is and the agencies of correction would have been organized and effectively operating."

Elderly French Princess Must Have Guardian

PARIS, Oct. 28. (AP)—A French court today decided that a judicial guardian should be appointed to supervise the property of the 73-year-old Princess Marie Charlotte Constance De Broglie, who last month married Prince Louis Ferdinand D'Orleans-Bourbon, 41.

"It is necessary to defend the great fortune of the Princess against disquieting covetousness," read the decision. Under its provisions the princess will be unable to use any part of her fortune for the benefit of her husband.

The court also charged there were certain irregularities in the marriage of the couple, which took place at a London registry office.

HEALTH PROTECTION
BETWEEN 20 AND 40

THE turning point in health is 40; the average age when wear and tear of life begins to take its toll unless you've fortified against it.

Thus: "Build health between the ages of 20 and 40" is urgent advice doctors now give. Upon the care taken during this span determines health in later life.

One of the most prevalent ailments doctors advise you to guard against is kidney breakdown. 6 out of 10 men and women past 40 are afflicted. Many without knowledge, because there are no warning symptoms.

Kidneys excrete 75% of poisonous waste from the system, much in too concentrated form. Overburdened, delicate kidney cells break down. Congestion occurs, throwing poisons back into the system. And "self-poisoning" thus causes many serious ills.

Doctors now urge this simple, daily precaution, before and after 40: "Drink 6 glasses of Puritas mineral-free Water."

First—Puritas dilutes poisonous waste, dissolves and washes it away, thus easing the burden of kidneys. Then, because Puritas is mineral-free, it leaves no mineral deposits in kidneys, thus preventing additional difficulties.

Puritas is both mineral-free and impurity-free—thru scientific distillation. It is drinking water in very purest form. Though its taste seems different at first, each drink you'll increasingly enjoy.

Order Puritas today. Telephone WEstmore 0381 and immediate delivery will be made, anywhere in Southern California. An iceless cooler furnished free.

LABORITES SEEK LIBERALS' HELP

Electoral Reform Promised as Parliament Opens

Bid for Support Made in Speech From Throne

MacDonald Quashes Talk of Tariff on Wheat

LONDON, Oct. 28. (AP)—The MacDonald government, in today's speech from the throne at the opening of Parliament, made a definite bid for its retention in office by advocating electoral reform long demanded by the Liberal party which holds the balance of power.

King George convened Parliament for its winter session with all the pageantry customary for the occasion and read the speech from the throne, taking but five minutes, in a firm resonant voice.

International relations, India, unemployment, electoral reform and laws relating to trade disputes and trade unions were the high spots touched upon by His Majesty in the speech by which the Laborite government outlined its program before Parliament.

DETAILS NOT GIVEN

While the King's speech, which is written and composed for him by Mr. MacDonald and his Ministers, merely mentions an electoral reform measure will be submitted to Parliament, it is understood the measure will include the Liberal proportional representation scheme.

Such a scheme would give them representation in the Commons far in excess of their present membership, which is limited by reason of three-cornered constituency races, in which, although the Liberals always poll a large vote, they usually are behind either Conservatives or Laborites, or both.

H. C. Charleton of Leeds South, opening debate on the address, said the imperial conference will need all of its British statesmanship to meet the problems it has to face and find their solution. He said he hoped nothing will be spoken or done to lessen the usefulness of the Indian round table conference and expressed the opinion the government is pursuing the path of peace in that matter.

WHEAT TARIFF BANNED

Premier MacDonald announced in Commons this afternoon that the Labor government is not prepared to put a tariff on wheat. "We cannot do it," he said.

Thus the government officially put an end to any hopes Canadian or other dominions wheat products would receive a tariff preference on the British market. His announcement definitely restricted the possibilities to some system of bulk purchasing or quota arrangement which would favor the dominions as against foreign wheat growers.

The scene in the House of Lords, where King George and Queen Mary sat before assembled peers, peeresses and Commoners of their realm, revealed all the time-honored pageantry of the occasion. His Majesty read his address in firm, steady tones, indicating full restoration of his health.

CHEERED BY MULTITUDE

Previously he had ridden bareheaded in a long grey great coat, with Queen Mary by his side, in the royal guilded coach through London from Buckingham to Westminster. Thousands lining the streets cheered the two royal figures, Queen Mary responding to the applause with occasional bows and a constant smile. After the half-hour ceremony in the House of Lords they re-entered the royal carriage and returned to Buckingham.

Ambassador Dawes represented the United States at the ceremony.

The sun shone brilliantly on the golden coach as it reached Victoria Tower, entrance to the House of Lords. Their Majesties left their coach there and entered the building to don the regal robes and crowns before going to the Chamber and taking their place on the throne.

COLORFUL APPAREL

In the chamber there was a striking array of shimmering, trailing gowns of the peeresses ranged on either side of the hall, while the medals and swords of the gentlemen-at-arms flashed and gold-braided tunics glistened from the center.

The ceremony in the House of Lords lasted only twenty minutes. Then the King took his Queen by the hand and the procession retraced itself to the royal coach, which rolled back through crowded streets to Buckingham Palace.

Bands at corners along the route played "God Save the King." The weather was sultry. Fifty persons who fainted were treated near the Admiralty Arch.

BALDWIN'S OUSTER ASKED

Petition by Forty-four Conservatives for Leader's Resignation Causes Major Sensation

LONDON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Demands by Conservative members of Parliament for the resignation of former Premier Stanley Baldwin, their leader, provided tonight one of the major political sensations of the year. Forty-four Conservatives presented a petition to the chief whip of the Conservative party submitting that a change in leadership is "essential to the national interest."

Another meeting of the rebels is expected to be held tomorrow with a view to giving other members of the party an opportunity of joining the movement against their chief.

Though the outstanding names in the party were missing from the petition, the signatures of several well-known members were attached, including those of Sir John Gretton, Sir Basil Peto, Sir Martin Conway, Sir Vansittart Bowater, Viscount Lymington, P. A. Macquisten and E. Marjori Banks.

The Conservatives have been divided by disagreement over the tariff question, some sections of the party advocating thorough-going imperial preference and preferential food taxes.

The rejection of a party leader by so large a proportion of his followers at the very opening of a new Parliamentary session is believed to be unprecedented in British political history.

ANOTHER INDIANAPOLIS BANK CLOSES DOORS

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 28. (AP)—The Washington Bank and Trust Company of Indianapolis closed its doors today. Failure of this institution follows the closing of two other banks here last week. They were the City Trust Company and the Postal Station State Bank.

Luther F. Symons, State Banking Commissioner, who took charge, said heavy withdrawals were responsible for the closing of the Washington bank. Symons said the institution was capitalized at $200,000. According to its last report it had assets of $7,970,977.25.

Angeleno Named by Grand Jury in Grand Theft

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28. (AP)—The grand jury early today voted true bills charging Porter Munson, Los Angeles, with grand theft conspiracy in asserted stock defrauding schemes.

The true bills followed testimony y J. A. Daly and Pierre Cerise, both of San Francisco, which charged Munson with having duped them out of $4500 and $11,000 worth of stock, respectively.

Attorney A. C. McCloskey, certified public accountant, told the grand jury approximately $180,000 worth of uncollectible judgments were outstanding against Muson in Los Angeles.

KANCHOW MAY BE REDS' PRIZE

Wireless of Kiangsi City Silent to Calls

Town Marked for Capture by Communists Long Since

Fate of Thirteen Foreign Missionaries Unknown

HONGKONG, Oct. 28. (AP)—Failure to communicate by wireless with Kanchow, a city of 250,000 population in Kiangsi Province, caused fear here today that Communists who have occupied the city of Kian since the 5th inst., also have taken Kanchow.

The local government station's call to Kanchow went unanswered, leading to the belief that the Reds were interfering with the Kanchow station, which is within the city walls.

Kanchow is in Southern Kiangsi, four days' march from Kian. The former city has only 1000 troops in its garrison. At Kian, recently, Red leaders intimated to Bishop Magnani and Father De Jenlis, Catholic missionaries, that they planned to invade Southern Kianggsi.

At Kanchow there are thirteen foreign missionaries. Six are American Catholics, five British and two German Protestants. The Americans are all priests of the Vincentian Order. Bishop O'Shea of Deep River, Ct., heads the Catholic group.

TWENTY-ONE FOREIGNERS PRISONERS OF REDS

PEIPING, Oct. 28. (AP)—Frank B. Lockhart, United States Consul-General at Hankow, in a dispatch to the American Legation today said twenty-one foreigners are being held by bandits in Central China.

The list includes Bert M. Nelson, for whom $85,000 is demanded; the Filipino sister, Ramos, and British, French, Italian, Norwegian and Spanish nationals.

The bandits are whittling down their demands for ransom for Nelson and Mr. Tvedt, Lockhart reported.

THUMB WIGGLED FOR RICHES

Purported Heir to Emery Estate Does Contortion as Medical Experts Testify in Court

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (Exclusive)—Medical science was called upon today in an effort to determine which, if any, of the eleven claimants is the missing grandchild of the late William E. Emery of Flemington, N. J. The experts were called by the Newark Chancery Court, which is seeking to determine the real heir to the $350,000 trust fund.

Three times today in the courtroom James E. Nicholson of Baltimore stood with arms extended and wiggled his thumbs until they were at right angles to his hands, and apparently dislocated at the joint. Two medical experts testified before Vice-Chancellor Backes that Nicholson has a congenital dislocation of the thumbs, an extremely rare condition, and that the same physical defect was suffered by the late Lawrence E. Georger, husband of Emery's daughter.

SIMILARITY SEEN

The experts also testified that the lobes of Nicholson's ears, his teeth, mouth and nose are similar to those of Frances F. Georger, the daughter of the man who died and left an estate of $3,000,000 to be divided among relatives.

Emery's daughter Frances was married to Georger thirty-five years ago in New York and testimony revealed a child was born to the couple in Washington. The marriage had been kept secret and when the child was born, witnesses said, Mrs. Georger told them her husband placed the child in the hands of friends to find a home for him because he feared Emery would disinherit them.

CHILDBIRTH IMPOSSIBLE

George H. Brooks, another witness, testified Georger had told him an accident to Mrs. Georger had made it impossible for her to give birth to a child.

Nicholson on the stand testified that in 1916 he learned the Nicholsons were not his parents and that an aunt had told him "your mother is a very rich woman."

Dr. Henry H. Kessler testified that the ability to wiggle his thumbs as demonstrated by Nicholson is congenital and probably was inherited from as far back as 1000 years. He classified it as a dominant characteristic.

WARSHIP FIRES ON SOVIET MUTINEERS

BUCHAREST (Rumania) Oct. 28. (AP)—Newspapers here have learned the crew of the soviet steamer Lenin mutinied at Soukhoum Harbor, killing Capt. Sokoloff and two officers. It is reported two Russian warships then fired on the steamer and made prisoners of the mutineers.

IMMIGRATION TIDE RECEDES

Recent Order Against Public Charge Aliens Credited

Decline in September Over Last Year 36 Per Cent

Future Months Expected to Bring Greater Drop

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—The recent order against admitting aliens into the United States who might become public charges was credited today by Immigration Commissioner Hull with causing a 36 per cent decline in September immigration, compared with the same month last year.

Hull announced 17,792 immigrants were admitted last month, compared with 28,020 in September, 1929. He predicted a further decline in future months.

The total number of immigrants for the quarter from July 1 to September 30, last, was 45,931, compared with 70,866 for the same period last year.

"Immigration during the first three months of the present fiscal year compared with a similar period of last year shows a decrease in immigration from Europe of 27 per cent; from Canada, 44.7 per cent, and from Mexico, 72.9 per cent," the commissioner added.

"The invasion of this country by cheap labor from Mexico has practically ceased, and the number coming from Canada to compete with American labor has dropped almost to the vanishing point."

Railroads Petition rs'ate Commission

ted Schedules Held of Doubtful Efficacy

Readjustment Declared ential for Carriers

INGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)— railroads today joined in g the Interstate Commerce ion for a revision of a de- readjusting western trunk- ates.

the commission's project- edules are intended to in- western rail earnings by $12,- yearly, the petition questions ility of such a sum being by the revised rates and it will be inadequate in any western carriers contend on erage during the last nine they have earned annually $125,000,000 less than the amounts which would represent a fair return on the value of their property. During the first seven months of 1930, it is added, traffic volume has altered and decreased to the extent that the commission's new rates would not earn any extra money for the carriers. In view of this fact and the general business situation, the petition asks the commission to rescind its decision and allow another readjustment of western rates.

INDEFINITE DELAY LIKELY

The decision at which the petition is aimed was intended to become effective in November, but in view of the petition and of the difficulty of preparing schedules, it probably will not become effective for an indefinite period.

In a supplement to the legal petition, ten presidents of western railroads filed with the commission a letter declaring "the situation of the western railroads has become sufficiently serious to menace the maintenance of adequate transportation for the future."

Studies of their business, the document says, show the decline in passenger revenue, a reduction in freight traffic, and increased competition by highway and waterway transportation lines, by the Panama Canal intercoastal service and by the sweep of new installations of natural gas and petroleum pipe lines.

AIM EXPLAINED

The committee says it does not wish to affect the decision on pending cases "but simply to bring concrete facts to attention." Freight-rate levels in the western district are said to "fail to reflect the increase in operating costs," and "even with the restoration of general business conditions and traffic volume to a more nearly normal level it will take the western railroads a considerable period to solve the problem which the present situation has forced upon them."

Signers of the documents are Presidents Baldwin, Missouri-Pacific; Donnelly, Northern Pacific; Downs, Illinois Central; Gorman, Rock Island; Gray, Union Pacific; Sargent, Chicago and Northwestern; Scandrett, Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific; Storey, Atchison; Williamson, Burlington; and A. D. McDonald, vice-chairman of the executive committee of the Southern Pacific.

Identity Learned Through Papers in Her Purse

GLENDALE, Oct. 28.—Stricken with what doctors declare is an attack of amnesia following her collapse on the street, Mrs. Imogene Phillips, 24 years of age, of 5109½ Sunset Boulevard, Hollywood, is a patient in the Glendale Sanatorium today with her mind a complete blank regarding her identity. Mrs. Phillips, although conscious, is unable to furnish physicians or police authorities with any information that would assist them in tracing her relatives, according to Dr. Leroy Schultz, attending physician.

Dr. Schultz attributes Mrs. Phillips's loss of memory to the effects of a blow that she received when she collapsed on the sidewalk in front of the L. E. Killackey home at 918 East Windsor Road yesterday. It was not until today that Mrs. Phillips recovered her senses.

Her identity was established through papers in her purse that showed that she was employed at the Fine Arts Association, and that gave the names of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Shadrick as her employers.

Dr. Schultz predicts that Mrs. Phillips will recover her memory under proper care and treatment.

J. A. Allard, Jr., to Quit Post as City Attorney

POMONA, Oct. 28.—The local City Council today had on file the resignation of Joseph A. Allard, Jr., City Attorney since his first election to that office in 1921, Allard stating that continued growth of his private law practice made the step necessary. Although the resignation came as a surprise at this time, inasmuch as the next city election will be held next April, it has been anticipated that Allard would not again be a candidate for the office.

The duties of the City Attorney have increased tremendously since Allard took office, various bond issues having been voted, and especially since the city purchased the local water system. Added to this, the growth of the city has made necessary legal work burdensome, and, combined with a growing private practice, Allard made his decision to terminate his city service on November 1.

Action on Allard's successor is expected to be taken at the next meeting of the Council on November 5.

Liquor Goes on Municipal Dump

VENTURA, Oct. 28.—A score or so of thirsty-looking spectators stood visibly saddened as police, amid the clink of breaking bottles and strong aroma of alcohol, destroyed late yesterday at the city dump more than $7500 worth of confiscated scotch and champagne.

The booze was part of a cargo captured in a big truck on East Main street before dawn yesterday. The remainder of the load is being saved as evidence, police said.

PRIEST QUITS PARISH DUE TO ILL HEALTH

ONTARIO, Oct. 28.—His health on the verge of collapse, Rev. Father Lawrence O'Connor, rector of St. George's Catholic Church for three years, has resigned his pastorate here and will rest for four months in Los Angeles, before taking up another charge.

Rev. Father O'Connor preached his final sermon Sunday, and bid his members farewell.

He will be succeeded by Rev. Father Albert Dontanville of Long Beach.

ROAD BUILDERS ON NEW JOB

More Than 400 Workmen Employed on Rodriguez Dam to Start Work Between Mexicali and Nogales

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 28.—More than 400 workmen who have been employed on the Rodriguez dam, south of Tia Juana, will be shifted to Mexicali on executive order, to begin road building between Mexicali and Nogales, Mex. The official announcement was received from Gov. Arturo Bernal early today.

The latter spent last week at San Luis, Sonora, with Gov. Francisco Elias, of that State, regarding the building of the proposed highway which generally is regarded as a move to assure coastal cities of Lower California not being cut off from the international tourists' highway from Alaska to the Argentine, which the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, it is said, is advocating being routed through Blythe to Phoenix, thence south to Nogales.

The equipment to be used in the road building will be sent to Mexicali in rapid order. Within three weeks the engineering forces hope to have the project under full swing.

Jack Dempsey, president of the Playa de Ensenada Company, offers the use of road-building equipment valued at $100,000 to the government for the improvement of the highway from Tia Juana to Ensenada. Secretary of State Miguel Ortega is at the national capital and it is said has asked for favorable action in the Dempsey proposal.

CHICAGO MILLIONAIRE SUCCUMBS

Gustave A. Scwartz Dies at Hotel Maryland; Gives $1,000,000 to Charity

PASADENA, Oct. 29.—Gustave A. Schwartz, pioneer Chicago broker who is reputed to have distributed, anonymously, more than $1,000,000 to charity during recent years while cutting his personal expenditures to a minimum, died here today following a long period of declining health.

He was 82 years of age and since his retirement twenty-five years ago he had lived continuously at the Hotel Maryland, thus becoming the dean of permanent hotel residents in this city.

Schwartz was head of the Chicago brokerage firm, Schwartz and Dupee, and was one of the charter members of the ultra-exclusive Chicago Club. After coming to this city he had an active part in organizing the Midwick Country Club, and also held a membership in the Annandale Golf Club.

He was a bachelor, but maintained a close association with his two nieces and two nephews, Mrs. Bernard Hoffman of Santa Barbara, Mrs. Arthur Meeker of Chicago, Dr. C. W. Schwartz of New York, and Philip Schwartz of Suffield, Ct., all children of his brother, the late Charles Schwartz of Chicago.

Philip Schwartz, who arrived here Sunday, was with his uncle when he died. He will accompany the body to Suffield, where funeral and burial services will be held.

To other Hotel Maryland guests, Schwartz was known as "the kindly old man who feeds the birds." It had been his habit for years to scatter crumbs on the hotel lawn each morning.

It is said of him that he never saw the faces of those he had helped by anonymous gifts.

Although he is known to have given away each month enough money to maintain a string of polo ponies, Mr. Schwartz, himself, while neatly attired, wore his clothes until they became shiny.

His method of philanthropy was unique. Upon reading or hearing of a deserving charitable case, he would order his banker to make out and mail a bank check to the needy person who would never know the name of his benefactor.

Manslaughter Charge Faced

OCEANSIDE, Oct. 28.—Daniel Lohnes, contractor of Beverly Hills, is being held on a manslaughter charge, after being arraigned in Justice of the Peace Charles L. Berry's court yesterday afternoon, on a charge instigated by the San Diego county District-Attorney's office following the death of Mrs. Irene Olesen, Los Angeles, who died in the San Clemente Hospital on the 13th inst. from injuries sustained the day before, when her car was asserted to have been sideswiped by the Lohnes car, crashing it into a palm tree in the Oceanside business section.

A Coronor's jury at San Clemente held Lohnes responsible for the tragedy, and recommended that the San Diego County District-Attorney conduct an investigation into the accident.

Bail for Lohnes is set at $1000, Lee Bohner, passenger in the Lohnes car at the time of the accident, is held under $500 bail as a material witness.

MERRIAM ASKS BOND AID

Nominee for Lieutenant-Governor Speaks at Fontana for Veteran Relief and Bay City Harbor Issues

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 28.—Asking support of the voters of San Bernardino county on two propositions at next week's general election, and urging that every citizen exercise his right to vote, regardless of the way he votes, Senator Frank F. Merriam, Republican nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, team-mate of Mayor James Rolph, Jr., gubernatorial candidate, addressed the Fontana Chamber of Commerce and its guests last night. In Merriam's speech, he said nothing about what he would do if he is elected Lieutenant-Governor, but asked three things which indicated the path he intends to tread if he gains the office.

He seeks the voters support November 4 for proposition No. 1, a $30,000,000 bond issue for the relief of California's war veterans.

He seeks the voters' support of a second bond proposition, a proposed $10,000,000 issue for the improvement of San Francisco Harbor.

He asked: "Won't you go to the polls November 4 and vote in some manner on each?"

The Senator took the platform alone in his county campaign last night. Mayor Rolph, the nominee for Governor, was unable to appear at the meeting. The rigor of campaigning forced him to rest yesterday, by a doctor's order.

"Mayor Rolph sent his regrets. I am sure he is more disappointed than you are—if there is one thing the Mayor enjoys more than meeting a group of people such as is assembled here tonight, I do not know what it is—and I have campaigned the north with him. He has a cold and he is taking care of it tonight.

"You know California is a large State, almost 1000 miles from the northern boundary down to the south."

The Senator said the campaign was having an odd effect upon him.

"I am getting so I can sleep in a car as well as my chauffeur," he said. "I am thinking about moving into my garage."

Taking the stump for Mayor Rolph, he said: "He was the Mayor of San Francisco for twenty years. He took the city from an ash heap and he has built it into one of the finest sky lines of the world.

"That is the kind of a man we want for Governor in this State."

Congressman W. E. Evans of Glendale spoke on the tariff and other national issues. He urged a big Republican vote.

Manslaughter Charge to Be Faced by Youth

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 28.—Manslaughter charges were filed today against Arthur Mitchell, 21-year-old youth, driver of the car which last Thursday night struck and fatally injured Alexis Goudard, 65-year-old Los Angeles man.

Members of the District Attorney's office indicated that such action would be taken following an inquest held yesterday.

The Coroner's jury was unable to determine whether the accident was unavoidable, but returned a decision that Mitchell's car was traveling between thirty and thirty-five miles an hour and was equipped with faulty brakes.

Mrs. Goudard, widow of the victim, and for whom the inquest was delayed in hopes that her testimony could be heard, was ordered by her physician at the Cottage Hospital not to attend the hearing because of her condition.

Six witnesses were called during the inquest, including two eyewitnesses, Mrs. C. W. Kirkwood and W. M. Kirkwood. Mrs. Kirkwood testified that Mitchell was traveling in excess of thirty miles an hour and that the car continued for nearly ninety feet before being brought to a stop. Police and other witnesses testified as to the distance that the victim was thrown by the crash and as to tire marks on the street.

Death, the jury decided, was caused by being struck by an automobile and suffering skull and spinal injuries and shock.

Ontario Begins Chest Appeal

ONTARIO, Oct. 28.—With the goal set at $15,000, teams of workers numbering 175 men and women, began the task of canvassing the community this week for the Community Chest fund, directed by the Chamber of Commerce.

The advance gift team, headed by E. H. Richardson, took the field the latter part of last week, and made splendid headway, Richardson reported. Tom Cummins is head of the industrial committee.

On the executive committee are Glenn D. Smith, chairman; Mrs. W. D. Ball, president of the Ontario Woman's Club; Miss Ella Draper, president, Business and Professional Women's Club; Harry Billings, president, Twenty-Thirty Club; R. H. The committee chairman hope to have the campaign completed this week.

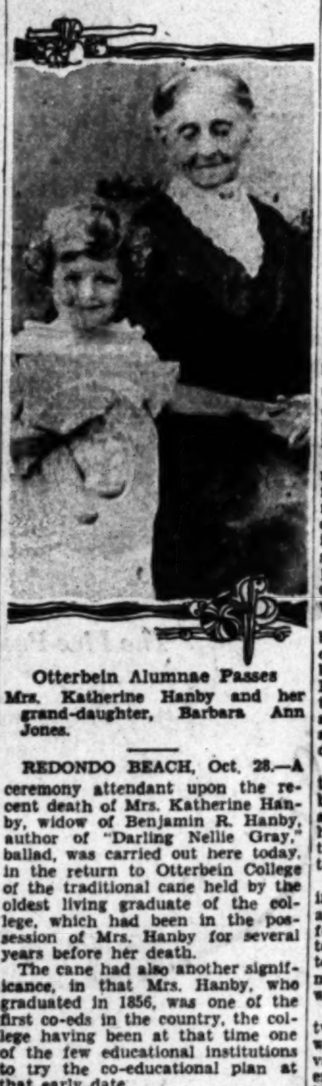
OLDEST GRADUATE'S CANE RELINQUISHED



Otterbein Alumnae Passes

Mrs. Katherine Hanby and her grand-daughter, Barbara Ann Jones.

REDONDO BEACH, Oct. 28.—A ceremony attendant upon the recent death of Mrs. Katherine Hanby, widow of Benjamin R. Hanby, author of "Darling Nellie Gray," ballad, was carried out here today, in the return to Otterbein College of the traditional cane held by the oldest living graduate of the college, which had been in the possession of Mrs. Hanby for several years before her death.

The cane had also another significance, in that Mrs. Hanby, who graduated in 1856, was one of the first co-eds in the country, the college having been at that time one of the few educational institutions to try the co-educational plan at that early date.

Mrs. Hanby, who had made her home with a son-in-law, F. D. Jones of this place, for some time, was 95 years of age and was an early resident of Los Angeles, settling there in 1891. She was one of the first members of the Friday Morning Club of Los Angeles, joining during the first year that the club organized, and had been a consistent member during the entire time.

The cane was sent on its way to the college at Westerville, O., tonight, to be sent from that place to the next eldest graduate.

LITTLE BABY DROWNS IN LARD PAIL

Ten-Months-Old Girl of Oxnard Mexican Family Victim of Unusual Mishap

OXNARD, Oct. 28.—Drowned in a five-gallon lard bucket partially filled with water, Petra Guittere, the 10-months-old girl of Felipe and Andrea Guitterez, of this city, was beyond medical aid this morning before aid could be summoned for it.

According to the story of Louisa Torrez, 16 years of age, who lives in an apartment above the Guitterez quarters in Colonia Gardens. The girl and baby were together in the upstairs rooms.

The infant, the girl told Deputy Sheriff Grant Fraser, evidently wanted to see what was in the bucket, and fell into the water.

When Louisa came into the room she saw the child in the bucket and pulled it out. The girl thought the baby asleep when it toppled over after she had set it on the floor.

She then called the infant's mother, who immediately rushed it to lying-in hospital, where it was pronounced dead by Dr. Floyd J. Swift.

The body was taken to the Diffenderffer mortuary where an inquest is scheduled for tomorrow night by Coroner Oliver Reardon.

DRUNK-DRIVERS SENTENCED

One Given Year at County Prison Camp by Riverside Judge, One Three Months, Three Fined $200

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 28.—One drunken driver was sentenced to one year at the county prison camp, another was committed for three months, three others were fined $200 each and four pleaded guilty and applied for probation today as Superior Judge Morton dealt with another long list of motorists arrested by county, State and city officers and charged with being menaces to the county highways.

In each case the driver's license was suspended for periods ranging from three months to one year.

Henry Willis, 42-year-old Hermosa Beach cook, who assertedly fled from a hunting camp near Gilman Hot Springs with a companion's automobile, watch, wallet, shotgun and camping equipment, and later was caught in Banning, was handed the year term at the road camp. In all, his spree will cost him a year and three months' liberty as he was given 100 days at Banning for possession of liquor.

Willis was arrested by State Officer Jessup in Banning, after his car had hit another. Jessup told Harold Butterfield, assistant county probation officer, he had started out with a W. I. Worline from Hermosa Beach on the 14th inst., to go hunting. Worline, he said, had obtained a gallon of whisky and both had drunk copiously. Near Gilman's, so Willis's story went, Worline became so drunk he fell out of the car and onto the pavement. Willis avers he covered his companion with a blanket and drove away for help. Banning is more than twenty miles away. Worline's story was entirely different, however. He said he employed Willis as a cook and they set out from Hermosa Beach and made camp near Gilman Hot Springs. The next morning Willis was missing and so were most of Worline's personal belongings, his car, camping equipment and gun. Following Willis's arrest near Banning, Worline swore to a grand-theft complaint in connection with the taking of the car. Willis still faces this complaint. He has returned Worline's watch and wallet since being held at the jail here.

John Epinoza, arrested in West Riverside three weeks ago, was sentenced to three months at the camp. Those given a fine of $200 in lieu of payment of which they must serve 100 days at the county prison camp, were Jesus Puga and Barney Collins, Los Angeles steel workers, nabbed at Indio, and D. Martinez, 22, of Belltown.

Pleas of guilty were entered by W. B. Morehead, soldier; Sylvester Chavez, Jose Chavez, who also is charged with failing to stop and render aid after an accident, and Eddie Garcia. The latter offender also admitted a prior conviction on the same charge in 1928.

THOUSAND WILL JOIN IN FETE

Men, Women and Children to Enjoy Halloween Fun

Ontario Offers Great Array of Prizes for Costumes

Miniature Floats Feature of Friday Night Event

ONTARIO, Oct. 28.—One thousand men, women and children are expected to participate in the community's Halloween fun parade Friday evening, the committee workers in charge announced today, after stacking up another pile of applications for entry in the marching column.

The greatest array of prizes the merchants of Ontario have ever offered are to be showered upon winners of first three places in each of the fifteen divisions, with a capital cash prize of $25 to the person voted wearing the most appropriate or outstanding costume either in the parade or mingling with the crowds on the sidewalks.

Three other cash prices are to be awarded winners in the window display contest. A committee of business men headed by Nelson Van Fleet gathered up the prizes from the merchants Tuesday morning and made them ready for awarding at the conclusion of the parade Friday night.

The paraders are to assemble on the east driveway of Euclid avenue between A and D streets at 7 o'clock and at 7:30 o'clock the blare of horns from a clown band will be the signal for all of the marchers to step off in the parade.

Floats of all descriptions are being entered by youngsters and adults. Miniature floats are to be featured. All the characters known to the movie world will have counterparts marching, and animals made up by two or more youngsters will vie for prizes.

Two stages are to be built between C street and A street on which will be presented continuous vaudeville numbers, before and after the parade. The prize winners in the parade will be presented from the platform at the same time they are awarded their prizes.

Service clubs of Ontario are sponsoring the Halloween frolic. The idea of the community fun parade was conceived last year and hundreds turned out for the parade.

A carnival spirit prevailed until late at night.

Following the frolic Ontario post of the American Legion will sponsor a community ball at the hall in West E street.

Public Barred From Estate

REDLANDS, Oct. 28. — Prospect Park, the beautiful England estate at the top of Cajon street, with its beautiful drives and flower beds, has been closed to the public. Orders were received recently for the closing of the drives and the caretaker was authorized to place chains across them.

He was informed that after the death of Mrs. England in June the estate went into the hands of a trustee and that the trustee decided to close it until disposition of the estate is made by the court.

The closing deprives the public of Redlands and tourists coming here of driving through one of the magnificent estates of Redlands.

The planting of trees, flowers and shrubs along the drives is one of the finest in Redlands. Back of these borders are orange groves which have always paid the estate excellently.

COLLEGE HEAD AT LIBRARY

Huntington Institution Inspected

Michigan University President Sees Famous Volume

Dr. Alexander G. Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, being shown recently acquired "History of Animals," by Conrad Gesner, at Huntington Library, San Marino. Dr. Ruthven, who is also a nationally known zo-ologist, believed, until he visited the Huntington Library, that the university of which he is the head had the only first edition of this ancient work in this country. He is being shown the aged volume by R. O. Schad, curator of rare books at the library.

PASADENA, Oct. 28.—Dr. Alexander G. Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan and nationally known zo-ologist, thought that the university's recently acquired first edition set of Conrad Gesner's "History of Animals" was the only one in the United States, but after inspecting Huntington Library and Art Gallery treasures today, he admitted his error.

By a strange coincidence, the "History of Animals," printed in 1558, was the first group of many rare volumes displayed for edification of the distinguished visitor by R. O. Schad, curator of rare books. Dr. Ruthven evinced surprise that the Huntington Library, which does not specialize in collecting scientific works, should possess the priceless zo-ological treatise.

FANCIFUL ANIMALS SHOWN

Printed on rag paper, which withstands the ravages of time very much better than wood-pulp pages, the volumes are illustrated profusely with cuts of winged snakes and fanciful animals which were so real to the pioneer scientists that they were duly catalogued in the history.

"The Huntington Library," Dr. Ruthven asserted, "is a gift to the world.

"Fortunate is the State which receives such an heritage. Democracies are prone to neglect cultural elements of enlightened civilization on the grounds of economy, a false thesis, and one which can only be counteracted by such wonderful benefactions as this library.

"California should not only cherish, but develop the Huntington Library for the good of her soul."

Before visiting the library, Dr. Ruthven, accompanied by Mrs. Ruthven, was greeted at the California Institute of Technology by Dr. Robert A. Millikan and Dr. Thomas Hunt Morgan, noted biologist and president of the National Academy of Sciences.

Courtesies of the Huntington Library were extended by Dr. Max Farrand, director of research, and Schad.

LUNCHEON MISSED

A luncheon had been planned at the new Atheneum, sanctuary for intellectuals, soon to be formally opened on the California Institute campus. So interested, however, in the library treasures, was the Michigan University executive, that he was forced to forego the luncheon in order to board a Santa Fe train at 1 p.m. for Ann Arbor.

The primary object of Dr. Ruthven's flying trip to the Coast was to attend the inaugural ceremonies at Berkeley for President Robert G. Sproul of the University of California.

To startled reporters, his final statement as he boarded the train was that his visit had been "most unsatisfactory," but good feeling returned with his parting shot. "My stay was unsatisfactory only because I couldn't stay a year!"

ANTELOPE VALLEY TO PLANT TREES

LANCASTER, Oct. 28.—Spence D. Turner, county forester, has authorized the distribution of 4000 trees to be planted this fall and winter in Lancaster and other parts of Antelope Valley. In the lot will be 1700 Arizona ash, which have been planted in the valley sections with best of results. For the last two winters the forestry department has distributed trees to Antelope Valley residents for planting along the county right of way adjoining irrigated fields. All the trees have done well.

In the new lot to be given out soon also are 860 oriental sycamores, another variety that does well in this section. There also will be a large lot of satalpa, locust and Italian poplar seedlings. The last named will be planted in the valley for the first time.

For the last three years all ranchers and other residents in this area have taken concerted action in a tree-planting program. There are thousands of shade trees growing everywhere, showing the results of the work already done.

Angeleno Radio-Pastor Announces He Will Speak at Glendale Church Despite Threats

GLENDALE, Oct. 28.—In spite of the threats of a boycott of the quarterly district meeting of the Federated Church Brotherhood, at which Rev. Robert P. Shuler is scheduled to speak in the Glendale Presbyterian Church Friday night, Shuler today announced that he would fulfill his appointment to deliver an address before the organization.

The boycott was threatened by members of the First Congregational Church, who objected to Shuler's campaign to prevent the re-election of Judge Hartley Shaw to the Superior Court next Tuesday, and what at first was scheduled merely as a brotherhood meeting has now assumed much larger proportions, with interest in the possibility of Shuler's hurling a verbal bombshell mounting to fever heat.

The sponsors of the meeting have announced that it will be held in the auditorium of the church, following the banquet that will open the proceedings, as demands for seats at the meeting have been pouring in steadily since the boycott was announced.

In a telephone conversation yesterday with Rev. H. S. Alkire, pastor of the Broadway Methodist Church, who was instrumental in securing Shuler as the speaker, the Trinity Church pastor declared he was ready to step aside in favor of any other speaker the brotherhood might select, but Mr. Alkire, it is stated, minimized the opposition that exists to Shuler's appearance here and the latter agreed to come as originally planned.

Good Performance at Low Cost

MANY SEVERE TESTS SHOW THE SUBSTANTIAL WORTH THAT HAS BEEN BUILT INTO THE FORD CAR

THE STURDINESS and reliability of the new Ford, so evident in the every-day uses of a motor car, are revealed also in many unusual tests of stamina and endurance. Over deeply rutted roads, through desert sands and deep snow, it has gone forward to new conquests of time and distance. From every corner of the world come reports of its good performance.

In England, the new Ford won three gold medals, one silver medal, and one bronze medal in the run from London to Exeter. In Peru it won first and third places in the reliability run over the tortuous Amanceas Road.

A Mexican general tells how one of the first of the new Fords in that country was driven from Acapulco to Atoyac "over a difficult country where there are no roads at all and the land is strewn with rocks and soft sand. Natives along the way saw their first automobile with positive wonder."

In Java, a new Ford was driven to the top of the Dieng Plateau, one of the highest mountains in Java. Previously the ascent to the old Hindu statues at the summit had been made only by horseback to the rest-house, thence on foot. In Poland, a new Ford won the 2000-mile international race from Warsaw to Lemberg to Warsaw.

Two years ago, a new Ford fought its way along rough wagon trails to become the first car in history to cross the Peace River Block from Fort St. John to Hudson Hope, from the Alberta boundary to the western border of the block.

In 1930, the new Ford won the winter race arranged by the Royal Automobile Club of Sweden. This race was over slippery mountain roads. At times the car was half hidden by snow. Frequently the temperature was 20 degrees below zero.

These severe tests show the enduring quality that has been built into the new Ford and its ability to stand up under gruelling driving conditions. Long, hard service will confirm your first impression of quality and increase your pride in its capable performance. The value of simplicity of design, good materials and accuracy in manufacturing is especially apparent after the first twenty-five thousand miles.

See the nearest dealer and have him give you a demonstration ride in the new Ford. Check up every point that goes to make a good automobile and you will know that it is a value far above the price you pay.

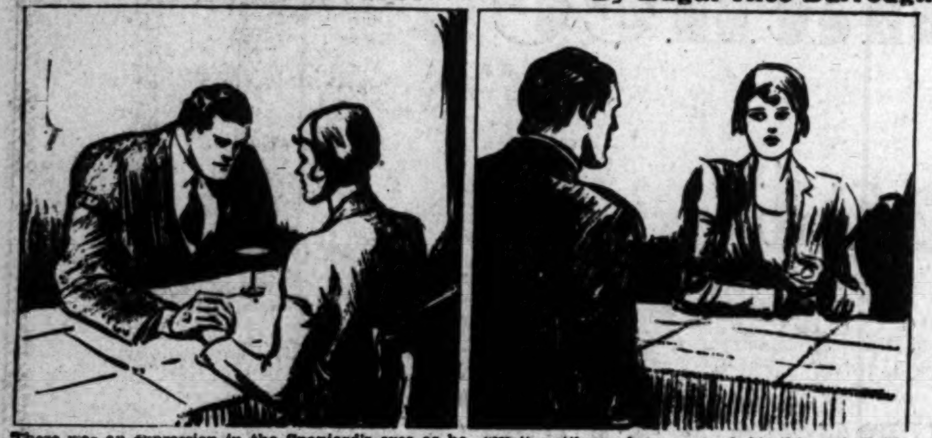
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



There was an expression in the Spaniard's eyes as he gazed fixedly at Flora Hawkes that gave her a momentary chill. Many things she read in his handsome face. But Flora knew nothing of fear. And this man was so vital to the success of her brilliant scheme. "You can make me do anything you want, Flora," he said, "for when I am with you I forget the gold and think only of that other reward which you deny me, but which one day I shall win." "Love and business do not mix well," she replied. "Wait until you have succeeded in this work, Esteban," she continued, "and then we may talk of love." "You do not love me," he whispered hoarsely. "I know—I have seen—that each of the others loves you. That is why I ha'e them. I tell you I do not like it, Flora, and one of these days I shall forget about the gold and think only of you. When that time comes, something will happen," he added with a sinister sneer, "then there will not be so many to divide the golden ingots with that I shall bring back from Africa."

The fire of glowing anger was leaping to the girl's eyes. With a scornful gesture she silenced him. "What business is it of yours, Senor Esteban, who I choose for my friends?" The Spaniard ran his fingers through his long black hair until it stood up on end like the mane of an angry lion. He appeared a man temporarily bereft of his reason. The girl realized that she must placate him. "Don't excite yourself, Esteban," she whispered softly. "I have not said that I loved one of the others—nor have I said that I do not love you." "But I could, Esteban," she went on, "that much I will tell you. I could love you as I could never love another. But I shall not permit myself to do so until after you have returned, successful, from the vaults of Opar." With that he had to be content, as there now approached three men for whom they had evidently been waiting. Two of them were Englishmen—big meaty fellows, ex-pugilists. The youngest of the three was the cause of Esteban's jealousy. He had the figure of a Greek god and the grace of a Russian dancer—handsome and masculine.

STEEL EARNINGS STATEMENT OUT

Net for Quarter Lowest of Year at $37,995,299

Decrease From 1929 Period Given as $32,278,414

Showing, However, Exceeds Wall Street's Guess

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—The United States Steel Corporation today reported third-quarter earnings of $37,995,299, compared with $47,061,204 in the previous quarter, and $70,173,713 in the like period in 1929. The figures are after deductions for operating expenses.

Directors declared the regular quarterly dividends of $1.75 a share on the common and preferred stocks.

The net profit for the third quarter was equal to $2.06 a share of common. This compared with $3.02 in the previous three months' period and $5.57 in the third quarter of 1929.

Net income for the last quarter was $24,195,162, against $32,126,717 in the June quarter, and $51,575,350 in the third quarter of 1929.

Unfilled orders on hand September 30 totaled 3,424,338 tons in contrast with 3,968,064 at the end of June and 3,902,581 tons on September 30, 1929.

Net equal to $2.06 a common share was a little better than Wall street had expected, for estimates had ranged from $1.75 to $2 a share.

Earnings for the first three quarters aggregated $8.44 a share, against $15.82 in the like period of last year. Dividend requirements for the entire year are $7 a share.

There had been some gossip in brokerage circles of the prospect of an extra dividend of $1, as one was declared at this time a year ago, but this possibility was generally regarded as remote.

Wallace Advises Western Glimpse

The nation in general and New York financiers in particular would be greatly benefited if they moved west for a period and got a new viewpoint on life, yesterday declared George M. Wallace, vice-president, Security-First National Bank, who has just returned from a month on the Atlantic Coast and in the Middle West.

"With a populace so minded, naturally the fog banks of business pessimism hang low over New York and one has to come west to see the sunshine. The clouds begin to lift when one gets to Cleveland and they have quite disappeared when one arrives at Chicago. Even Detroit, which has been harder hit than most cities, has not resigned itself to gloom, but is cheerful and making the best of the situation," Mr. Wallace said. "New York was wrong last year when the market was up and they said it would stay there. New York is just as wrong now in looking at the future with dark glasses."

OIL DEAL OFFER DUE TODAY

Richfield Board Expected to Receive Proposal From Tide Water Associated Company

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Transmittal of an offer from the Tide Water Associated Oil Company looking to a consolidation with the Richfield Oil Company of California will probably be made this afternoon at a meeting of the Richfield directors. It is understood the proposal already has been submitted informally and for the last two days has been studied by Richfield representatives.

On the street the conjectures current suggest a share-for-share exchange of Tide Water Associated common for Richfield common. The opinion is held, furthermore, that such an offer would be acceptable to Richfield stockholders.

INCOME PROMISED

Through such an exchange Richfield stockholders would receive a stock paying nominal annual dividends of 60 cents a share in return for a stock formerly paying $2, but now on the suspended list.

Richfield stockholders would also benefit through relief from the financial embarrassment in which the company is now involved. Presumably the Tide Water Associated Oil Company would agree to assume the funded indebtedness and provide for the settlement of the pressing current indebtedness outstanding.

Appraisal of physical properties and examination of financial accounts were completed late last week, it is understood. Richfield's appraisal was probably favorably affected by recent developments at Belridge and Lost Hills, where the company is a large holder of acreage. Tide Water Associated is also well represented in these districts.

If the trade goes through, the consolidated company will rank, on the basis of the last gasoline sales figures reported, as the second largest marketer of gasoline in California. In this jump Tide Water Associated would pass Shell Union Oil, heretofore ranking second, and stand not far behind Standard Oil of California.

SINCLAIR NEXT

In the oil trade the supposition has been entertained that Tide Water Associated would ultimately pass into the new consolidation of which Sinclair Consolidated Oil Company is to be the nucleus. This belief was substantiated by Harry F. Sinclair, chairman, on his return recently from Europe, when he said that a proposal to acquire Tide Water was still before the Sinclair group.

Sinclair, with the inclusion of Tide Water Associated and Richfield, would rank as one of the largest of the nation-wide oil companies, competing on a national basis with Shell Union and the Texas Corporation.

How the Federal Trade Commission will look at a Tide Water Associated-Richfield trade is one point about which some comment is heard. At one time a proposal of this character would have been denied, but of late the tendency has been to look at such matters, particularly in a depressed industry, from a more liberal point or view.

New Reductions in Midwest Oil Prices Posted

HOUSTON (Tex.) Oct. 28. (AP)—Effective today, the Humble Oil and Refining Company posted a cut on crude throughout the Texas fields ranging from 7 to 50 cents a barrel.

It was the most drastic reduction in crude prices in several years. The action followed that of the Stanoline Crude Oil Purchasing Company, the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, the Magnolia Petroleum Company and others in slashing prices in the last few days 7 to 38 cents a barrel in Oklahoma and Kansas.

The Humble's new posted prices range from 50 cents a barrel for low-gravity oil to $1.22 a barrel for high-gravity crude, depending on the quality and the producing field.

Humble officials said their reduction was a new one in the downward revision of petroleum prices and not a move to meet previous cuts.

FINDLAY (O.) Oct. 28. (AP)—The Ohio Oil Company today announced reductions in the prices of Central West, Wyoming, Montana and New Mexico crude.

The Central West reductions and new prices are: Lima, $1.10; Indiana, 87 cents, each off 45 cents a barrel; Illinois, $1.30; Princeton, $1.30; Plymouth, 88 cents; Wooster, $1.35, all off 35 cents a barrel; Western Kentucky, $1.15, off 40 cents a barrel.

Wyoming prices are: Elk Basin, $1.25; Grass Creek, $1.25; Lance Creek, $1.33, each off 30 cents a barrel; Big Muddy, $1, off 38 cents a barrel; Rock Creek, $1.01, off 34 cents a barrel.

In Montana, Sunburst was reduced 10 cents a barrel to $1.55, and in New Mexico the price of Artesia was cut to 75 cents a barrel, a reduction of 30 cents.

Although it already ranks as one of the two largest manufacturers of locomotives in the country, Baldwin has recently been diversifying its activities to include the production of various types of heavy machinery and machine tools used in other than the railroad industries. In line with this policy the Southwark Foundry and Machine Company of Philadelphia was acquired in 1929, and its activities transferred to the Eddystone plant of the Baldwin Works, where a steel foundry is now under construction. Company also owns 100,000 shares of General Steel Castings Corporation as an investment. In co-operation with Westinghouse Electric, the organization is engaged in manufacturing electric locomotives.

Business improved substantially in 1929 and the company earned $1.07 per share, as against a deficit of $3.41 in 1928. In the first half of this year earnings showed a further improvement, $1.31 per share being earned in this period.

In the similar 1929 period, net earnings were $4,253,906, or $3.49 a share on the outstanding stock.

Sales for the period totaled $17,547,293 as against $16,797,219.74 in the 1929 period, an increase of $752,073.26. Gross income was given at $5,562,709.81 as against $6,386,332.97, a decrease of $823,623.16. Depreciation and depletion amounted to $2,067,214.77 as compared with $1,552,348.26 in the 1929 period, an increase of $514,866.51.

Current assets as of September 30, last, consisting of cash, accounts receivable and oil were $9,238,834 and current liabilities $6,657,139, including the $5,000,000 recently made available by the company's bankers which is due September 3, 1931. The total liabilities of the company, including long-term purchase money obligations, tax reserve set aside for 1931, contingent reserves, etc., including all liabilities of whatever nature and current or otherwise, aggregated $7,618,000. The company has no funded debt.

Earned surplus on September 30, last, was $5,517,000 as compared with $4,321,000 at the end of 1929, an increase of $1,196,000.

Gasoline sales, including exports, for the first eight months of this year gained 132 per cent over the 1929 period while lubricating oil sales increased 22 per cent. In the first four months of this year the company more than doubled its number of retail outlets which existed at the end of 1929, the report stated.

During the third quarter of the year, several of the company's best producing wells were shut in completely in furtherance of the policy toward conservation of crude production. Net crude production for the nine months' period totaled 4,157,501 barrels. Total refined output from the four refineries operated by the company, three of which are owned and one leased, aggregated 200,407,480 gallons during the first three quarters of this year as compared with 62,757,841 gallons for the full year 1929. Total gasoline output for the nine months of 1930 was 89,034,560 gallons. Natural gasoline production for the period amounted to 12,732,665 gallons.

World Pact on Copper Output Given Impetus

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—F. Pisart and Camille Gutt, leading producers of copper in the Belgian Congo, expressed willingness to enter into negotiations looking toward world-wide curtailment of production, on their arrival today.

"From a world standpoint," a statement issued by them said, "the copper industry is at present in a bad state of depression and conditions are bad all over. Prices are unusually low and overproduction continues rampant. We would be glad to enter into conversation with metal producers in North and South America, but the situation is such that any agreement to reduce output of copper must include all producers to be effective."

Messrs. Pisart and Gutt are operators of the Union Miniere Du Haut Katamga Mine. They said any agreement to cut production must include Canada.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—A further advance which carried the price of new December contracts up to 11.43 and May to 12.03, or about 25 to 30 points net higher, was followed by rather irregular fluctuations in the cotton market here today. The demand promoted by relatively steady Liverpool cables and reports of continued unfavorable weather for picking and saving late cotton in the South, tapered off on the advance and there were moderate reactions under realizing combined with some southern selling. December was ruling around 11.33 with the general market showing net advances of about 15 to 20 points during the middle of the afternoon.

BELL PHONE GIANT CONCERN

Growth to Leadership in Corporation Field, With $4,900,000,000 Assets, Amazing Record

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Think of one company adding more than $1,000,000 a day to its plant equipment in 1929! That's the record of the Bell telephone system. It added $395,000,000 to its plant equipment in 1929, compared with $262,000,000 in 1928, $231,000,000 in 1927, and $258,000,000 in 1926.

The total assets of this vast organization are now in the neighborhood of $4,900,000,000 as compared with $2,400,000,000 of the United States Steel Corporation; $2,200,000,000 of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and $1,800,000,000 each of the Standard Oil Company of New York and the New York Central Railroad.

The steady rise of this company's properties since 1900 makes it the world's largest and most powerful corporation.

This corporation is directed by hundreds of officials in various parts of the country, yet few of their names are nationally known. Walter Gifford, 45 years of age, Harvard graduate, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, is naturally its best-known executive.

During the last eighteen months, nearly $800,000,000 has been secured by various offerings of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and its subsidiaries.

The assurances given by several big business leaders such as James A. Farrell, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation; George F. Johnson, president of Endicott-Johnson Company; C. R. Palmer, president of Cluett-Peabody Company; Albert R. Erskine, president of the Studebaker Company; Walter J. Kohler, president of the Kohler Company; Howard Coonley, president of Walworth & Co., and Newcomb Carleton, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company, that wages in their corporations would not be reduced, has given heart to many labor leaders who are fighting against wage reductions during this period of depression.

Perhaps the statement of Mr. Farrell of the United States Steel Corporation, one of the largest employers of labor in the United States, sized up the situation for these and other business executives when he said:

"Wages in the steel industry are not coming down—you can make up your mind on that."

Here's the way C. M. Van Tassell, Miami business man, would deal with the unemployment problem:

"Let every business firm call in its married women employees and put this question to each: 'Is your husband working?' If the employees say 'Yes,' let that fortunate married woman go, and give her place to one of the unemployed today.

"That will meet the problem. For example: A New York friend of mine has a responsible banking position and a salary of $500 a month. He is married, but has no children. So his wife is working in one of the stores and drawing $200 a month. Now, why should she be allowed to hold that position, when her husband is getting enough to carry them both, with no other family responsibilities? Let her give way and then fill the job with a person who really needs it.

"I should say conservatively that there are 1,000,000 cases of that kind in the United States."

This southern business man thinks this suggestion should be submitted to Col. Woods for his serious consideration.

McEverlast in New Company

Plans for the organization of a new company to be known as the McEverlast Service Company to develop the general use of traffic control lines on roads as well as on city streets, were announced yesterday by A. M. Shenk, president of the McEverlast Corporation of America, Ltd. The new company has purchased the California franchise for the use of the McEverlast machines for painting the lines. J. H. Gauthier of San Francisco, manager of the by-products division of the Pacific Lumber Company, will head the new concern.

The new process of applying the lines was first tried out in Los Angeles on Wilshire Boulevard and Figueroa street.

COPPER MARKET CONTINUES SOFT

Little Prospect Held Out for Early Recovery

Zinc Shade More Active and Lead Outlook Dark

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS
(Editor, the Mining Journal, Phoenix)

Sympathetic to the continued disturbance of the stock market, the nonferrous metal market has remained quiet. The only price movement has been a cut in copper to 9½ cents. Lead remains at 5.10 f.o.b. New York and zinc at 3.95 bid and 4.00 asked, f.o.b. St. Louis.

Earlier offerings of copper at 9 3-4 cents failed to attract buyers and, in view of the large purchases of copper already made for delivery over the balance of the year, it is questionable whether a buying level can be established as the requirements for present consumption are covered and there are but few that need to buy any copper except for 1931 delivery, in which the custom plants are not interested.

Zinc selling has been fair with no disposition to sell for delivery beyond December. It is felt that drastic curtailment of production will soon be forced as there must be a point somewhere at which smelters will abstain from piling up stocks on an overloaded market, particularly when there is no evidence in sight of any immediate increase in consuming needs.

For some time the foreign market has been the controlling factor in the domestic lead price. Domestic demand and conditions are not unfavorable to a better lead price but, as long as the London market remains weak, the price must be maintained at a point which does not permit of lead being profitably shipped into this country.

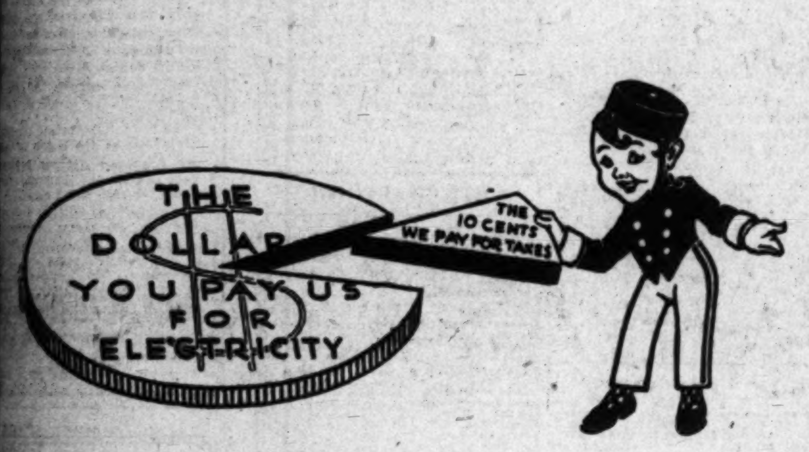
Any hope of early improvement in the foreign lead market is not well founded. Consumption in European countries has been very irregular and on a limited scale. The supply is more than ample to care for all requirements and conditions are generally unfavorable. The widespread and rapid changes of the London prices does not indicate stability soon.

Lead statistics for September were not bad. Domestic shipments show an increase for the month of about 4500 tons, production a decrease of 4800 tons, while stocks increased only slightly, about 800 tons. The shipments totaling 52,451 tons, are the largest reported for any month since last April and are about 2700 tons above the monthly average for the four-months' period, May to August.

The decrease in domestic output is noteworthy, the September total being only slightly larger than the shipments which accounts for the small gain of 800 tons in stocks, 73,669 tons on October 1. The present surplus while the largest so far this year, is equal only to requirements for a month and a half based on the September returns.

There is no active copper market to be expected as consumers are now in position to await a clearer indication of the industrial trend. There is probably 350,000 tons of copper bought but which remains undelivered as yet and which is scheduled for delivery over the next several months. Just as long as the buyers see no further curtailment, they feel perfectly safe about refraining from further commitments and they also feel that, unless there is curtailment, copper will go even lower than it is.

There is much discussion in the metal trades regarding the present copper situation, the pros and cons of a possible tariff and the possibilities of curtailment. Nothing has happened in the way of curtailment except the forced stopping of a few small producers.



THE DOLLAR YOU PAY US FOR ELECTRICITY
THE 10 CENTS WE PAY FOR TAXES

The EDISON COMPANY ...A Tax-paying Citizen

DURING 1930, the Southern California Edison Company Ltd. will pay more than four million three hundred thousand dollars in taxes. This money goes into the public treasury where it is used for the support of government, for humanitarian institutions, roads, schools, forest protection and similar purposes.

Ten cents of every dollar paid for Edison electric service is passed directly back to the people in taxes. Yet through thrifty management, the rates, under State regulation, are among the lowest in the country.

There is small prospect of the tax burden being reduced. The most we can do is to see that it is not increased and that it is evenly distributed.

The city's Bureau of Power and Light pays no taxes and is not regulated. Nevertheless, the Bureau is attempting by condemnation to take some of Edison Company's property and business which does pay taxes. Would not this add to the taxpayers burden?

In the year 1922 the city purchased the Edison Company's distributing system in Los Angeles.

Shipments are not picking up to any marked extent. The customary tapering for the inventory period next month and in December may be offset in part by releases of rails for deliveries in the final two months of the year.

The plant will have virtually double the generating capacity of the existing steam plants of the San Joaquin system. NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—The upward movement in bonds gained momentum today, and all sections of the list reflected the improvement demand. Activity was moderate, although the volume increased sharply over yesterday.

One and two-point advances were sprinkled throughout the domestic list. Liberty First 4¼s reached a new high for the year. United States governments were firm. Foreign obligations were buoyant.

The inquiry for railroad bonds was the best in several weeks, extending to both prime and second-grade obligations. Large gains were made by Chesapeake and Ohio general 4½s, Burlington 4½s, Chicago and Northwestern 5s and Pennsylvania general 5s.

Best grade utility issues whose quoted value had been only slightly impaired moved quietly, but there were some sharp advances elsewhere, notably International Telephone debenture 4½s.

Bonds of oil, rubber and steel companies led the advance of industrials, rising a point or more.

Strength of German governments stood out in the foreign section together with the continued buoyancy of Latin-American bonds led by Brazilian obligations.

If last price omitted, low and last are same. If low and last are omitted, high, low and last are same.

Wheat Futures Sharply Up in Closing Rally

CHICAGO, Oct. 28. (AP)—Scoring a brisk in the late dealings, prices for wheat today finished at a substantial advance. Assertions of rust damage to Argentine wheat crop had considerable market influence, and so likewise enlargement of wheat export business North America. There was also a deal of talk the Wickersham committee meets November 5 would recommend legalizing 4.40 per cent beer.

Closing quotations on wheat were firm at nearly the day's top level, 1⅛@1½c higher than yesterday. Corn closed ½@1½c up, oats unchanged to ⅛c up, and provisions unchanged to a rise.

Weather conditions were favorable for seeding, but country offerings of wheat remained small. Oats prime changes were narrow and showed sympathy with corn strength.

Setbacks in hog values provisions reflected the upturns of cereals.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—The wool market is very slow. Manufacturers continue to cover only immediate needs. Demand consists chiefly of only occasional lots of fine domestic wool. Prices appear fairly steady compared with last week. A firm undertone is indicated by the freedom with which wool houses are turning down low offers.

DRIED FRUITS

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—Dried fruit steady.

REFINERY SUSPENDED

McCAMEY (Tex.) Oct. 28.—Humble Oil and Refining Company has suspended indefinitely the operation of its cracking plant here. Employees will be taken care of in other departments of the company.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Rather heavy fresh receipts for Tuesday and slightly over 900 holdover moved slowly. Prices were weak and in some cases a little loss was evident, making the downturn for the two days of this week around 25@40c on bulk of the killing classes. Hardly any steers of quality sold until after midsession and quite a sizeable carryover was in sight.

Two loads of 934 to 996-pound intermountain steers brought 7.25@7.75, quality being medium. A few loads of Imperial, Mexican and Texas steers brought 6.00@6.25, with one load at 5.85. Several loads of Arizona yearling steers went for feed at 7.25, with Mexican feeders down to 5.10.

A load of 1000-pound Arizona heifers made 7.25, with three loads of lighter Oregon heifers at 5.75@6.25. A load of light cows scored 5.85, with small lots at 5.50@5.75, no better kind being available. Bulk of the common to low medium cows, including four loads of Oregons, turned at 4.50@5.10, with low cutters and cutters at 2.50@4.35, thin shelly cows selling down to 1.75. Late Monday several loads of Wyoming cows sold at 5.75@6.00. Odd medium bulls ranged from 4.50@5.60.

CALVES—Fresh receipts of around eight loads and holdovers of 387 head were too many for current demand, and further price declines were effected, making a two-day loss of 50c to possibly 1.00 on calves. Odd head of milk vealers sold up to 13.00, but offerings were really too light to establish a market. A load of 300-pound southwestern calves went to a killer at 8.75. Several loads of stock calves were taken at 7.25@8.00, with a plainer load of Texas offerings at 6.75.

HOGS—Only one load of mixed Utah butchers was offered, these selling to a killer at weak prices. The load averaged 183 pounds at 10.90. Some members of the trade considered good light butchers quotable around 11.25.

SHEEP—Nothing was offered during the forenoon, but two loads of California lambs arrived after noon. The lambs were not very desirable and were expected to sell around 7.00. Good to choice lambs, 75 pounds down, are quoted at 7.00@8.25. Medium to choice ewes quoted 2.75@3.75.

A letter from Mr. R. S. Shainwald, president, is summarized by him as follows:

History. The Paraffine Companies, Inc., as it was formed in November, 1917, represented a consolidation of eight companies engaged in similar business, the oldest of which had its inception in 1884. Apart from its major activities which have been developed largely through this original unit, the Company has acquired, during the last three years, four wholly owned subsidiaries engaged in the manufacture and distribution of various allied products, a majority stock interest in Fibreboard Products, Inc., and a minority interest in California Ink Company, Schumacher Wall Board Corporation, and Vitrefax Corporation. As of June 30 last, total investments in other companies were $9,341,910, or 47.4% of the Company's assets.

Products. The Company, with its subsidiaries, is the largest manufacturer of prepared roofings, floor coverings, box board and allied lines west of the Rockies, and is one of the largest in the United States. It manufactures roofings, paints, varnishes, building papers, asphalt, felt base floor cloth, box board, fibre containers, cartons, pipe and boiler coverings, engine packings, and mechanical rubber goods. The majority of the Company's products are manufactured under the well known name of "Pabco," Other trade names are "Durable," "Malthoid," and "Pabcotite."

Earnings. Consolidated net earnings of the Company, after interest and depreciation, but before Federal Income Tax, as certified by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse and Company, have been as follows:

Year ended June 30	*Net earnings, after interest and depreciation, but before Federal Income Tax	Year ended June 30	*Net earnings, after interest and depreciation, but before Federal Income Tax
1925	$1,531,764	1928	$2,599,6[illegible]
1926	2,249,716	1929	3,073,259
1927	2,240,784	1930	2,709,475

* The above profits include undistributed earnings applicable to capital stock owned by The Paraffine Companies, Inc., of those companies in which The Paraffine Companies, Inc., holds more than a 50% interest.

Net earnings for the six years shown above have averaged $2,400,781 or 32 times annual interest requirements on this issue of Notes. For the year ended June 30, 1930, such net earnings amounted to more than 36 times such interest requirements. No allowance has been made in the foregoing ratios for any benefits from the funds being provided by the present financing.

Capitalization. Capital structure of the Company, as of June 30, 1930, giving effect to this issue of Notes, consists of $5,000,000 authorized notes, with $1,500,000 outstanding Five-Year 5% Convertible Gold Notes (this issue) 600,000 shares of 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock ($100 par) authorized but not outstanding, and 700,000 authorized shares of Common Stock without nominal or par value, of which 485,111 shares are now outstanding.

Assets and Equity. The Balance Sheet of the Company, as of June 30, 1930, adjusted to give effect to this financing, shows tangible assets after deducting all liabilities other than these Notes of $18,324,690. Current assets amounted to $4,923,901 and current liabilities $728,352, showing a ratio of more than 6½ to 1. The good will of the Company, which is symbolized by its various trade marks, is carried on the books of the Company at $1.

The value of the equity junior of these Notes, based upon the aggregate market value of the outstanding Common Stock at current quotations is in excess of $26,500,000.

Purpose of Issue. The proceeds from the issuance of these Notes will be used for the expansion of the Company's business in both domestic and foreign countries and for other corporate purposes.

Provisions of Issue. Among other things the Trust Indenture will provide:

1. That while any of the presently authorized Notes are outstanding the Company will not (a) mortgage, pledge or hypothecate any of its property as security for any note or bond issue without equally securing these Notes; (b) create any additional funded debt (represented by bonds or notes bearing coupons or payable more than one year beyond their date of issue), in excess of the $5,000,000 herein mentioned, without securing said debt together with the Notes or Series Due 1935 by a mortgage or pledge of property; (c) permit any corporation, more than fifty-one per cent of the presently voting stock of which is owned by the Company, to issue or sell any bonds, notes or preferred stock unless the Company purchases or acquires that percentage thereof which the Company owns of the voting capital stock of said corporation.

2. That additional Notes may be issued and sold from time to time, but not to exceed an aggregate, at any one time outstanding, in excess of $5,000,000 including this Series Due 1935. The interest rate, maturity, provision for conversion, if any and all other provisions of the Notes to be hereafter issued are to be determined from time to time by the Company.

Application will be made to list these Notes on the San Francisco Stock Exchange.

These Notes are offered when, as and if issued and received by us, and subject to the approval of counsel, and to the issuance of a final permit by the Commissioner of Corporations of the State of California. All legal details pertaining to this issue will be passed upon for the bankers by Messrs. Pillsbury, Madison & Sutro, and for the Company by Messrs. Brobeck, Phleger & Harrison. It is expected that temporary notes or interim receipts will be ready for delivery on or about November 17, 1930.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—The curb market recorded a narrow and irregular advance in light trading today. The turnover aggregated 433,100 shares.

A better tone in the oils was a conspicuous development, although it appeared due to an oversold condition in these shares, rather than improvement in the industry, for further cuts in crude oil and gasoline prices were announced.

Standard of Indiana, however, was in good demand, closing at 41, up ¾. Standard of Ohio advanced 3 points. Humble sold up more than a point, but was up only ⅜ at the finish. Gulf and Indian Territory A gained about a point. Cities Service was steady.

The few copper shares now traded in this market also were firmer, reflecting the prospects of a world production curtailment agreement, brightened by the arrival in New York of heads of the Katanga Mine in the Belgian Congo. Nerandc rose about 2 points.

Utilities were mixed. Insull Utility Investment and Electric Power and Light warrants sold up nearly 3. Electric Bond and Share, after recording a momentary advance of ¾, closed off ⅜. Some natural gas stocks were strong. Dixie rose 2.

The industrials and specialties were dull. Anglo-Chilean Nitrate gained 2 points and Aluminum Company advanced 5. Montgomery-Ward Class A stock closed at 102¼, off 5½ from the last day in which it was active.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

The Associated Oil Company is planning to lay an eight-inch oil line from the Ventura-avenue oil field through Ventura, to an anchorage in the harbor about 2800 feet from shore, according to an announcement made at yesterday's session of the Ventura City Council.

First word of the contemplated project was learned when Associated officials appeared at the meeting to request a fifty-year franchise for two pipe lines, one to be a ten-inch line and the other an eight-inch line. It was indicated that work will start soon on the smaller line and will cost approximately [illegible].

Two six-inch oil lines now connect the Ventura-avenue oil field through the Associated pumping plant with tanker loading facilities in the harbor. Work on the new line will start soon if the city grants permission, it was asserted. The franchise will be advertised and bids will be called for on December 1, according to vote of the Ventura City Council.

Committee to Meet

That the establishment of the limits of production at Kettleman Hills is considered important is indicated by the interest engineers and executives have taken in the series of meetings recently held here and at San Francisco.

The known limits of the field are only tentative, because of the recent completion of the Superior Oil Company's Huffman No. 1 on Sec. [illegible] 21-17—the most northwesterly producer—and the General Petroleum Corporation's Ochsner No. 2 on Sec. 26, 22-18, the most southeasterly producer, now shut down in oil sand, and will not again be placed on production until expiration of an agreement July 31, [illegible].

At 2 p.m. today, the Kettleman Hills oil and gas conservation committee, headed by William Rein[illegible], official of the Shell Oil Company, meets in the assembly room of the California Oil and Gas Association, and reports indicate that definite limitations for the field will be considered. The amount of land involved in the proven area is said to exceed 14,000 acres, based on Standard's three producers, and wells belonging to [illegible], Continental, Associated, Petroleum Securities and Superior. Considerably more area is involved where projects remain shut in, although they have penetrated oil sand.

Search Continues

Not since discovery last December of the Venice field, has the energetic search for hidden structures, or endeavors to extend already proven oil fields, brought forth any unusual findings, according to field men who have been watching progress being made in a half-dozen tests scattered along the coast from Santa Barbara county down to the James Irvine ranch near Newport Bay.

Although the Standard Oil Company is still drilling its Gerber No. 1, located at Point Conception, it is believed now that this project will eventually be abandoned. The Gerber No. 1 is situated on what is thought to be the northerly structure and is drilling in sandstone below 6523 feet. Several weeks ago, the Richfield Oil Company abandoned its Universal Consolidated No. 1 at about 4600 feet. It was located at the southerly end of a possible structure and while it cored a few stringers of oil sand, failed to develop anything interesting.

In the Dominguez oil field, the Shell Oil Company is drilling two deep tests. From there the search jumps to the James Irvine ranch near Newport Bay, where Standard's Irvine No. 1 is making progress with the drill below 2570 feet in a hard shale formation. Shallow oil sand was passed up in this project in favor of a deep test.

Near King City, Standard's Piedmont has developed a fishing job with bottom of the hole at 5655 feet. And at Devil's Den, Standard's Al[illegible] No. 1 wildcat may be interesting later since it is testing one of the oldest shallow oil fields in the State. Its new project will determine possibilities of proving deep production.

Another Test

The General Petroleum Corporation is preparing to spud in its Or[illegible] No. 1 on Sec. 26, 11-24, near Maricopa Flat, and will endeavor to develop deep production in the same general vicinity where the operator's Bell & Wrightsman No. 1 found a little light oil at about [illegible] feet.

General controls considerable acreage near Maricopa Flat. Its Bell & Wrightsman No. 1 is located on Sec. 29, 11-23, and at its best pumped at the rate of ten barrels of oil a day. It now is shut in. These tests are located on what is called the Pioneer anticline.

Venice Production

Completion yesterday of the Venice Oil Syndicate's No. 3, near the corner of Thirty-eighth avenue and Speedway in the central-southwesterly portion of the Venice oil field, increased the daily production there to the extent of 4800 barrels of oil a day from a depth of 6090 feet. The well has been beaned down to about 2000 barrels daily to aid the State-wide oil curtailment program.

Venice Oil's No. 3 is one of the best producers brought in at Venice. Water shut-off was effected at 5891 feet. Daily flow of gas is said to exceed 3,000,000 cubic feet and is going to the Del Rey Oil and Refining Company's absorption plant.

Venice Oil's No. 4 near the intersection of Thirty-ninth avenue and Speedway, has landed tubing and is expected to be swabbing today or tomorrow with bottom of the hole at [illegible] feet. Six and five-eighths-inch liner is set at 3642 feet. This project started flowing during a water shut-off test and was on production two days before being killed [illegible]. The company's No. 5, at the corner of Forty-ninth avenue and just east of the canal, is drilling below 3554 feet and is expected to test upper oil sand. Machinery is moving in for the operator's No. 6.

Near the corner of Forty-seventh avenue and Speedway, the Marcel Petroleum Company's No. 2 has just been brought in at the rate of 1500 barrels daily from a depth of 4700 feet. This project made a water shut-off at 3500 feet and is producing from 1200 feet of oil sand.

Adds New One

Another producing well was added to the list of completions at Venice yesterday when the Conservative Petroleum Corporation's Jones No. 1 was brought in for an initial flow of 950 barrels per day. The well is located near the corner of Thirty-eighth avenue and Pacific Court. It is producing 24-deg. gravity oil from the top sand.

The King No. 1 and Gage No. 1, two more Conservative wells, are nearing completion and are expected to be on production in a short time, according to Ralph Stephens, president of the company.

Flow Test Ends

The five-day flow test of the Bankline Oil Company's Tideland Permit No. 89-7 off the Elwood coast, ended this morning. This project came in for an initial yield of 3500 barrels of 36-deg. gravity oil per day and established a potential in excess of 3700 barrels of oil daily.

To Set Potentials

New estimated potentials for the various oil fields in the State will be reset by November 1, according to an announcement yesterday by officials of the oil curtailment program. Engineers of the Santa Fe Springs oil field met in the offices of Umpire H. Paul Grimm, and discussed that field's new potential. Little change in the potentials for all fields is anticipated at present, it is believed.

GROUP FARM PLAN URGED FOR MEXICO

Ortiz Rubio Submits Bill For Co-operative Units to Aid Nation's Peasants

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 28. (AP)—Formation of co-operative farming organizations, similar in some respects to the collective farms of Russia, was proposed in a bill submitted to the Chamber of Deputies today by President Ortiz Rubio.

A statement accompanying the measure said its object is to create better credit and marketing facilities through group dealings other than individual barter. The bill would organize farmers holding parcels of land granted them under agrarian laws.

Under the present system land is given out in a large tract to peasants living together and forming a village. The major grant then is cut up into smaller parcels for each peasant. The farmers thus owning parcels now manage their own affairs as individuals.

This system does not work well, the President's statement says, as none of the individuals thus operating possesses sufficient collateral to procure credit and, because his marketing facilities lack organization, he cannot earn sufficient income to build up such collateral.

Under the proposed new system the farmers in each group would be obliged to form a co-operative body to meet these needs.

State Exposition Building to House Project

BY WALDO DRAKE

Los Angeles visitors will be able to view the local port, without the trip to the waterfront, by means of a forty-foot dioama, or working model, to be placed in the State Exposition Building at Exposition Park, by the Sixth District Agricultural Association. The model, in the form of a semicircle with a twenty-foot radius, will take in all sections of the harbor from Long Beach to Point Fermin.

E. H. J. Lorenz, builder of the diorama, is now working with Burt Edwards, general manager of the Harbor Department, gathering plans, construction data and photographs of all ship terminals, buildings and channels. All physical details of the port area will be reproduced to exact scale, so that the visitor may gain at a glance a panorama of Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors possible in actuality only from an aircraft.

Ships at anchor in the roadstead, vessels at dock loading and discharging cargoes, trains and trucks in action and other machinery of the busy port will be included.

ENSENADA LINER CHRISTENING TODAY

The liner Chiapas, reconditioned into a smart passenger carrier for the San Diego-Ensenada run, will be the subject of a ceremonial at noon today at Berth 87, San Pedro, when she is rechristened Playa Ensenada and her flag changed from Mexican to Panamanian.

Playa Ensenada is also the name of Jack Dempsey's palatial new hotel at Ensenada, which the liner will serve. The flag ceremony will be attended by Dr. Jose Saenz, Consul for Panama at Los Angeles, and by Lail T. Kain ship surveyor for the consulate.

The liner is expected to sail this week to inaugurate the run out of San Diego. Noel Pemberton-Billing, a British ship designer, is the owner; Capt. A. S. Sombellero, formerly of the Calmex, the master, and John Bell, chief engineer. It is understood Billing is negotiating with Frank Robinson, for years purser on Panama Mail liners, for a similar post on the Playa Ensenada.

The liner is the first of three planned by Billing, the other two being scheduled for reconditioning here early this winter for entry into the run between Los Angeles Harbor and Ensenada. Billing also has several speed boats, including the Gentry and the Mary and Alice, for the interport run.

F. A. Sumption of the Security-First National Bank has been appointed by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce as chairman of the general committee for the observance of Foreign Trade Week, February 16 to 22, next, and an initial committee meeting is called for the 31st inst. Subcommittee chairmen include N. E. Dunnavant, S. P. Trood, F. P. Cruice, Mrs. Bessie A. Ochs, James H. Smiley, Burt A. Edwards, R. P. Lehr, Will R. Forker, C. B. Sweet and A. C. Hugg. G. C. Shipping executives at the port were advised yesterday by the Shipping Board that its previous order to reduce its personnel by 750 employees has been rescinded in an effort to aid the national unemployment situation.

BLAME HINT SOUNDED IN R-101 QUIZ

London Hearing Over Air Crash Killing Forty-eight Develops Surprises

LONDON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Causes of the disaster which overtook the British dirigible R-101 resulting in the loss of forty-eight lives were discussed at the opening of Britain's formal inquiry into the catastrophe today.

The first session of the court inquiry furnished several surprises. One came when Sir William Jowitt revealed a cable controlling an elevator in the airship had been found broken in the wreckage.

Another was his disclosure that experimental oil engines in the ship weighed eight tons more than originally planned—seventeen tons as against nine.

Sir William also said a possible cause of the tragic end of the world's largest flying craft might have been some error in the working of its altimeter.

Sir John Simon, presiding, added to Sir William's conjectures the statement "some failure from the ground to send information" might have influenced the fate of the R-101 which exploded and burned at Beauvais, France, on the 5th inst.

MOTION PICTURES

Bard's Eighth, between Broadway and Hill—"Anybody's Woman." Ruth Chatterton and Clive Brook enact romance pleasingly.

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"So This Is London." Will Rogers's wit is still good for a couple of hours.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Just Imagine." A fantasy and simply swell. El Brendel and Maureen O'Sullivan.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"The Big Trail." Spectacular in setting and photography, this production demonstrates the power and sweep of Grandeur film.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Up the River." A funny satire on prison life with a fine cast, headed by Spencer Tracey.

Egyptian, Hollywood Boulevard—"Monte Carlo." A delightful Lubitsch satire with Jack Buchanan and Jeanette MacDonald.

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"Let Us Be Gay." Norma Shearer is good in a made-over musical comedy.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Moby Dick." Excitement, cruel realism and John Barrymore.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Love in the Rough." Pleasant and musical, with a good cast, headed by the ingratiating Robert Montgomery.

Majestic, Broadway at Ninth—"The Girl of the Golden West." The old melodrama for no good reason. Ann Harding.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Follow Thru." The musical comedy of golf and Buddy Rogers; but it's pretty endless.

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"The Big Fight." A big climax tops a rather exciting story. Guinn Williams.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Laughter." One of the best pictures of the year. Splendidly done by Frederic March, also Nancy Carroll.

Ritz, Wilshire at La Brea—"The Eyes of the World." Some may still like Harold Bell Wright's story and there's a good performance by Una Merkel.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Brothers." The popular Bert Lytell in one of his favorite causes. Good.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Lady Surrenders." An interesting film, with excellent portrayal by Genevieve Tobin and Rose Hobart.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"The Spoilers." The third version of this famous story is somewhat disappointing. Gary Cooper.

United Artists, Broadway near Ninth—"Du Barry, Woman of Passion." Opens today.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"One Night at Susie's." Billie Dove and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., overcome many limitations with good work.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Maybe It's Love." Or maybe it's college, anyway you can see the all-American football team, and if you like, Joe E. Brown.

Wilshire, 8440 Wilshire Boulevard—"The Santa Fe Trail." A western and not so bad; with Richard Arlen.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"Young Sinners." More of youth; wild doings, which should prove popular. John Darrow.

Biltmore, 5th near Grand—"New Moon." Romberg's lovely music and the spirit of adventure pervade this operetta which presents Perry Askam.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath." Charlotte Greenwood strides onto the stage, and the play matters not at all. Destined for a healthy and wealthy run.

Figueroa Playhouse, 940 S. Figueroa—"Cup of Sugar." Dorothy Mackaye return with this farce in which she recently scored a personal hit.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"Little Orchid Annie." Fast farce about a naive gold-digger. Betty Bronson and a veteran supporting cast.

Mother Wins Fight for Son in Annulment

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28. (AP)—Mrs. Daisy Barrett today was granted custody of her son Robert, 9 years of age, by an order issued by the State Supreme Court.

Charles S. Barrett, Los Angeles cafe owner, had his marriage to the boy's mother annulled several years ago and he was awarded custody of the child.

Mrs. Barrett recently had the annulment decree modified to award her the child. Barrett contested, contending the court lacked jurisdiction because an annulment and not a divorce was involved. He asserted children of a couple whose marriage is annulled are not wards of the court until they become of age.

The Supreme Court handed down a decision today upholding Mrs Barrett's right to the child's custody

YOUNG A WET IN DRY CLOTHING

Called Prohibition Failure in 1929 Prize Contest

Urged Emasculation of the Eighteenth Amendment

Gubernatorial Candidate's Own Words Betray Him

Milton K. Young, Democratic nominee for Governor, who is making his campaign almost solely on the representation that he is a sincere advocate of prohibition-law enforcement, yesterday again saw his own past declarations rise to contradict his present self-ascribed convictions on the merits of prohibition.

Competing for a prize of $25,000 in a national contest conducted last year by a newspaper chain for the best suggested temperance plan Mr. Young submitted an essay in which he made the following declarations:

(1) That prohibition is a failure.

(2) That the dry law has been provocative of graft, bribery, official corruption, blackmail, bootlegging, hi-jacking and other crimes.

(3) That Congress should be given the power to regulate the liquor traffic and, with the consent of the States, permit the manufacture, sale and transportation of intoxicants. This Mr. Young's essay described as a "modification" of the Eighteenth Amendment.

The Eighteenth Amendment, as ratified by the States, as now enforced, and as it is approved by the organized supporters of national prohibition, says:

"Section 1. After one year from the ratification of this article, the manufacture, sale, or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited."

HIS "MODIFICATION"

Mr. Young proposed to add the following "modification:"

"Except as the same may be permitted, regulated and controlled by Congress.

"Provided further, that full power is hereby reserved to each State to enact in addition to the laws of Congress, such further restrictive legislation as it may desire."

RECORD TO DATE

Mr. Young's record, to date, on the wet and dry issue, runs as follows:

(1) In 1918, Young supported the gubernatorial candidacy of Theodore Bell, who ran as an independent on an antiprohibition platform.

(2) In 1928 he worked for the nomination of former Senator Reed of Missouri for Democratic candidate for President. Reed voted against Senate approval of the dry law.

(3) Young in 1928 blamed "misguided drys" in California for the approval by this State's Democrats of Al Smith's candidacy for President.

(4) Young was a Democratic elector in November, 1928, on the Al Smith ticket.

(5) Young, in a lengthy essay written in 1929, urged modification of the Eighteenth Amendemnt under a plan that, if adopted, would have emasculated the law.

(6) Young, running for Governor in 1930, says he is a dry.

The new disclosure of the Democratic nominee's inconsistent and contradictory stand on the dry question was made by the Republican State Central Committee yesterday.

Commenting on the contents of Young's proposed emasculation of the national dry law, M. B. Silberberg, campaign director for the Republican party in Southern California, said:

"Mr. Young's statements in this essay, as well as his previous activities in the Presidential campaign of Senator Reed and former Gov. Smith, definitely prove that in the present gubernatorial campaign he is insincere and, in posing as a dry, is moved solely by a desire to garner votes."

WHAT HE WROTE

The contest which inspired Young to make known his convictions on the wet and dry issue at a time when his own political fortunes were

WINDOWS TO BE FULL OF GIFTS EARLY

Christmas Displays Will Be Set Up by Downtown Stores Friday Night

On Friday evening of the present week, the downtown stores and shops will make display of Christmas toys with especial lighting effects and wel lthought-out groups of toys.

Many mechanical toys and figures will add to the interest; while the talent of the window decorators will have brought about scenes helpful to those about to purchase the gifts for family or friends.

This season, Angelenos are giving themselves heart and soul to early Christmas buying; and with this in view, stocks in the stores have been prepared much earlier than usual, and this fact is sure to prove a magnet drawing patrons to the downtown district, immediately after this, the first of the Christmas displays.

Here, as in few cities, the slogan "buy early" has become a watchword, since the purchasing for eastern gifts which must perforce be done early, is quite likely to deplete the markets of the best articles in the gift line, whether it be toys or other merchandise.

PAYING OF OVERTIME ASSAILED

Civil Service Commission Hears of Men Being Laid off by City Departments

Condemnation of the asserted practice of some city departments laying men off for lack of funds and then paying others overtime for the same kind of work was expressed by Civil Service Commissioner Britton, at the meeting yesterday.

Britton, who has been making an investigation, turned in his report to the board and particularly censured the park department, declaring he had found overtime given to employees ranging from a half hour to more than eleven hours within a period of two weeks.

He declared eighteen men have been laid off in the park department and that some of those left on the pay roll at $4.75 a day obtained as high as $60 a week by working overtime.

"I believe the men should be given a break," he said. "If there are funds to pay men overtime then others should not be laid off under present conditions, when men want work."

DRY-LAW WORK HELD EFFECTIVE

Woodcock Says Prohibition Can Be Enforced

No Difference Seen Between It and Other Laws

More Co-operation Sought With Local Officers

After three months' observation of country-wide prohibition from his post as national dry law administrator, Amos W. W. Woodcock said confidently here yesterday that "national prohibition laws can under existing general conditions be enforced to about the same degree of efficiency that other anticrime laws are being enforced. There is no question about it in my mind."

Col. Woodcock is on an inspection tour of prohibition enforcement districts that began in Washington, D. C., some weeks ago and will continue until some time in December, he said. He arrived in Los Angeles yesterday for a two-day stay and may return here later.

AIMS OF DEPARTMENT

"We have in our department," the national prohibition administrator said, "about one enforcement agent to every 65,000 or 70,000 inhabitants. Obviously they cannot do police work.

"What I want is to have our own force trained to operate efficiently in itself against especially the commercial element in the liquor business and to conduct investigations of the big liquor rings. The second big thing is to have our men effect co-operation among all local enforcement agencies, such as the State and community police. These are the two big ideas that I am trying to carry out.

"I have a very complete statistical knowledge of the enforcement situation among our own men in each district, but I am making this tour to meet the personnel face to face. I know of no particular problem in this district, but should I find one I shall not hesitate to do what I may to correct it. I do not know of any special change to follow my visit, but if the situation should warrant a change will be made."

MET BY WALKER

William Walker of San Francisco, administrator for this district, met the chief on arrival here from Chicago. The two went into conference at the colonel's room at the Roosevelt. Following that they called upon Deputy Peters, who directs local activities. Today Woodcock will meet many of the agents in conferences.

"Have any changes of consequence followed your visits to the various districts?" was asked of the administrator.

"Yes," said he, "there have been replacements in some high and low positions and some changing about."

He would venture no opinion about what may take place locally, except to say he comes with no innovation of consequence in mind but would not hesitate to institute one should he find one necessary.

HAWAII TO BE VISITED

"I must be in San Francisco to address a meeting Friday," Woodcock said, "so I will be here until about Thursday. I will go to Hawaii, where some very specific problems confront us. When I return I may go down along the Mexican border and acquaint myself more with the situation there."

Speaking of prohibition generally, Woodcock said he regards the matter of individual prohibition one to be dealt with through education. The government, he said, has undertaken to stop traffic in forbidden liquors and to end its commercial life. This, he predicts, will be done.

Mercury Goes Up for Spell

A high-pressure area which centered over Idaho yesterday routed the sea breezes to bring a high temperature of 89 deg. and a low of 61. The warm weather is expected to continue throughout today, but will become cooler as the high-pressure area is dissipated, according to Col. H. B. Hersey, government meteorologist.

Fair and warm today with low humidity and high fire hazard is the forecast.

PROTESTS DELAYED

The hearing of protests against the opening of Edison Place between Hellman avenue and Oakhill avenue was continued by the City Council yesterday until November 3.

YACHT HARBOR DEDICATED

Gala Celebration Marks Start of Driving Piles on Santa Monica's $2,500,000 Project

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 28.—Yachtsmen from practically every port on the Pacific Coast joined a throng of citizens in an impressive dedication ceremony today, when actual construction started on the new Santa Monica yacht harbor, a $2,500,000 project which will provide anchorage for 1200 pleasure craft behind a breakwater 2000 feet from the shore and extending northerly 3000 feet from a point 450 feet off the end of the Santa Monica Municipal Pier.

Beneath clear skies which were reflected in the sparkling waters of Santa Monica Bay, Mrs. D. G. Stephens, 94 years of age, "Mother of Santa Monica" to her fellow-townsmen, officially ushered in the construction work when she signaled for the first blow of a pile driver set up on the present end of the pier. Mayor Herman Michel crashed a beribboned bottle of ginger ale against the first piling as he formally dedicated the harbor "to the use of our health and recreation-loving people here and from all the ports of the world."

SPEAKERS ORATE

Judge Arthur A. Weber introduced as a pioneer of harbor projects for this city, lauded the Santa Monica Harbor Company, Ltd., a group of Southern Californians incorporated to finance and handle the harbor construction, and the engineer and designer, Taggart Aston. Weber, in turn, was lauded by Fred S. Wilson, Santa Monica's industrial secretary, who has been working in behalf of the project since its inception.

A full list of the directors given out during the day included C. F. DeWitt, Owen Churchill, Douglas L. Skelly, Charles E. Hewing, John P. Kennedy and Taggart Aston. Advisory board members named were Frank A. Garbutt, Harry Chandler, William May Garland, Norman Chandler and Claude I. Parker.

In his address Weber declared, "Nature cannot be conquered, but in this great development the Santa Monica Harbor Company is utilizing all the advantages offered by nature and converting them into a wonderful asset for mankind."

TODAY'S START

The first unit of the harbor construction, launched today, will extend the municipal pier a total distance of 450 feet beyond its present length of 1720 feet, making a total of 2170 feet from the shore. A suspension bridge will cross a gap of 150 feet to be left in the extension, making a connection between the shore and the first unit of the new breakwater, which is to be 1500 feet in length. An additional 1500 feet will be added when the present structure is completed by the end of next year, in time for the 1932 Olympic Games.

The breakwater itself, according to Taggart Aston, engineer and designer, is of the crib type. On a site selected at Long Beach where still water is available a series of enormous sections will be constructed of steel and concrete. Each section is to be 100 feet in length, 25 feet in depth and with a base width of 30 feet. The sections are of hollow, or honeycombed, construction, with air chambers making them buoyant.

They will be towed on pontoons to the selected position in Santa

SUPERVISOR QUINN BACK FROM EAST

Board to Take Up Lease of Park Acreage Monday as Result of His Return

Supervisor Quinn of the Fourth Supervisorial District of Los Angeles county returned home yesterday after five weeks spent in the East. While away Supervisor Quinn attended the national convention of the American Legion, of which he is a past national commander, which was held at Boston during the early part of the month.

Action on the part of the Board of Supervisors relative to leasing 355 acres of land at White's Point, known as the Royal Palms Acreage, for county park purposes, has been delayed pending the return of Supervisor Quinn. Following a conference between heads of civic bodies, County Counsel Mattoon and members of the board yesterday the matter was set over until next Monday for consideration by the Supervisors.

Quinn declared yesterday that he enjoyed his trip in the East. He spent considerable time studying playgrounds and recreational centers in the cities he visited.

A number of residents of the district Supervisor Quinn serves gave him a reception last night at the Sebastian Cotton Club.

MILLION GO TO MUSEUM DURING YEAR

Los Angeles Institution's Attendance Totals Given by Director Bryan

More than 1,000,000 persons visited the Los Angeles Museum during the fiscal year ending June 30, last, according to the annual report of Director W. A. Bryan filed yesterday with Board of Supervisors.

The report declares the attendance figures show that the institution is appreciated.

"The heaviest attendance for a single day," the report says, "was on February 16, 1929, when 10,420 people visited the museum. The 10,000 mark was approached on numerous Sundays of the year."

MAYOR TRAILING "LEAKS

Porter Names Committee to Find Out How Many Arrested Persons Escape Punishment

A commission or committee to investigate the "leaks," whereby arrested individuals escape prosecution has been selected by Mayor Porter and will begin to function shortly, the Mayor stated yesterday. The first meeting will be conducted shortly after the election.

The membership includes Municipal Judge Curtis and Chief Criminal Clerk Askin, Chief of Detectives Taylor, Police Captain Weyerman, commanding the vice division; Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart and Chief Deputy City Prosecutor Charles G. Young. Mayor Porter will complete the list.

The Mayor explained that at first he would call in all Municipal judges to discuss the situation, then decided he would accumulate data first. He said he was not prepared to say whether or not it is in the courts that the arrested man escapes punishment.

The grand jury, through Foreman Morris, declined to participate.

The survey will be limited to arrests by the police department and will follow the cases from the arrest to final disposition, to determine where the leak occurs.

The city's income from fines has shown a noticeable drop in the past few months, while the scale of arrests has been maintained.

CHEST WORKERS PILE IN $153,488

Determination and Pep Mark First Report Luncheon

Greetings From Cleveland Sounded by Guest

Los Angeles Clearinghouse Increases Donation

Confronted by the realization that a task requiring herculean effort lies before them, volunteer workers for the 1930 Community Chest campaign met at the Biltmore yesterday for the first report luncheon in the Sala de Oro and inspired a feeling of confidence that they will be capable of measuring up to that effort, judging from the expressions of determination and enthusiasm voiced on every side and from every quarter.

By way of more concrete evidence that the army of 15,000 workers, which loosed its forces upon the city Monday, has plunged into the fray with the will to win, was the general summary of the first day's work, which showed subscriptions totaling $153,488.06. This, added to the amount subscribed in the central division to date of $504,628, brings the grand total to $658,116.06, or 20.56 per cent of the total goal of $3,200,000. Of special interest was the subscription of the Los Angeles Clearinghouse for $110,000, an amount $10,000 in excess of its last year's gift. Further evidence that there is a realization in the public mind of the greater need this year was found in a list of more than seventy local concerns which have oversubscribed their quotas.

MILLION-DOLLOR GROUP

The million-dollar committee, so-called because of its quota of $1,150,000, headed by Mayor Porter, with Russell H. Ballard and Harry Chandler as leaders of the two groups in the committee, yesterday reported subscriptions totaling $293,000. Of this $262,000, including the $110,000 from the clearinghouse, was reported from Mr. Ballard's group, and Mr. Chandler's group reported $31,000.

Following an invocation by W. Bertrand Stevens, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Los Angeles, Campaign Chairman J. A. H. Kerr introduced S. M. Bond of Beverly Hills, retired business man of Cleveland, and formerly one of the moving spirits in the Cleveland Community Chest, as the speaker of the day.

CLEVELAND GREETINGS

Mr. Bond brought greetings from Cleveland and also the best wishes of that city for the success of the Los Angeles Chest campaign.

"Cleveland hopes," he said, "that Los Angeles not only will raise its quota of $3,200,000, but that she will add several thousand to that as a reserve fund for the Chest. In the eleven campaigns we have had, every one of which has been successful, we always have included at least $250,000 to $300,000 extra as a reserve fund. And it has always been needed. This year Cleveland has increased its quota from $4,650,000 to $5,400,000, and I have every confidence in the world that she will attain her goal. She will do it because the Chest there is as stabilized as the city government itself, and because the public is thoroughly sold on it as the best solution for taking care of the community's needy.

"How are you going to do your job this year? It is going to be a real struggle and the only way that it can be successfully accomplished is for every worker, from the most important man in the city to the very lowliest, to work harder and with greater inspiration than ever before. It is a responsibility which cannot be evaded and if we shirk it and the Chest fails, we shall all reap the whirlwind which is sure to follow. We cannot afford to stop until the last dollar is in."

GOES OVER THE TOP

In the reports from vice-chairman of the central division committees, whose total quota is $1,750,000, Will G. Farrell, vice-chairman of committee No. 18, announced that his group has gone over the top with 128 per cent of a quota of $13,300. Other groups which have started off with leaps and bounds are the residential district, reporting $11,285.15 for the first twenty-four hours of activity; Hollywood reporting $28,158.82 and the industrial district reporting $109,009.19.

From Van Nuys came the report that the construction division of the Bureau of Water Works and Supply, Department of Water and Power, was the first to subscribe toward the Van Nuys quota in the Chest cam-

CHILD OWES SCIENCE FOR LIFE TODAY

Surgeon's Instrument in Deft Hands Removes Bit of Bark From Lung

Nine-month-old Jimmie Charles is alive and kicking in his crib at the White Memorial Hospital today because of a modern surgical miracle performed by Dr. H. J. Hara, Japanese surgeon, who removed a large piece of bark from the child's lungs yesterday.

The child is the son of Mrs. Elsie Charles of 1720 Andreo street, Torrance. While playing on the floor on the 20th inst. the child picked up a piece of pepper tree bark which had blown in and placed it in his mouth. The substance entered his windpipe and lodged in the lungs.

The child was taken to the hospital and yesterday Dr. Hara performed the operation without anesthetics. He used a bronchoscope, an instrument fitted with a small electric light. The surgeon passed this down the infant's throat and windpipe until the light revealed the piece of bark. Then a pair of forceps were inserted down the instrument's hollow tube and the bark removed.

To enable the child to breathe during the operation the surgeon cut through the windpipe from the outside. Jimmie played about his crib yesterday with unconcern and had a smile for all visitors.

Octogenarian Likes to Fly

For three years Mrs. Sarah Clark, 87 years of age, local club and church leader of 1515 Monte Vista street, has wanted to travel by air but it wasn't until yesterday that her family gave permission.

Accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Stella Van Alstine, she flew to San Francisco aboard a thirty-two passenger Fokker transport of Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc.

She sent a telegram home on arrival at the Bay City declaring the trip was a "remarkable experience and I am going to fly to my old home in New York this winter."

REZONING ISSUE PUT OFF

After considerable acrimonious argument, the City Council yesterday continued until November 17 the matter of rezoning for industrial purposes a two-block stretch of Stanford avenue between Washington and Twenty-third streets.

OIL FIELD FEE DENOUNCED

Two Hundred Companies Protest to Council on Plan to Tax Well Licenses

In a communication signed by some 200 of the leading oil companies, the California Oil and Gas Association is protesting to the City Council against the proposed Venice oil field ordinance which is to be reconsidered by the Council Friday. The communication follows, in part:

"It has come to the attention of the oil operators doing business and paying taxes in this city and county, that your honorable body, in order to meet increased expenditures of the police, fire, and street departments of this city, rendered necessary by drilling operations in the Venice oil field, proposes to levy a permanent license fee of 1 per cent of the gross annual receipts of all operators doing business in the city of Los Angeles.

"The license fee proposed, if our information be correct, bears no fair relation to the purpose for which it was conceived. It does not take into account the amount of such expenditures, or the estimated aggregate amount of the license fees and it is not confined to the Venice field, and it is a charge which will continue to exist after the troubles complained of have been reduced to a minimum.

"The oil industry, as carried on in the city of Los Angeles, is one of the principal sources of employment and revenue found in this community. Indeed, the oil fields at Venice alone, in the matter of increase in general taxable values and also in the employment of labor and the creation of wealth, is of prime importance to our people.

"Each producing well, according to an unofficial but very conservative estimate, will probably be taxed as to the mineral rights on an average value of at least $40,000 and, if there be 300 wells in the entire field, the mineral tax alone derived from this source will exceed $525,000 per year. While this will be proportioned to the county and school fund, as well as to the general funds of the city, it represents a very large increase in taxable values. Certainly so large an increase in the taxable values of the city produced by this field entitles

IF THE City Council could stop getting inspirations for a while we would all be happier. The latest is a law to forbid fortune telling.

The sole result of this law will be to deprive the city of revenue. The type of fortune teller at whom the law is directed will go on peering through the veil just the same—only they will bootleg the mysteries of the future. The police have plenty to do as it is without spending their time hiding under tables to find out if a palmist is telling a giggling young lady about a dark man who is coming into her life.

STILL HOPE

There is nothing really to be discouraged about. The Cudahy divorce suit shows Hollywood divorcees can still faint.

LEY DE FUGA

In Mexico City they once had an orgy of gangsters like ours. A young man named Roberto Cruz was appointed Chief of Police. He sent for the Mexican Al Capone and gave him his choice; he could be a police official with much money and honor, or he could be lined up against a brick wall and shot. After due reflection he decided to be a cop.

Thereupon the famous "ley de fuga" went into effect. Every time a crook was arrested the newspapers announced the next morning that he had unfortunately attempted to escape and had been killed.

Thre was a street in Mexico City so tough that no one dared walk down it in midday. On a morning the newspapers announced that all the crooks in a certain notorious house had unfortunately got into a free fight and had all killed each other.

According to the generally accepted figures 175 thugs were killed in two months. Before Roberto Cruz quit the job to become a revolutionist you could safely trundle a wheelbarrow filled with diamonds down that street at midnight.

MOVIE BUNK

I dare say the swindlers should all be arrested, or something; but generally speaking it would seem that any sap who would invest money in a movie on the promise that he (or usually she) would be starred in a great role is manna sent from heaven for the support and succor of the unrighteous.

"FORGET THE WAR"

The British government has asked all visitors to put the soft pedal on ceremonies at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier; they want to make a concerted effort to forget the war.

As a general theme song, this may be well enough, but it is a little tough on the soldiers who were not unknown. At the time they certainly would not have considered it good military policy to tell a fellow about to go over the top: "Go on out and get killed; we will see to it that you are forgotten right away."

Napoleon said that if you take the medals, decorations and honors out of war you will never get men to fight. As a business proposition (if you are going to reduce it to that) war is the bunk.

HEADS WHIRLY AT WHIZ-BANG

"Times" Laugh-fest Draws Capacity Crowd

They Came Early and Stayed Until Wee Hours

One Chuckle After Another Best Tells Story

"Come on peeepulll—the line is forming—get your tickets for the greatest show on earth—dance with the pretty girls—watch the pretty girls dance—take home a ham for breakfast—win a box of candy—all for the small sum of a nickel, a half a dime, the twentieth part of a dollar."

And so it went far into the night. The Times staff and their friends were enjoying themselves at their Whiz-Bang in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway. The editorial staff of The Times was showing other departments of the paper how to conduct a benefit affair, the proceeds going to the Welfare Committee of the Mutual Benefit Association.

The hall was crowded from early in the evening with merrymakers. In the center of it the taxi dancers held sway and danced with those who paid for the pleasure. Surrounding the hall were the booths. In the corner Los Angeles' horrors were graphically shown and many who witnessed them didn't feel at all sleepy until early in the morn.

Hula-hula dancers furnished their own brand of entertainment. Hungry ones were provided for; in fact, nothing for the entertainment or comfort of The Times' employees and guests was missing.

Children watched with apparent nervousness the leopard, caged with the fox terrier, expecting the little dog to be devoured, but they waited in vain, for the two were pals. Monkeys gave the little ones many a laugh. Everything was complete and the editorial department was congratulated on the result of its effort in offering a novel, successful benefit.

The Times employees made sport of one another and things in general in the Whizz Bang Times, a four-page burlesque on their daily "bread and butter." A thousand copies of this paper were sold and tens of thousands of laughs resulted. The sheet created a tremendous hit, especially with those familiar with The Times family.

In gathering together the array of talent for the event The Times obtained the services of many outside the organization. These included Al Copeland, who generously tendered his entire show; Roosevelt High School orchestra, under the direction of Frank Williams, and through the compliments of Principal T. H. Elson and Mrs. Helen Aiel, head of the music department; Louise Dresser, stage and screen star; aid from First National, Paramount, R.-K.-O., Universal, Pathe, M.-G.-M., Harold Lloyd, Christie, Fox and Schenck studios; R.-K.-O. and Orpheum theaters, Alma Hall and Royal Hawaiian Trio, Jetta Mae, Mazie Rush and Edna Yancy, Sandra Sanderson, world-famous fortune teller; the Newsboys' Quartet, KHJ radio entertainers, R. E. (Tex) Madsen, world's tallest man; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Klinkhart, world's smallest couple; Salmanoff and White, Apache dancers; Mitchell and Redmond, tap dancers; Frank Titsworth, pianist and composer, and the motion-picture players from various studios.

The following firms contributed freely: Max Factor & Co., with Joe Bennen, Sam Kaufman and Monty Westmore, in charge of make-up; Western Novelty Company, Platt Music Company, Barnes Music Company, Western Costume Company, Al G. Barnes Circus, Selig Zoo, Johnson Truck Company, Vickman's Restaurant and the Eastside Beverage Company.

Not the least of the features contributing to the enlivenment of the evening was the presentation of various film stars and players. Cliff (Ukulele Ike) Edwards was on hand early with his musical crooning. Fred Scott, popular on both stage and screen, also sang, and Harry Green, dialect comedian, told one of his amusing Hebrew anecdotes. El Brendel, the male Swedish nightingale, talked over the microphone.

Louise Dresser was nominated "queen of the dance hall," and among the many other cinema folk present were Maureen O'Sullivan, James and Lucile Webster Gleason, Arthur Lake, Barbara Weeks, Claudia Dell, Evelyn Knapp, Rita Le Roy, Jose Crespo, June McCloy, Dorothy Lee, Alice White and Victor Potel.

Introductions were made also of Anita Page, June Collyer, Evelyn Pierce, Philippe De Lacy and Jack Gardiner. A telegram of regret from Ramon Novarro was read.

Max Feierstein supervised the make-up for the many who took part. He represented the Max Factor organization.

it to have some increased fire, police and street service, and the increased tax will far more than compensate the city for its increased expenditures.

"We call the attention of your honorable body to the fact that the supremacy of the business in the great harbor of the city of Los Angeles, as compared with other cities on this coast and in the United States, is due very largely to the vast tonnage, both incoming and outgoing, supplied by the oil industry, and in addition to this the oil operators furnish employment for large numbers of our citizens and use and consume power, light, water and other items furnished by our public utilities and by the city itself, which represent vast volumes of money.

"It is, therefore, certain in our view that your honorable body will take all steps necessary to protect and foster, rather than to hamper and injure, a business of such great importance to the prosperity of the community. This is especially true in this era of depression and unemployment.

"May we respectfully ask your honorable body that no hasty action be taken in this matter? The oil industry has always been willing to assume and to pay promptly its civic obligations. Through the California Oil and Gas Association, we now offer to consult and co-operate with your committees and the City Attorney in reaching a fair solution of the problem which has brought forth the proposed ordinance."

NAVY PLANE PILOT DIES OF INJURIES

Toll of Crash Increases to Two When Death Takes Lieut. Anderson

Lieut. Oddie W. Anderson died on the hospital ship Relief early yesterday from injuries received the previous day when a navy plane crashed after catapulting off the battleship Idaho, instantly killing Ensign Glenn Lee Desch, U.S.N.R., riding with him.

Findings of the boards of inquiry and inquest into the tragedy are expected this morning. Anderson was the senior aviation officer on the Idaho and was wrestling coach on the ship. He was appointed to the United States Naval Academy from Missouri and was graduated in 1927. His widow, a witness to the crash, resides at 2247 Pacific avenue, Long Beach. The body is at Goodrich-Halverson's mortuary, San Pedro, pending funeral arrangements.

not at stake ended in March, 1929. The contestant did not win a prize.

Taken from the text of his modification plan, the following observations were made by Mr. Young on his projected amendment to the Eighteenth Amendment:

"No plan as a substitute for prohibition can be of any value unless it is legally possible of operation. This cannot occur so long as the Eighteenth Amendment remains in its present form. Therefore, the plan must involve a modification of that amendment.

"It is the purpose of the writer to suggest a plan by which the prohibitory provisions of the Eighteenth Amendment will remain in force with the modification thereof, however, to the effect that Congress shall have the power of regulation thereunder. If regulation should produce better results than the attempt at a full measure of enforcement, under the present legal situation, it should be satisfactory to the contending forces on both sides of the vital question. If a regulatory system failed to improve the situation, Congress could raise the bar to the full extent of enforcement provided by the Eighteenth Amendment. The proposed modification would also leave to each State the power, if it so desired, to enact laws for total prohibition within its own boundaries.

"Under the new scheme, the business has not been suppressed—the habit has not been abated. It is fair to presume that no matter what their personal views may be with reference to the prohibition question, the people will take into consideration the conditions existing before and those wrought by the Eighteenth Amendment and in the light thereof, seek the best system possible under all the circumstances.

"The difficulty with the new experiment is that it was not realized that it was an experiment and, as such, was incapable of enforcement by ukase. Congress was created by the founders of this government for the very purpose of enacting experimental and regulatory laws to meet any situation that might arise, with the power of amendment, modification and repeal as experience required, always subject to the will of the people.

"PROVOCATION OF CRIME"

"The fact that the liquor traffic has been made illegal in all of its aspects is the provocative cause of graft, bribery, official corruption, blackmail, bootlegging, hijacking and crimes of various kinds, as they naturally fall in the wake of a blazoned trail of unusual and extraordinary profit. With regulation by Congress, this money profit would disappear and with it the offenses and crimes mentioned.

"Under the plan suggested it is believed that better conditions with reference to the traffic in and use of intoxicating beverages would exist than prevail under existing conditions, and the advance of temperance made possible. The ever-present ability of Congress to enforce absolute prohibition would act as a deterrent upon a misuse of the limited privileges extended under modified legislation."

Banker Drinks Fatal Potion

J. R. Sutherland, 35 years of age, of 735 South Orange Drive, investment banker, ended his life with poison last night at his home, police announced.

Detective Lieutenants Parker and Harper of the Wilshire Division were told by Mrs. Katherine Sutherland, the widow, she had been called to the telephone while in the midst of remonstrating with her husband over his drinking.

Mr. Sutherland stepped into the bathroom, drank the poison and was dead in a few moments.

STECKEL LEADS IN CHIEF TESTS

Police Department's Head Passes Examination

Board Expected to Confirm His Appointment

Quizzes Grow Too Hard, Commissioners Told

Chief of Police Steckel, holding the emergency appointment for that office, led all other candidates in the civil service test for Chief, according to the list tentatively approved yesterday by the Los Angeles Civil Service Commission. Only two passed, the other being Inspector David A. Davidson.

Steckel's grade was 79.8 and Davidson's 79.4, includig ten credits for military service. The other four who survived the written test but failed in the oral test, which was conducted by the Civil Service Commission as an examining body, were Capt. L. J. Ammon, with 70.8 credits; Capt. W. H. Behrendt, 65.7; Capt. E. R. Cato, 65.2, and Detective Lieutenant A. R. Kallmeyer, with 69.8.

Eleven applicants, including one civilian, took the written test.

Providing there are no protests filed, the Civil Service Commission next week will certify the names of Steckel and Davidson on the eligible list, and the Police Commission will make a selection for the permanent appointment of a Chief of Police. It was regarded as a foregone conclusion in City Hall circles that Steckel will receive the permanent appointment, since the test had been postponed for almost a year at the desire of the administration to enable him to prepare for the commission.

Tests for members of the police department are getting too technical, according to the statement of Clifford Britton, member of the Civil Service Commission, in a statement to that body yesterday. He pointed out that in the recent test for detective lieutenants seven of the questions could not be answered and had to be disregarded.

"It's getting so a man will have to take a post-graduate course in something to become a patrolman," he said.

At his suggestion the commission postponed for thirty days the test for police sergeants pending a conference on the method of grading. He contended that ninety-five credits for the written test and five for the oral would be out of all proportion. Under such a plan, he said, experience would count for little, while applicants fresh from school would have the advantage.

CARDINAL TO RETURN FOR FETE TODAY

Churchman at San Diego Will Arrive for Doheny Banquet and Reception

Patrick Cardinal Hayes, highest ranking Catholic dignitary in America, who came here last week to celebrate solemn pontifical mass in St. Vincent's Church Sunday, will return to Los Angeles today from San Diego, where he spent the past twenty-four hours at the Hotel del Coronado.

The motor cars in which Cardinal Hayes and members of his party are traveling will pause at noon beside the crumbling walls of historic San Juan Capistrano Mission, and there, flanked by his fellow-ecclesiastics, the prelate will take luncheon within the cloister. In the party are Archbishop Edward J. Hanna of San Francisco, Bishop Cantwell of the diocese of Los Angeles and San Diego, Mgr. Stephen Donahue, the Cardinal's secretary, Mgr. John Cawley, vicar-general of the local diocese, Mgr. Cantwell and Rev. William Cantwell of San Francisco, brothers of Bishop Cantwell, and Rev. Michael O'Gorman.

The luncheon over, the party will proceed directly to Los Angeles, where Cardinal Hayes probably will rest in preparation for the dinner and reception in his honor this evening to be given by Edward L. Doheny. This affair, to be given at the Doheny estate on Doheny Drive, Beverly Hills, will be attended by some sixty guests representing the clergy and laity of the Southland.

Tentative plans provide for the Cardinal's departure for the East following the reception.

'MIXED BALLOTS' STIR G.O.P. IRE

Young-Merriam Line-up Also Stirs Marshall Hale

State Republican Chief Here for Rolph, Who's Ill

Emphatic repudiation was given yesterday by Marshall Hale of San Francisco, chairman of the Republican State Committee, to attempts to couple the names of James Rolph, Jr., the Republican nominee for Governor, with that of Martin I. Welsh, the Democratic nominee for Lieutenant-Governor.

Similar condemnation of circulation of marked ballots carrying the name of Senator Frank F. Merriam, the Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor along with Milton K. Young, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, was expressed by Mr. Hale, who is in Southern California to represent Mayor Rolph because of the latter's illness.

Both Mayor Rolph and Senator Merriam, as well as the State G. O. P. organization, not only disclaim the efforts to couple their names with the Democratic nominees, Mr. Hale said, but are appealing strongly to all Republicans in California to support the G. O. P. ticket from Governor down to Assemblyman.

JUST ONE ISSUE

"In some counties of Southern California, I am informed, a ballot urging a vote for Milton K. Young for Governor and for Senator Merriam for Lieutenant-Governor is in circulation, and in others a ticket purporting to support Rolph and Welsh has appeared," said Mr. Hale.

"There is no issue in this campaign except that of whether the citizens of the State desire a Republican or a Democratic administration," he asserted.

"Now and since the primary the Republicans have presented a united front for the Rolph-Merriam ticket. They will present such a front at the polls on election day.

"The coupling of the names of Mr. Young and Senator Merriam is strongly reminiscent of Mr. Young's political motives and morals in filing his name as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor and then attempting to withdraw it from the Republican ballot after it was legally too late.

"The coupling of the name of Mr. Welsh with that of Mayor Rolph is a political creature of a similar stripe.

"Mr. Rolph and Mr. Merriam wish me to advise the voters that they wholly and emphatically repudiate these attempts."

SPEECH MADE

Following his arrival here, Chairman Hale conferred with Mendel B. Silberberg, Southern California campaign director for the State committee, and at noon, substituting for Mayor Rolph spoke at a mass meeting of Long Beach citizens in the Municipal Auditorium there along with Senator Merriam, State Senator J. W. McKinley and other Republican leaders.

After the Long Beach meeting Senator Merriam, Mr. Hale and others in the party appeared at a mass meeting in Wilmington and this afternoon they will speak at a meeting of Santa Monica citizens on the municipal pier, later attending dinners in Glendale and Pasadena.

The Pasadena Republican Club will be host at the gathering in that city. Senator Merriam, Mr. Hale and others will deliver addresses at a dinner scheduled for the Maryland at 6 p.m.

DINNER IN GLENDALE

Later in the evening the party will visit a dinner given by the Fifty-first Assembly District Republican county central committeemen at the Glendale Masonic Temple. C. Newell Carns is in charge of arrangements and Judge Rex B. Goodcell will be toastmaster.

John L. McNab, San Francisco orator who nominated President Hoover at the 1928 Republican national convention in Kansas City will be the principal speaker at the luncheon meeting at the Alexandria tomorrow noon under the auspices of the women's division of the Republican State Committee, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. O. P. Clark, division director.

Mr. McNab will arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow morning from San Francisco and will be met by Director Silberberg and other Republican leaders. He will remain in Southern California until Saturday and will speak over radio KNX tomorrow at 6:45 p.m.

Mark Requa, personal friend of President Hoover, will arrive in Los Angeles this morning from the north to aid in the Rolph-Merriam campaign in this section.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS PREDICT GREAT VICTORY

More than 1000 Republican leaders from all parts of Southern California, meeting in a pre-election rally under the auspices of the Southern Counties Republican Central Committee here tonight, cheered Marshall Hale of San Francisco when, as chairman of the State organization, he urged a record Republican vote Tuesday as a vote of confidence for President Hoover.

Almost the entire Republican ticket of the south was represented, headed by Frank F. Merriam, nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, who expressed the regret of Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, gubernatorial nominee, that necessity for a complete rest prevented his attendance.

Merriam declared the candidates of the Republican party have won their nominations in the manner provided by law and the rules of the party and are entitled to the vote on Tuesday of every Republican.

State Treasurer Johnson praised the spirit of Southern California and urged a vote on Tuesday that will be a message to the nation that California will be solidly behind Herbert Hoover in 1932 for another term as President.

Joseph Scott predicted that the Republicans of Southern California will "come through as usual" on election day with a tremendous Republican majority. Tom Talbert of Orange county, chairman of the southern committee, presided.

INDIAN ADMITS KILLING MAN

Youth Stoically Describes Shooting of Olson as Officer Hunts Bootleggers on Reservation

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 28. (Exclusive)—Clarence Hyde, 19-year-old Indian youth, confessed here this afternoon that he shot and killed Oscar Olson, special officer of the Department of the Interior, when the latter visited his home early last Sunday morning.

Hyde is a son of John Hyde and was one of more than a dozen Indians in his father's home on the Morongo Indian reservation who were celebrating the close of a week of tribal rites and festivities.

The youthful Indian, stoical and sullen, refused to give any particular reason for the murder of the officer, according to Dist.-Atty Ford. He said that when Olson and Chief of Police Hopkins of the reservation entered the house he slipped out into the back yard taking the .32 caliber rifle with him. "I hid in the bushes," Hyde said, "and as he came backing out the front door I fired and killed him."

Young Hyde made his confession after he was arrested and questioned by Department of Justice Investigator Winstead, Sheriff Sweeters and Dist.-Atty. Ford, according to the officials. The Indian was found hiding on the reservation, having fled from his father's home at the time of the shooting.

Olson was killed not while on a search for liquor, as first reported, but as he was searching for two bootleggers who had been supplying the Indians with alcohol which they had been drinking during their festivities.

An independent investigation of the murder was conducted by Dr. Berto Olson of Los Angeles, brother of the slain man.

"Oscar," said his brother, "was working as an officer of the Department of Interior and had been assigned to Indian service. He was ordered to the Morongo Reservation after complaints had been received that the Indians were getting drunk on alcohol during their fiesta.

"He found that two Indians who did not belong to the reservation were bringing in booze and selling it to them. He located the two men and then searched their car but found nothing. He then ordered them off the reservation and told them not to return.

"About three or four hours later Olson discovered one of the men sitting in the car a few miles from the place where he had ordered them to get off. The Indian in the automobile said that he couldn't leave because his partner, who was in a shack near by, had the key to the car. Olson with the aid of an Indian policeman started for the shack to get the partner and make him leave the district.

"After entering the shack Olson was asked by one of the men inside as to what right he had to enter without a search warrant. Olson told them that he had not come to search the place but to get the booze seller off the reservation. Seeing that the men were becoming threatening Olson drew his gun and backed out of the shack.

"He stumbled while going out and fell to the ground. The Indian policeman had relaxed his guard and one of the men in the shack picked up one of the rifles laying about the room and shot at Olson. He was killed instantly."

Funeral services for the murdered officer will be conducted at Buxton, N. D., his old home, and where his widow and three children reside. The body will be started for that place tomorrow, with last rites on Monday.

Bootleggers' Revenge Tough on Policemen

Even vicarious revenge must be sweet. Vicente Gonzales and Vicente Hernandez, arrested last night at 117½ North Utah street by police, who seized 9000 bottles of beer and 100 gallons of whisky, smiled broadly when two automobiles and a big truck, loaded with their confiscated liquor, were unable to get under way.

While the police were loading the machines with the contraband, friends of the two arrested men slashed the tires of all three machines to ribbons. At least Officers Griffith, Jordon and King of the Hollenbeck Heights station, who made the raid, believe it was friends of the two asserted bootleggers. They were positive that the ones who did it were not friendly to them at least.

The dwelling raided was a two-story house and it was well filled with beer and whisky, the officers declared. It took a large squad of men two hours to clear the structure and load the trucks. The two men are charged with Wright Act possession.

Chicago Opera Company Here Next February

The Chicago Civic Opera company, which opened its winter season in Chicago last Monday, will play a week's engagement in Los Angeles at the Shrine Auditorium the last week of February, according to an announcement by L. E. Behymer yesterday. The return of the company after an absence of two seasons will bring several new stars already known in the East and Europe.

Included in the list of artists are Frida Leider, Alexander Kipnis, Theodore Strack, Sonia Sharnova, Emma Redell, and the Spanish coloratura, Margherita Salvi, who scored a success last season on tour for the first time with the Chicago forces.

Claudio Muzio, Tito Schipa, Maria Olszewska, Chase Baromeo, Richard Bonelli, Charles Marshall, Coe Glade, Cesare Formichi, and other favorites of the Chicago company will be cast for the roles which are associated with their names.

John Charles Thomas, who sang with the Los Angeles Opera company a few weeks ago, also will be heard.

SANTA MONICA PROJECT BEGUN

Monica Bay, then sunk by filling the air chambers with sand. Aston stated the plant at Long Beach will be capable of turning out a 100-foot section every two weeks. Each section will weigh 1500 tons. When completed, the top of the sea wall will be in steps, making a long line of seats for spectators of coming aquatic events in the harbor. Aston's design has been used at Barcelona, Spain, and in many other large ports.

Owen Churchill, capitalist and sportsman, owner of the famous eight-meter yacht Angelita, declared the Santa Monica project offers a yachting and aquatic sports harbor unrivaled on either coast. He pointed to the lofty palisades towering along the shore, where unlimited thousands of spectators can observe yacht races and other events. This natural viewpoint will be augmented by the seats to be built along the sea wall itself.

Churchill expressed his conviction that many of the Olympic Games events will be held at the Santa Monica Harbor. He diagrammed a triangular course of six miles, two miles to each leg, starting at a point off the north end of the new sea wall. Twice around this triangle, he declared, will be the distance required in Olympic yachting competition. The first leg will take contesting yachts up the shore line in full view of the spectators. The next leg will be seaward, and the return to the starting point.

Churchill and other visiting yachtsmen declared they have already arranged for berthing space and privileges in the harbor.

Today's ceremony concluded with a formal banquet at the Deauville Beach Club, where the directors of the harbor corporation played host to 300 guests, including State, city and county officials, leading business and professional men and well-known yachtsmen from many Pacific ports. Fireworks on shore and from vessels at sea extended all the way from Del Dey to the Malibu. Flares and signal bombs were set off from the thirteen-story Santa Monica Bay Guaranty Building and at other points.

FULFILLMENT OF DREAM

At the banquet the speakers generally lauded the project as most noteworthy and the fulfillment of Santa Monica's dream of many years to create the greatest harbor exclusively for pleasure in the United States.

Frank Garbutt, noted sportsman, said that he had known the harbor for forty-two years, since the days Collis P. Huntington contemplated a commercial harbor at Santa Monica and he declared that the present project will be of greater value to Southern California than the Huntington project, had it succeeded.

Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan congratulated the city and company on the start of the breakwater, and pointed out its inestimable value to the forthcoming Olympic Games.

All the speakers asserted their belief that the yachtsmen of the Pacific Coast would welcome the new yachting harbor and a fine sailing area—one of constantly favorable breezes and free from storms—a place of great natural features for such "a great water stadium."

OTHER SPEAKERS

Others who spoke glowingly of the construction of the harbor were Arthur A. Weber of Huntington Palisades; Fred S. Wilson, industrial secretary of Santa Monica; Cliff Henderson, managing director of the National Air Races; Dr. Albert Solland, senior flag officer of the Southern California Yachting Association; Charles E. Hewing of the board of directors; Commodore George Radford of the Southern California Yachting Association and chairman of the Olympic Games Yachting Committee; Claude I. Parker; Commodore Pierpont Davis of the California Yacht Club; John P. Kennedy and Charles S. De Witt of the board of directors; Commodore Churchill, the noted racer, who spoke also at the opening ceremonies; Ted Geary, Seattle boat designer, and Mr. Aston, the designer and engineer of the project.

NOISES

The real trouble with the city health department's anti-noise campaign is this: That the impulse to make rackets is a symptom rather than a cause of shattered nerves. It is rather ghastly to see a crowd of motorists waiting at a traffic signal. They can't endure the wait of five seconds between the first and second bell, so cracked up are their nerves.

Long Beach Man Succumbs to Oil Refinery Burns

LONG BEACH, Oct. 28. (Exclusive)—Cecil O. Buffman, 46 years of age, of 710 East Fifth street, died at Seaside Hospital here tonight from burns received earlier in the evening in the Texaco refinery at Wilmington.

Apparently Buffman was injured in the ordinary pursuit of his duties as the harbor fire departments had no reports of an explosion in the refinery.

Famous Old Bar Damaged by Fire

The old Jim Jeffries bar at 324 South Spring street, and now occupied by the R. Gersch restaurant, was damaged by fire to the extent of $2000 last night.

This once noted sporting rendezvous, where the former world's champion boxer held forth, was famous all over the West in preprohibition days. The structure is owned by E. L. Caress.

The fire started in a store room at the rear of the restaurant which was closed for the day and spread to a rooming-house on the second floor. Most of the damage was to the restaurant, the loss in the upper floors being slight, police reported. The origin of the fire is unknown.

EMBEZZLEMENT SUSPECT SEIZED

Mississippi Bank Clerk Hunt Believed Ended

Youth Accused of $72,000 Cash Theft

Banker Recognizes Him From Picture

H. EDWARD JACKSON

With the arrest yesterday of a man who gave his name as Harry Edwards, 25 years of age, Captain of Detectives McMahon of the police fugitive detail, and C. T. Rule of the Burns Detective Agency declare they have ended a nation-wide search for H. Edward Jackson, wanted by Federal authorities for absconding with $72,000 in cash from the First National Bank of Laurel, Miss.

While the suspect admitted his identity as Jackson, according to Capt. McMahon, shortly after he was taken into custody at the Roosevelt Hotel, he insisted his name was Edwards when booked at the City Jail as a fugitive. McMahon and Rule both declared Edwards has been identified as Jackson by photographs circulated throughout the country.

Jackson, according to McMahon, was cashier and manager of the Laurel bank and in that capacity embezzled the $72,000 with which he left the institution August 11, last. The money, according to information in the hands of police, was to have been used as a pay roll in several Mississippi lumber camps. As a result of the asserted embezzlement Jackson was indicted by the United States grand jury at Meridian, Miss.

A week ago Edwards made two large deposits in Hollywood branch banks, according to McMahon, and the manager of one of the banks reported to Rule that he thought he recognized Edwards as Jackson from the latter's picture in a bank circular. Rule obtained the aid of the police and in the ensuing investigation Edwards was found to have purchased an automobile here and left for San Francisco Saturday. He was traced to the northern city and back here yesterday. He was registered at the Roosevelt Hotel as Edwards, McMahon said.

The suspect at once asked for an attorney and refused to make any statement regarding the indictment, McMahon declares. Examination of the bank deposits will be made today. Edwards would say only that he was here to invest money in Hollywood motion-picture ventures.

Child Awarded $4000 Damages

A judgment of $4000 was awarded late yesterday to Harvey Tuttle, Jr., 7 years of age, by a jury in Superior Judge Keetch's court. The boy sued the Columbia Laundry Company, J. J. Hutchinson, an official, and A. Barkin, driver of a truck. Young Tuttle complained that in a collision between his father's car and a laundry truck at Broadway and One Hundred and Sixth street on May 2, 1929, he suffered concussion of the brain. His suit was for $25,000 damages.

Today's Bible Text

Let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing.—Jas. 1:4.

JOSHING THE RUBES

This new Ambassador to Mexico, Joshua Reuben Clark, is a mighty fine fellow and his name suggests that at the time of his christening rural America was a vital force.

THEY GET THEIRS

The complaining witness says that much of the rosy talk about the real prosperity of the nation falls from the lips of those who have theirs so anchored that no one can take it away from them.

THE LONG SILENCE

In connection with these endurance contests here is a woman who has not spoken a word for sixty-two years. It is explained, however, that she has been deaf and dumb all her life. We knew there was a catch in it somewhere.

FRANCE AND ITALY

France is not entirely willing to take care of a $50,000,000 loan for Italy. Of course it might be considered as an insurance policy, but the Italians are a rather fiery people and could be classed as a special hazard. The French would be properly peeved if any of the dough should be used in campaigning against them.

A HOT SPORT

As an indication of thoughtful courtesy it is mentioned that the new Emperor of Ethiopia provided a line of dice games, slot machines and roulette wheels for the entertainment of the American delegation to the coronation ceremonies. In a big game country like Abyssinia the crap shooting should be good.

THE GERMAN BALANCE

According to advices from Berlin the trade balance of Germany for the first nine months of this year is nearly a billion marks in that country's favor. This is the first time in four years that the balance has been on that side of the ledger. The country seems to be doing fairly well. This is no time for the Hitlers to be raving.

THE RED CRUSADERS

Soviet students who were coming to this country as industrial observers under the auspices of the Amtorg Trading Corporation were turned back at the border on assertions that all the way over they had been preaching and spreading the gospel of the commune. They assured everybody that the soviet was responsible for the disturbances in China and India and would keep up the work until those lands were revolutionized. They even sought to show that they had something to do in connection with the tangles in South America. Somehow or other a Communist can never keep his theories to himself. They will not keep quiet. They are opposed to existing forms of government and they want everybody to know it.

FREIGHT WASTE REDUCED

According to the freight claims division of the American Railway Association, freight in transit on the railroads of this country in 1929 was damaged to the extent of $37,432,966, or about $3,100,000 a month. Commenting on this report, The Times recently remarked editorially that much of this waste doubtless could have been prevented if more care had been employed. The recommendation was made that the Pacific Coast shippers' advisory board might make a study of the situation with benefit to its members.

In this connection local Union Pacific traffic officials call attention to the fact that from 1920 to 1928 the national loss and damage bill was reduced from $120,000,000 to $35,200,000 by the railroads themselves. The railroad's statement includes this paragraph:

> It is true that the year 1929 shows an increase of approximately $900,000, but this increase was due to a remarkable increase in traffic for the year 1929 as compared with 1928 of approximately $200,000,000, and the ratio of claim payments to revenue shows no increase.

It will be good news to shippers to learn that while freight waste in the past has been large it is being reduced by the railroads in proportion to the volume of traffic.

ELECTION OF JUDGES

More than the ordinary importance attaching to the election of members of the local Superior Court is involved in the current campaign of seven incumbent judges for re-election. Each of the incumbents is opposed, and, hence, the interest and welfare of the public not only are concerned with the qualifications and fitness of the incumbents, but also with the methods, fitness and purposes of their opponents.

The incumbent judges seeking re-election, and their opponents, are: Judge Keetch, opposed by Attorney Ida May Adams; Judge Shaw, opposed by Attorney C. F. Reiche; Judge Hardy, opposed by Municipal Judge Turney; Judge Bishop, opposed by Attorney Walter B. Thompson; Judge Crawford, opposed by Municipal Judge Valentine; Judge Hanby, opposed by Municipal Judge Stafford, and Judge Hazlett, opposed by Municipal Judge Sheldon.

Because of conditions which never should enter into judicial contests, the judgeships at stake in this campaign not only involve the merits of the individual candidates, but have a very strong and definite bearing upon the independence of the courts as an institution of fearless and abstract justice.

Superior judges whose private lives and official service are exemplary in every respect, whose abilities, honesty and courage are recognized, and whose records as members of the judiciary have won them the respect and confidence of all disinterested persons acquainted with court procedure, have been traduced, maligned and held up to public scorn by irresponsible, dangerous and mendacious attackers.

An attempt is being defiantly made in this community to so inflame and mislead public opinion as to make sensible and intelligent selection of judges a difficult undertaking. If this attempt succeeds, as it certainly will succeed if the electorate is misled or confused, or inflamed, the entire machinery of the courts will be threatened and justice will be in jeopardy.

Regardless of the value or the venality of the respective backers of the various judicial candidates, the qualities and capacities of the candidates themselves should be the determining factors.

The Times, regarding the service as a public duty and obligation, herewith recommends the re-election of all the incumbents.

With respect to Judges Keetch, Bishop, Shaw and Hazlett, the bench possesses no finer or more reliable jurists, and they are facing formidable opposition at this time almost entirely by reason of their refusal to follow the foolish, meddlesome, destructive and dictatorial demands of a public scold, whose chief criticism is based on the indorsement given these candidates by the Bar Association.

Aside from the injustice to these able and conscientious judges that would attend their retirement under such circumstances, the public service would suffer a genuine loss.

Judge Crawford is completing his first term on the Superior Court bench, having been elevated to his present position from a lower court. His service has been honest, earnest and conscientious. In the eagerness of Municipal Judge Valentine to succeed Judge Crawford, Valentine has adopted campaigning methods which reflect upon his sincerity, judgment and sense of fair play.

Elements of misrepresentation of Valentine's official status have entered into this contest and in specific instances the public has been encouraged to believe that Valentine is a Superior Court judge—an office to which he has never been elected.

Methods men use to gain office sometimes reveal what might occur if such methods prove successful. In Valentine's case, his campaign devices alone justify his defeat.

Judge Hanby, indorsed by the bar associations of the city and county, is opposed by Municipal Judge Stafford, who is well regarded by reason of his service in the lower tribunal. Should Hanby be retired by the election of Stafford, the higher bench will lose an incumbent whose experience and training are of value. Success for Judge Hanby, however, will not result in loss of place by Stafford. Hence, as the question of merit between them is not vital, good public policy would seem to dictate retention of each—Hanby in his present place and Stafford in his.

There is a more perplexing issue involved in the contest between Judge Hardy and Municipal Judge Turney. Judge Hardy has, in the past, been a storm center of charges and controversies seriously calling into question his availability for judicial service. As to the technical character of formal accusations against him, he has been exonerated by trial. Some of his colleagues on the bench, among them several of the most thoughtful and respected members of the bench and bar, vouch for him in unequivocal terms, expressing a conviction that the experiences through which he has passed have been turned by him to excellent account.

Judge Hardy's ability as a lawyer and qualifications as a judge are good. It is only after the most careful weighing of all considerations that The Times feels impelled to recommend his retention on the bench, on the ground that he is the better qualified of the two candidates for the post.

The Times recommends that each individual voter give to the selection of judges the most careful consideration and that personalities, political bias, hatreds, gossip and political expediency be thoroughly eliminated before action is taken. Issues of far greater moment than the election or defeat of any of the several candidates are here involved.

THE BIGGEST BUDGET

New Yorkers are a bit fussy over the circumstance that the tentative budget for the next year's expenditures in their city reaches the colorful total of $616,000,000. A lot of the old boys can remember when the whole country was being run for less money and now the Gotham politicians are seeking to swell the budget to about $640,000,000. They think they need the money. For one thing Mayor Walker is not playing parsimony in his administration. There may be a drop of Scotch in his cellar, but there is none in his veins. This Knickerbocker tax bill is the top-notcher for world cities of all time.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

IT LOOKS to us as if the women of Los Angeles have come to their senses in regard to their silhouettes.

AH! NOT ALTOGETHER AN INTELLECTUAL FEAST!

A couple of years ago when we were invited to a woman's club luncheon we went prepared for the worst, and not very much of that.

The other day we were a guest of the Wilshire Woman's Club, which is about as select as they make 'em, and the lunch was so good and so plentiful we almost wished we were a cow. Cows, you know, go in for plural stomachs.

And a few nights before that we were the guest of the business and professional women's section of the Catholic Woman's Club, and gained three pounds.

This seems to us more evidence that we are getting back to normalcy—and common sense.

First "Opera of the Air"

Now that radios are so numerous it is hard to realize that only eleven years ago the principle of the present-day radio was first demonstrated in Los Angeles.

William Wyatt, the veteran theater manager, told us about it the other day. In April, 1919, the flu epidemic struck the Wyatt household and Mr. Wyatt had to live at the Athletic Club for three weeks, his household being virtually quarantined. The grand opera season was on and Mrs. Wyatt was very eager to hear a certain opera. Mr. Wyatt appealed to the telephone company, and what probably was the first crude "microphone" in Los Angeles was rigged up on the stage, while a phonograph horn was attached to the telephone in the Wyatt home. The result was that the Wyatt family heard the opera very well, together with the noises of the theater, the conversation of the crowd and all the incidentals which Carl Haverlin used to work into his "opera of the air" broadcasts.

Honesty the Best Policy

Speaking of radio, a young man driving a good car dashed right through a "Stop" signal in Hollywood the other evening and was called to the curb by a sharp blast from the crossing cop's whistle.

"What's all the rush?" demanded the cop.

"Sorry, but I'm in an awful hurry," exclaimed the culprit.

"So I noticed," said the cop, sarcastically. "Baby sick, eh? Wife dying? Something in the cellar just exploded? Which one of the twelve best excuses is it this time?"

"None of them," replied the young man. "But give me a ticket and let me go. It's really awfully important. If you'll look at your watch you'll see I've got to hurry to get home in time to tune in on Amos and Andy."

CHECK AND DOUBLE CHECK!

"By golly!" exclaimed the cop, with a grin. "I'm goin' to let you off this time. But don't let it happen again."

Another friend reports that on West Washington there is a very nifty miniature golf course exclusively for Negroes, the final hole of which is the effigy of a darky's head, with rolling white eyeballs and grinning red lips. When you make that hole the ball disappears in the capacious mouth. But the balls are not imitation watermelons, so it is pretty hard to make that hole in one.

Gloria Swanson married a title just about the time Pola Negri did, and a few days after Pola announced she had filed suit for divorce Gloria's attorney announced that she, too, had filed suit. It almost looks as if Gloria didn't buy her title outright, but merely leased it for the duration of Pola's marriage.

ATTENTION, TAXPAYERS!

We are spending between $13,000,000,000 and $14,000,000,000 a year, four times as much as in 1913, for Federal, State and local government. From 14 per cent to 16 per cent of our national income is applied to public expenditures, a proportion twice as large as in 1913 and one for which there is no precedent in this country.

We are witnessing a perceptible depreciation of the capital value of some objects of taxation upon which have been placed burdens beyond the capacity of earnings or income. We cannot sidestep the significance of a fourth of corporate net profits being absorbed in taxes; of whole communities actually bankrupt through ill-advised contraction of public debt; of breakdowns of fiscal machinery in many cities and counties, and of sharp increases in the value and number of parcels of property foreclosed for nonpayment of taxes.

It is time that we put aside the futile weapons which we have employed to meet this emergency in the past and the interminable nonsense of shifting tax burdens from the shoulders of one class of taxpayers to the shoulders of another class in the illusion that such a process will serve as a substitute for intelligent control of public expenditures.

MR. YOUNG'S EVASIONS

Politics sometimes has a strange influence on men, making black seem white, turning night into day, even changing the usual and ordinary meanings of such household terms as "wet" and "dry," and reversing all the laws of consistency.

An example of this curious phenomenon is supplied by Milton K. Young, Los Angeles attorney and Democratic nominee for Governor.

Finding in last Sunday's Times a summary of his former wet political affiliations, published in connection with a discussion of the degree of sincerity behind his present support—for political purposes—of prohibition, Mr. Young became filled with wrath.

Now, the summary in question was less a critical analysis than a factual account of what Mr. Young has done and said with respect to the wet-and-dry question, virtually all the material available showing him as a consistent supporter of wet leaders of his party.

He took exception, in particular, to a quotation from a statement made by him in 1928 in which he blamed "misguided drys" for the nomination of Al Smith for President, giving them credit not only for trying to make the Democratic party "a prohibition party," but holding them jointly responsible with "thirsty Republicans" for Mr. Smith's party preference.

The fact that Mr. Young later joined hands with these same "thirsty Republicans" in supporting the political aspirations of Smith does not mitigate his show of indignation one jot or tittle. In fact, Mr. Young went even further than a "thirsty Republican" could go, he became a Democratic elector on the Smith ticket.

He accuses The Times of perverting the facts by substituting the word "dry" for the word "wet" and the word "prohibition" for the word "wet" in his 1928 indictment of the dry element of his party. Mr. Young apparently does not quite realize the serious character of such a charge or he might have been more cautious and saved himself embarrassment.

The Times has printed the facts—all of them—and they show Mr. Young to be—at its most charitable interpretation—in error. He did say in 1928 what The Times said he said. The record is on file in many places, including the local public library, where it may be seen by any interested person sufficiently energetic to consult the files of The Times, the Examiner or the Express, for May 2, 1928.

The episode is not noteworthy so far as the local political campaign is concerned and Mr. Young merely makes himself ridiculous by attempting to escape responsibility for his prior acts and utterances—none of which is important.

There can be said in full seriousness, however, something with respect to the cause which Mr. Young so lightly seeks to turn to his own political advantage—the cause of prohibition.

Prohibition is not an issue in the present State campaign, neither is enforcement of the law in jeopardy. If the Eighteenth Amendment ever seriously is in danger such a condition will find much encouragement and comfort from the ability of chance political opportunists to win a following among "misguided drys" merely by the transparent and threadbare methods of the demagogue.

THE NIGHT RIDERS

Really there were five night riders in Paul Revere's historic adventure and they all had beats and responsibilities equal to his own. But the others did not have smooth-sounding and rhythmic names and Paul Revere was the only one of the party who was able to break into poetry. However, this same Paul Revere designed and printed the first Continental currency in 1777 and this was more vital to the young republic than his night pilgrimage. It is money that talks. Poets can only write.

THE PROVIDERS

Some of the rich men of New York are putting up a fund of about $6,000,000 a month for the purpose of finding or providing employment for the needy heads of families. It may not go far in a city of immensities, but it may do for an eye-opener. There is more money where it came from and it is well to get the substantial interest of the gold-bearing gentry.

Cotton Fields Calling

MESA (Ariz.) Oct. 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It is true that Arizona cotton is in danger and that this district is sorely in need of pickers. As small as we are we could use in our connection and in one bunch 300 cotton pickers.

These pickers, if really in need of employment, would be able to begin to earn more than a living. This is about all the cotton farmer can hope to do with the present cotton prices. The price we pay for cotton picking is 75 cents per cwt. for short-staple cotton and $1.25 per cwt. for long staple.

We have work for at least three months without the loss of a single day at the prices and in the number stated above. There is work for another 1000 at least.

The writer has come into contact with many government officers in the experience of several years and has never found a time when he was not given 100 per cent co-operation in the matter of labor.

If you are at all interested in the matter of unemployment kindly take notice of the above.

Library Employees Protest

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] More than 1000 trained and experienced employees of the Los Angeles Public Library department would appreciate your aid in defeating City Charter Amendment No. 3-A.

This amendment takes the purchase of all books and periodicals for our public library system out of the hands of technically trained and experienced librarians, and puts such purchases in the hands of an untrained, inexperienced and politically minded city purchasing agent, who knows nothing whatever about library work or needs.

The public library renders what is tantamount to a professional service to all the citizens of Los Angeles, and the adoption of proposed charter amendment No. 3-A would create discord and inefficiency in the organization, make a political football of our highly respected and splendidly equipped library department and provide unlimited opportunities for graft and favoritism.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Drafting?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

Drafting, in all of its phases, is taught free at the Lincoln Evening High School, 3625 North Broadway. This class also includes blue-print reading for carpenters, builders and all those interested in building construction. There is a more rapid class, a kind of summary, for salesmen of building material, and there is special work for sheet-metal drafting for those who want to lay out their work more efficiently.

Men and women of all ages are admitted to this class and there is no charge of any kind. The hours are 7 to 9 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday evenings.

THE KELLOGG PEACE PACT

By H. B. HEISEY

For centuries war has been condemned as an evil and peace has been the hope of the best men. Men who defend war have been regarded as novelties. They have been listened to not because people believed what they had to say but because their arguments were fantastic. If one paid any real attention to such arguments it was because in them one could get the secret joy of indulging in the forbidden. But the attitude of the great majority of people the world over has been that war is unspeakably bad, though perhaps inevitable.

On the other hand, war has been to nations what a pen is to a writer, or a needle to a seamstress, it has been the chief tool of nations in dealing with each other. It has been as important an instrument in the policy of nations as notes are in the policy of a bank or mortgages in a policy of money lenders. While statesmen as private men may have lamented the use of war in securing the ends of the state, as statesmen they were forced to employ it for the simple reason that there was no other alternative.

It has been the common opinion of mankind that wars have outlived any legitimate use they have ever had, for from experience gained in recent wars, it has been found that no nation, not even the victor, can benefit, but disaster for every one concerned lurks in the shadow of war. Since for the nations of the world there are no lawmakers but the nations themselves, the only way for war to be outlawed as an instrument of national policy is for the nations to ban it themselves. This they did in a short treaty—The Kellogg Peace Pact.

There are just two important articles in this epoch-making treaty, the international statute which outlaws war and forbids the settlement of any dispute by other than pacific means.

> Article I—The High Contracting Parties solemnly declare in the names of their respective peoples that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another.

> Article II—The High Contracting Parties agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means.

This is the most revolutionary agreement in the history of nations. In the first article the nations have renounced and condemned the chief tool of international life. In private life it would be no more revolutionary for a group of men to renounce their rights to private property or to the protection of the law or to renounce the institution of marriage, for wars have been more, or at least as important, in the life of nations as have been those other things in the life of individual men. The second article is still more important, because not only war is given up but the right even to try to get any but a pacific settlement of disputes is also given up.

In this respect, therefore, it is likewise revolutionary for it has removed the last vestige of patriotism from all sorts of war makers, the militarists, and their clan because the thing they clamor for is against the law of the land they profess to serve. The Kellogg Peace Pact so far as the domestic law of the United States is concerned has pulled the wool from off the backs of the war-making wolves.

As a statement of principle the Kellogg Peace Pact cannot be improved. Not even the most rabid hater of war could wish for a stronger statement against, nor a more clear-cut denunciation of war. It is the product of the mature thought of the leading statesmen of the world, and therefore cannot be dismissed lightly by the practical-minded person as the passing fancy of visionary idealists. A survey of its development and adoption by the nations of the earth shows that it is a simple crystallization of the common prayer of mankind that war shall be no more. Like any principle people must continue to believe it and act it for it to be effective.

The Kellogg Peace Pact, since it contains no substitute for war, no machinery of peace, so far as the United States is concerned, has only prepared the way for our country to find some method of helping to create the substitutes for war and to strengthen the machinery of peace. It must then be regarded as a confession of faith, a possibility which may be achieved by the active, intelligent pushing on the part of the peace lovers. It is not a job completed but a call to action.

The business man's reading is no longer confined to a scanning of the ticker tape and the daily papers, according to reports from libraries all over the country. Books written by and about business experts run into the tens of thousands in copies sold yearly, and a cursory survey of the titles most in demand at the Los Angeles Public Library reveals the variety of angles and the popular nature of treatment adopted by the writers: "How Old Are You Financially?" "Prosperity, Fact or Myth," "Stock Market Theory and Practice," "Common Stocks and the Average Man," "How to Turn People into Gold," "Layout in Advertising," "This Advertising Game," "The Road to Plenty," "America Conquers Britain," while biographies of business men continue steadily to be written and read. Lives have appeared recently of John Wanamaker, John Jacob Astor, Henry Ford, Hetty Green, Krupp, Eastman and Morgan.

EXPERT SERVICE

The mechanic, with his spanner, greets me in a civil manner when I drive my also-ranner to his workshop for repair; he will know just what's the matter, know what makes the engine clatter, [illegible] prone to spatter like a cloudburst everywhere. On his dark and grimy benches, with his drills and monkey-wrenches, 'mid the workshop's greasy stenches, he has fully learned his trade; he has had a skillful tutor, he's an expert trouble-shooter and he'll make my ancient scooter fit to climb the steepest grade. When my motor's in a panic with some [illegible] dies organic, I consult this skilled mechanic, and he knows just what to do; he makes certain oil holes bigger, puts a spring in yonder trigger, straightens out some other finger, and he files a thing or two. Then his little bill collected, and the motor's ills corrected in less time than I expected, I go forth in joyous mood; for the engine's ceased its racket, there's grease upon my jacket, and I drive the good old [illegible] through the sylvan solitude. Were I not an earnest thinker I would fuss around and tinker till my words grew pink and pinker and my blood began to boil; I would take the car to pieces, paw among its [illegible] greases, using language my nieces quoted me the rules of Hoyle. I would sprain my wrists undoing certain things that needed gluing, lacerate my fingers screwing nuts already far too tight; I would sweat in the endeavor some old rusty band to sever, and my work would not be clever, for I'd never get it right. But I never try repairs which may call for wrath and swearing; there are experts who are wearing all the [illegible] o their craft; and I [illegible] o the toiling and the [illegible] and moiling, while I sit, my blood unboiling, and write out a N. Y. draft.

ECONOMY IN CITY DEALS ADVOCATED

Councilman Cooke Backs Proposed Centralizing of Municipal Purchases

Proposition 3-A on next Tuesday's ballot, which will centralize the purchases for the city government under City Purchasing Agent Oughton, is a step toward efficiency and economy and will in nowise interfere with the special requirements of separate departments, Councilman Cooke, chairman of the Finance Committee, said yesterday.

The Department of Water and Power, the Harbor Department and the Library Department now have purchasing agents of their own and are opposing 3-A. The typical contention is advanced by the Library Board that it is more advantageous for that department's purchasing agent, acting under the director of library specialists, to buy its books, select its periodicals, etc., than for some one not familiar with library needs to do it.

"Adoption of 3-A does not mean that the City Purchasing Agent will do the choosing of library books," said Councilman Cooke, commenting on this argument. "The departments will not have the services of their specialists taken from them. The purchasing agent will merely fill the requisitions of the boards and commissions. The Library Commissioners will continue to select what they wish purchased and the purchasing agent will execute their orders.

"The several boards and commissions will continue to draw up specifications, which will be followed by the purchasing agent.

"Adoption of 3-A will eliminate considerable duplication in city purchases, and as the city can then buy in larger quantities it can get lower prices."

W. J. BRYAN'S DAUGHTER STRIKES OIL

Sixty-two-Hundred-Foot Well in Venice Field in With 4500-Barrel Flow

Mrs. Grace Bryan Hargraves, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, has become an active oil operator due to the completion late yesterday of the Grace Bryan No. 1 well at the intersection of Thirty-fifth avenue and Pacific Court, in the Venice oil field.

Grace Bryan No. 1 well came in for an initial flow of 4500 barrels of oil a day, according to R. J. Goldenberg, representative of the late Mr. Bryan's daughter, and is expected to be one of the best completions at Venice in point of daily production. It is located in the central southwesterly portion of the field where there is an active drilling campaign at present.

According to her representative, Mrs. Hargraves bought her lease from the Sunset Pacific Oil Company, original owner of the property, and Bert Brunwin, formerly connected with one of the major oil companies, contracted to do the drilling. The Grace Bryan No. 1 went to a depth slightly below 6200 feet. It effected a water shut-off at about 5600 feet, and has approximately 600 feet of oil sand to draw from.

Policeman Who Killed Colored Boy Loses Plea

The appeal by Luther R. Weyant for reinstatement to the police force was turned down by the Police Commission yesterday on the ground that he is "unfit to be on the force" because he fired his gun while in pursuit of some colored boys who ran when he interrupted their gambling with dice.

The bullet from Weyant's gun killed William Teems, colored boy, but he was acquitted in Superior Court of the shooting. The commission took the ground that the gun should not have been drawn in a misdemeanor case.

Colored voters recently appeared before the commission and protested the reinstatement of Weyant.

The ballroom is being decorated. More than 5000 colored balloons will be released during the evening. The party will continue from 8:30 o'clock to midnight. Ben Laletsky's orchestra will furnish the music. Any Shriner may attend by presenting his membership card.

Architect Lists Jobs of County

Construction work with an aggregate cost of $2,275,893.07 was performed under the direction of the County Architect during the fiscal year ending June 30, last, according to Karl W. Muck, head of the department, who filed his annual report yesterday with the Board of Supervisors.

Some of the major contracts handled included the building of an insectary for the County Agriculture Commission, exhibit building at the Los Angeles County Fair, numerous new fire stations, new health centers and new buildings at the County Farm.

Navy News

One of the smartly appointed events in naval circles took place at Pacific Coast Club when officers of the staff of the commander-in-chief of the battle fleet entertained at dinner honoring Admiral and Mrs. Frank H. PASADENAN'S HEARING BALKED BY BRONCHITIS

Preliminary hearing of Joe T. Simons, accused of grand theft in several Pasadena real estate deals, was delayed again by Municipal Judge Frederickson yesterday. Simons's attorney, Stanley Visel, called three physicians to the stand to testify that his client was so ill that it would endanger his life to be brought into court. Simons is in the Hollywood Hospital suffering from bronchitis, the physicians said.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

SALAD LORENZO

Mix in a cold bowl one head of romaine lettuce, broken in shreds, one head of lettuce shredded, one bunch of watercress, washed and broken in small branches, and four peeled and sliced fresh pears. Mix two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped watercress leaves with four tablespoonfuls of chili sauce, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, six tablespoonfuls of oil, and a seasoning of salt and paprika. Pour this dressing over the salad, toss together, place on lettuce covered plates, and serve garnished with ripe olives.

SALMON HOLLYWOOD

Place two thick slices of salmon in a sauce pan with one teaspoonful of salt, six whole peppercorns, a slice of lemon, a slice of onion, and a branch of parsley, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, two tablespoonfuls of orange juice, and four cupfuls of water, bring to a boil, and simmer slowly until the fish is tender, place in a sauce pan four tablespoonfuls of butter, heat and stir into it five level tablespoonfuls of flour, and when it bubbles stir in one and three-quarters cupfuls of the strained stock that the salmon was boiled in, and stir and cook for five minutes. Remove from the fire, and slowly add one slightly beaten egg yolk, stir until the yolk is well mixed, add two-thirds of a cupful of cream, and a seasoning of salt and pepper. Strain the sauce, into another sauce pan, add one cupful of cleaned and cooked shrimps, and twelve small poached oysters. Pour the sauce over the salmon, and sprinkle over the top two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped pimientoes and one tablespoonfuls of finely chopped parsley.

GRAPE TARTS

Peel and remove the seeds, from three cupfuls of Tokay grapes, and set in the ice box to chill, place in a sauce pan two cups of water, and one cup of sugar, bring to a boil, and allow to boil for five minutes, add two tablespoonfuls of gelatine, that has been softened in a half a cupful of cold water, stir until the gelatine is dissolved, add one tablespoonful of grated lemon rind, and one-fourth cupful of lemon juice, allow the mixture to stand for five minutes, strain and allow to cool. Fill baked tart shells with the seeded grapes, cover them with the jelly, and set on the ice to harden. Serve with a spoonful of whipped cream.

ONION SOUFFLE

Cook sliced onions in boiling water until soft, then press them through a sieve, there should be one and a half cupfuls of onion pulp, melt four tablespoonfuls of butter, add to it four tablespoonfuls of flour, and gradually pour onto it one-third of a cupful of the water in which the onions have been cooked, and one-third of a cupful of cream. Then add the onion pulp, season with salt and white pepper, beat the yolks of three eggs, until thick and lemoned covered, and add to the mixture. Beat the whites of the eggs, until stiff and dry, and carefully fold them in. Place the mixture in a well-oiled baking dish, and bake for twenty-five minutes in a moderate oven.

Health and Diet ADVICE

Celery—Cleanser and Tonic

Celery is one of the very best nonstarchy vegetables for cooking and salads, and there is no disorder where it cannot be freely used if any fibrous food is allowable.

During the fall and winter months when other vegetables are scarce, celery is plentiful and when used abundantly will be found to be a valuable blood cleanser and tonic. Those who are ill usually have a lowered blood alkalinity and celery helps to overcome this condition because of its richness in the alkaline-forming elements, especially sodium. The cellulose which it contains yields a nonirritating bulk and is, therefore, helpful in preventing constipation.

The celery which we now use is a great improvement over the wild plant. It is now longer stemmed, better flavored, less stringy and whiter than the original celery. The Greeks valued the plant, but since it was partially wild, it had too strong a flavor to use for food, but was used as a garnish as we now use parsley. It began to be used as a food as early as 1873 when the monastery of St. Gall used it as such.

The practice of bleaching celery began in England. A nephew of John Milton describes it, "Sellerie, it is an herb which is usually whited for an excellent winter salad."

Contrary to popular opinion, the best celery is that which has been bleached out white, as the bleaching removes certain volatile oils which are slightly irritating to the body.

If you are puzzled over a good health food for your family's dinner today, go right now and get a pencil and write "Celery" on your market list. Here are some methods of preparing celery:

Stewed Celery

First wash each stalk well, scrubbing with a brush to remove the poisonous spray which may have been used on it to kill insects. Then cut each stalk into short pieces and boil for two hours. This long cooking develops a new and delicious flavor unlike the flavor of any other vegetable. This stew can be made into an appetizing soup if cream or milk is added, with butter after the soup has boiled.

Celery and Green Pea Soup

Cook the celery until tender and combine with a can of green pea soup or cooked green peas which have been pressed through a colander.

Celery Stew

Boil together equal parts of chopped celery, green peas and potatoes.

Stuffed Celery

The hollow of the stalks may be filled with soft cheese, or a mixture of tomato pulp and peanut butter blended together.

Celery Toast

Clean the celery well, cut in short pieces and cook until soft. Add milk or cream and serve over Melba toast with a lump of butter on top.

Celery and Chicken Salad

This is a good way to use scraps of leftover chicken. Chop the chicken fine and combine with equal amounts of chopped celery. Serve in tomato shells on lettuce.

Your Baby and Mine

BABY'S SORE MOUTH OFTEN TELLS STORY OF CARELESSNESS

Not very often these days, but often enough to warn us of its importance, we find mothers asking about the cause of baby's sore mouth. While it is difficult to tell a mother that this is due to carelessness, one can't sidestep the truth. In some thoughtless way the mother is not aware of the necessity for absolute cleanliness of bottles and nipples, in fact of every single object that might come near baby's mouth.

Thrush, or sprue, is evidenced by tiny white spots in the mouth which resemble drops of milk. When these are wiped off, they leave tiny bleeding spots and baby's mouth becomes so sore that he refuses to eat at all.

Find Cause

The very moment this appears, take the baby to a doctor for treatment. Many of the things which mothers use to end this condition simple exaggerate it and increase its virulence. While the doctor is clearing up the thrush, the mother should do her part by seeking the cause of the trouble so that it will not crop up again.

According to modern methods of baby care, it is inadvisable to wash out the baby's mouth daily unless soreness is present. This dabbling with boric acid used to be a part of the daily bath ritual; but more harm than benefit accrued from this practice, for baby's mouth is so tender and so easily injured that mothers caused real damage in their efforts to keep it "good and clean."

Now we bend our efforts toward keeping anything that might harbor dirt entirely away from baby's mouth and letting nature keep it healthy.

Absolute Cleanliness Important

One prominent cause of thrush is the use of bottles or nipples which have not been properly cleaned and boiled. This is discussed in our leaflet, "Care of Bottles and Nipples, and How to Mix Formulas," which may be obtained by any reader who sends a self-addressed, stamped envelope with her request to "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

The next probable cause may be the use of a water bottle which, in its journeys from bed to carriage and perhaps an unexpected trip to the floor, manages to gather a nice collection of dust and germs.

Those mothers who tie around baby's neck a pacifier which he sucks at his own sweet will can hardly expect him to escape a sore mouth. Of all dirty objects, the pacifier is undoubtedly a prize winner in this class. Old handkerchiefs, ends of blankets, dolls, and whatnot that are given baby to suck on may be baby's own but they are not immune to household dust and dirt.

Even sterilized nursing bottles may lean against dirty or dusty objects unless constantly protected. To protect baby from every possible source of dirt requires constant vigilance.

DOWDY QUITS FOLSOM CELL

"Pajama Kid" in Antink Robbery Case Paroled Despite Vigorous Protest of Dist.-Atty. Fitts

Elmer Dowdy, the "Pajama Kid," was en route to Texas last night on parole from Folsom prison, where he was serving a twenty-five-year sentence for a sensational Los Angeles robbery in 1924, despite the protests of Dist.-Atty. Fitts to the board of prison directors that the parole is "one o. grave concern to the community."

Dowdy, who was convicted for the robbery of David Antink, a drug store collector, was paroled to his brother, who is taking him to El Paso to enter a hospital.

Parole of the man met vigorous opposition from Dist.-Atty. Fitts, who asserted Dowdy to be a member of one of the most ruthless gangs ever to operate here.

"However," Fitts said, "if the prison board saw fit to release him over the protest of my office, I have no comment to make."

Following the robbery in which Antink was wounded, the collector began actively assisting the officers in tracing down his assailants. Dowdy was identified and arrested in Florida. Morrie Moll, asserted leader of the gang, also was identified, but he successfully resisted extradition from New York.

A year ago while walking down the street toward his home, Antink was slain by gunmen. They drove up behind him, struck him down with a window weight and then filled his body with bullets from .45-caliber pistols. The killers fled and never were captured.

JUDGE HEEDS GIRLS' STORY OF 'HOLD-UP'

Women Accused by Driver Declare Charge Trumped Up by Piqued "Sheik"

Dismissal of robbery charges against Helen Reynolds, 22 years of age, and her aunt, Mary McAllister, 37, was ordered by Municipal Judge Ballard yesterday at the conclusion of their preliminary hearing.

H. A. Leonard, 1121 West Kensington Road, testified that he "picked up" the two women on Telegraph Road and that they held him up and robbed him of $2. Both denied the accusation, declaring that Leonard became angry when they resisted advances he made toward them and halted his machine when he saw a county motorcycle officer, reporting a fictitious hold-up.

"I hope this will teach you the danger of hitch-hiking," Judge Ballard told the defendants. "I might hold you for Superior Court trial and a jury might believe the complaining witness and send you to the penitentiary. I'll give you the benefit of the conflict in testimony, however, and dismiss the charges."

BRIBERY AGENTS POINT CLARIFIED

Go-Betweens May Aid Givers as Well as Receivers

Supreme Court Explains Its View in Davis Case

Getzoff Was Accomplice for Both Sides, It Holds

Go-betweens in bribery cases may be accomplices of both the bribe givers and the bribe receivers, according to the State Supreme Court.

This view of the tribunal was learned here yesterday with the receipt of a copy of the court's opinion affirming the decision of the District Court of Appeal in the case of Harold L. (Buddy) Davis, former chief deputy District Attorney. The Appellate Court granted Davis a new trial on a bribery charge.

The copy of the opinion makes it clear that the upper court transferred the case to its jurisdiction for the reason that the Supreme Court Justices wished to give further consideration to several points raised by the Attorney-General in the case. Considerable space is devoted to a consideration of a novel proposition raised by the Attorney-General on the question of the asserted complicity of Ben Getzoff in the declared bribery.

"In effect," the opinion recites, "the Attorney-General contends that since the testimony of Ben Getzoff summarized by the District Court of Appeal clearly shows Getzoff was an accomplice of E. H. Rosenberg for the offering or giving of a bribe, Getzoff could not be the accomplice of Davis in the asking or receiving of a bribe." The conclusion was drawn that Getzoff's testimony, therefore, did not require corroboration, such as is necessary in connection with an accomplice's testimony.

Although the Supreme Court adopted the decision written by Justice Conrey and concurred in by Justices Houser and York, it felt that the point raised was so important as to merit additional comment. In an anlysis of the legal point, the court declares that "when the bribe is accomplished through the medium of an agent, or go-between, or intermediary, the mere fact that the evidence is conclusive that such emissary is the agent or accomplice of one of the parties, does not necessarily determine that such emissary is not likewise the agent or accomplice of the other party to the transaction.

"We can see no impossibility, legal or otherwise, in a person acting as the agent or accomplice of both the bribe-giver and the bribe-receiver," the Supreme Court's opinion continues. "Each case, of course, must turn on its own facts and circumstances and if there is any doubt as to the proper status of the emissary, the question is one, under proper instructions, for the jury. From the instructions given in this case and from the testimony of Ben Getzoff himself, it seems reasonable to infer that the jury must have found that Getzoff was an accomplice of Davis; in fact, any other finding would be contrary to the evidence."

Corroborating evidence is also subjected to critical examination in consideration of a case cited by the Attorney-General. The court declares that the corroborating evidence must do more than raise a suspicion of the defendant's guilt.

After receiving a copy of the decision, Robert P. Stewart, chief deputy District Attorney, spent several hours in reviewing the legal questions involved.

He then announced that he will take the matter up with Dist.-Atty. Fitts today, and a decision will then be reached concerning future action in the case.

Fitts said he has no further announcement to make concerning the case until the Supreme Court decision has been thoroughly reviewed by his office.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

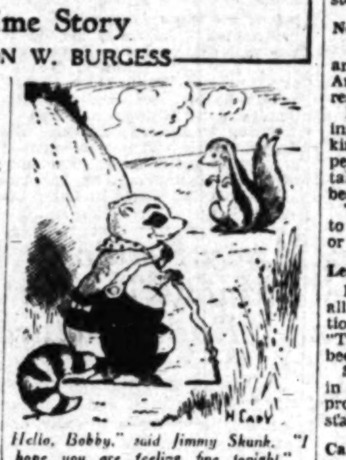
by THORNTON W. BURGESS

BOBBY COON GROWS BOLD

Who never ventures shouldn't whine
If he has naught on which to dine.
—Bobby Coon.



Hello, Bobby," said Jimmy Skunk. "I hope you are feeling fine tonight."

Jimmy Skunk was having a feast every night and Bobby Coon knew it. He knew just where Jimmy was getting that feast. He knew that it was inside the shed at Farmer Brown's house. Just what the feast was Bobby didn't know, because he hadn't been in there; but that it was something good he knew from the way in which Jimmy Skunk smacked his lips.

There were two reasons why Bobby had not been in. One was that he was afraid of the unknown. He didn't know what might be inside there or who might be inside there, and so his courage was not equal to so bold a venture. The other reason was that Jimmy Skunk was in there and Bobby had a most wholesome respect for Jimmy and his little bag of scent. He knew that Jimmy probably considered that his particular feast in there and that he might resent having any one try to share it. So for several nights Bobby was sitting on the outside, while Jimmy was eating on the inside.

Then one night Bobby, getting impatient, got over to Farmer Brown's house before Jimmy Skunk did. Bobby's nose told him that Jimmy was not yet there. When he ventured to poke his nose just inside, it told him that there was a good dinner in there. Bobby hesitated, pushed his head wholly inside, drew back a second time, and then, mustering up all his courage, he went inside. It was a rather tight squeeze to get through that round doorway; but he got through and then he sat for a moment with eyes and ears and nose all alert for the least hint of danger. Slowly Bobby took a step forward; then another step. His nose was tickled with the smell of good things. He shivered all over. He reached forward and then took a hasty mouthful. A moment later he had forgotten everything in his greed to get all of that dinner as quickly as he could. He might have been out in the Green Forest for all the thought he gave to his surroundings. He had but one thought, and that was to fill his stomach with the good things before him. When he had finished all that was on the plate to the very last crumb, he turned to the saucer of milk and drank that. Then, with a little sigh of happiness, he turned and walked straight out through that round doorway. It was a tighter fit than it had been when he came in. Once outside, he made straight for home. On the way he met Jimmy Skunk.

"Hello, Bobby," said Jimmy Skunk. "I hope you are feeling fine tonight."

"Never felt finer in my life," replied Bobby. "I hope you are feeling the same."

"I shall be feeling that way when I have eaten a certain dinner I know is waiting for me," replied Jimmy Skunk.

"I hope you'll enjoy it," said Bobby, and began to shuffle along back toward the Green Forest.

As for Jimmy Skunk he continued on his way to Farmer Brown's house. Perhaps you can guess how Jimmy felt when he discovered that empty plate and the empty milk dish. Even then, he didn't suspect what had happened. It wasn't until he was nosing about here and there that he picked up the scent of Bobby Coon. Then he guessed where that dinner had gone.

"He stole my dinner!" exclaimed Jimmy. "That's what he did, he stole my dinner! If he tries that again, I'll teach him a lesson he'll never forget."

BUSINESS GIRL FILMED AGAIN

Universal Assigns John Anderson to Viennese Story; George Lewis Wins Lead in Spanish "Big Trail;" D. W. Griffith Recuperating in Catskills

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Since the success of "Office Wife," the woman in business is becoming more and more popular in picturedom.

LORETTA YOUNG

Now it is First National who has beat all the rest of the producers to the securing of the story published anonymously in College Humor, entitled "Big Business Girl," which shows a beautiful young college girl anxious to succeed in business, but who finds all her business offers met with others not so business-like. Graham Baker, First National producer, as soon as he read the first installment of the story, at once began operations looking toward getting it. Other producers did likewise, but Baker won.

Loretta Young is the actress who will play the too-beautiful heroine, a part which she should be able in every way to fulfill.

David Manners, according to present plans, will play the juvenile lead. There are two or three other male roles of importance, but so far these have not been assigned.

Mervyn Leroy will direct the picture under supervision by Robert Lord.

ANDERSON DIRECTS STORY BY WELLS

John Murray Anderson is finding his vacation days being cut short. He is already preparing to direct a picture for Universal.

JOHN BOLES

This story, so far untitled, will be a comedy, and will have some music. No star is yet chosen. It is being penned by the talented William K. Wells, who wrote "The Cock-Eyed World" for Fox. The tale will have a Viennese background, and is a modern story.

The rumor is that John Boles will be starred.

George Lewis Plays Lead

Our old friend, or rather our young friend, George Lewis, is finding himself rather in clover these days, due not only to his acting powers, but to his ability to speak very good Spanish as well as his native English.

GEORGE LEWIS

He was assigned yesterday by Fox, to whom he is under contract, to the leading male role in the Spanish version of Raoul Walsh's "The Big Trail."

Lewis was formerly a Universal star, and a popular one. He left to join the Fox organization about a year ago.

D. W. Griffith Rests

If you have been wondering what has become of D. W. Griffith since his recent success with "Abraham Lincoln," you will be interested to know that he is spending a vacation in the Catskill Mountains.

Griffith was taken ill following the making of his recent United Artists picture, and has gone to the mountains to recuperate. We learn that he will probably not return to Hollywood for about three months. In the meantime, however, there is no doubt that he is searching for stories.

Norma Talmadge Studies

Just because Norma Talmadge has an iron-clad contract with United Artists is no reason, she thinks, for resting on her laurels.

Miss Talmadge, we learn, is studying in New York with Arthur Hopkins, noted producer, and other experts, training herself for the talkers. She is also attending all the best stage shows.

The actress is expected to return to Hollywood within the next two or three weeks.

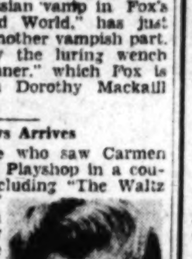
Leila Karnelly Wins Role

Leila Karnelly, who pleased us all so much with her characterization of the Russian vamp in Fox's "The Cock-Eyed World," has just been assigned another vampish part.

She will play the luring wench in "Once a Sinner," which Fox is producing with Dorothy Mackaill starred.

Carmen Mathews Arrives

Perhaps those who saw Carmen Mathews at the Playshop in a couple of plays, including "The Waltz of the Dogs," thought then and there how pleasing she would be in the talking pictures.



CARMEN MATHEWS

Now we will all have a chance to find out. Miss Mathews, who has been in the East lately, arrived last night from New York in response to offers from two film companies, and we shall be able to reveal in a day or two which one she has decided to accept.

Ella Hall in Trade

One more skillful little actress has just laid her artistic sensibilities away in cotton wool and gone into trade.

She is Ella Hall, formerly a Universal star, who is partner in an exclusive dress shop on Wilshire Boulevard opposite the Ambassador Hotel, known as Marks's Gown Shop.

Richard Dix an Indian

Richard Dix is about to have his boyhood dream of being a big red Indian come true. Monday Dix is to become an American Indian, by adoption, at the hands of the American Indian Society of Hollywood, when that organization holds its second annual powwow and ball.

Guests of honor will include the director of R.-K.-O.'s "Cimarron," Wesley Ruggles, and also principals of the cast, Dix, Irene Dunne, Estelle Taylor, Roscoe Ates, George E. Stone, Stanley Fields, Robert McWade and others.

CHEMISTRY STUDENT BURNED WITH ACID

A bottle of nitric acid was overturned accidentally in the chemical laboratory of Jefferson High School yesterday, severely burning Dorothy Simmons, 16 years of age, of 327 East Forty-seventh Place, a pupil, on the right arm and leg. Her condition was regarded as dangerous at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

PARK ACQUISITION PLANNED

City Engineer Jessup yesterday was instructed by the City Council to prepare a petition under the Municipal Improvement Act of 1927 for the acquisition of land for the proposed Hansen Heights Park.

Wife Gets Her "Fling at Life"

Desire for a fling at life drew his young wife away, asserted Lewis M. Pillsbury, construction company employee, asking yesterday for a divorce from Evelyn L. Pillsbury.

"She said that she and I were entirely too young to be married, and that we should be divorced so that each could have a fling at life alone," said the young husband. He added that his wife did not consider it impertinent to ask him to let her go out with other men.

Superior Judge Hahn granted the divorce.

CAST FOR SHAW PLAY ANNOUNCED

Alan Mowbray and Doris Lloyd to Portray Chief Roles in "Apple Cart"

Supervising Director Paul Irving of the Civic Repertory announces the complete cast for "The Apple Cart," the Shavian "political extravaganza" to use G. B. Shaw's own phrase, which opens the season Monday night at the Music Box Theater in Hollywood.

Under the direction of Claude King, the cast includes Alan Mowbray, Doris Lloyd, Evelyn Hall, Daisy Belmore, Paul Nicholson, Chappell Dossett, Nellie Strong, Lillian Bond, Boyd Irwin, Eric Snowden, Olaf Hytten, Cyril Delevanti, Donald Murray, Howard Davies and Arnold Walsh.

The settings have been designed by William McConnell and suggest what might be the vogue in the future. Costumes have been designed and executed by Margaret Cowan.

PLAY SHOP CAST ENACTS "SCARLET"

Mystery Drama by Bruce Evans Given New Mechanistic Treatment

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

Those addicted to the thrills and chills of enigmatic mystery plays, should by all means see "Scarlet," by Bruce Balfour Evans, now being offered at the Play Shop.

Predicated upon a new mechanistic angle, its tumultuous revelations keep the audience in a state of nervous tension, which is unrelieved until it reaches its culmination in the last scene. During the process of the unfoldment of this tantalizing plot, circumstances point the finger of suspicion in a provocative manner at nearly every member of the house party.

The mysterious "Scarlet," with his fiery death code, delivered by means of blood red cards, and mysteriously hidden upon the varied persons of the caste, brings consternation to the characters, and shudders to the audience.

There are several discrepancies in the play which could be remedied in production. There seemed somehow not enough shock and sorrow discerned at the sudden deaths and especially was this noticeable in the case of the father's death. The fact that he had mistreated the mother might account for this attitude, but it seems hardly probable. An unctious humor furnished in the main by the imported detectives and a cub reporter lighten the more tragic moments.

A capable cast rather evenly distributed in the way of talent and parts made the most of the exciting situations. As the criminal expert, Dayton Lummis exuded the confidently debonair air of the detective sure of himself and his propaganda. The detective of browbeating proclivities was amusingly characterized by Rolf Randall. Charles Maurice was his usual poised self in the part of the father and Jean Reno gave a clever impersonation of the dancer. The cub reporter interested only in his story was portrayed with humorous inflection by Bruce Evans, the author. Elinor Mather, Elaine Forrest, Clifton Camp, Don Lewis, Ronald McBurney and Leon Waycoff also appeared.

Will Rogers Vehicle Next at Pantages

Will Rogers's latest production, "So This is London," will have its first Hollywood showing at Pantages Hollywood Theater starting tomorrow. The picture, based on the stage play written by Arthur Goodrich, is said to be well suited to the talents of the famous humorist.

Surrounding Rogers in the film is a capable cast, including Irene Rich, Frank Albertson, Maureen O'Sullivan, Lumsden Hare, Mary Forbes, Bramwell Fletcher and Dorothy Christy. John Blystone directed.

During its Hollywood run, the Rogers vehicle will be accompanied by a stage presentation, "Enchantment Idea," produced by Fanchon and Marco and staged by Larry Ceballos.

Andy Retains Mannerisms in Radio Picture

In keeping with his radio character, Andy, the gruff and domineering member of Amos 'n' Andy, does not smile during the entire showing of "Check and Double Check," now showing at the Orpheum Theater. Also, he is never seen without his cigar.

Neither Amos nor Andy appears bareheaded at any moment in the picture. Amos wears his visored taxi cap, and Andy his dented derby in all but one sequence. The exception occurs in the instance of the meeting of the Mystic Knights of the Sea, during which they both wear the lodge turban.

Mme. Queen and Ruby Taylor, the dusky belles who are frequently mentioned but whose voices are never heard via the radio, are not seen in "Check and Double Check," although they play a prominent part in the story.

DIRECTORS IN FILMS

"DU BARRY" STARTS RUN AT ARTISTS

Norma Talmadge Stars in Film as Notorious Figure of French History

"Du Barry, Woman of Passion," Norma Talmadge's latest starring picture, starts at the United Artists Theater today.

In the most unusual role she has ever portrayed, Miss Talmadge is seen as a glamourous character of French history. Kings and princes seek her, and she rules nations.

The star is surrounded with a versatile cast. William Farnum plays the part of the King of France. This marks his return to pictures and his talking debut. Conrad Nagel plays opposite Miss Talmadge. Others include Hobart Bosworth, Ulrich Haupt, Allison Skipworth, E. Alyn Warren, Edgar Norton, Edwin Maxwell and Henry Kolker.

The rest of the program includes a Paramount novelty, "New Rhythm;" a comedy, "Food for Thought;" Paramount Sound News and Gaylord Carter at the organ.

Long-Desired Goal Attained by Irene Rich

Proponents of the theory that one has only to visualize a certain goal to achieve it have a case in point with Irene Rich.

Even in the days before Miss Rich began doing extra work in Hollywood, she "hitched her wagon to a star." To be exact, Pauline Frederick's stage roles gave Miss Rich a feverish desire to become a stage star.

Though possibilities seemed remote she did not stop visualizing herself at the head of a dramatic troupe on the stage. Within three months after beginning as a Hollywood extra she gained her first picture-leading role.

Finishing a long-term contract with Warners, she obtained her first stage work as a vaudeville headliner with Radio Pictures. Strangely, it is Radio Pictures, through its subsidiary, Metropolitan Productions, Ltd., for whom she now has the leading role in "Women Who Take," at the Mason Theater.

"Love in Rough" to be Followed by Molnar Story

Robert Montgomery in "Love in the Rough," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer comedy-romance of golf, will close tonight at Loew's State Theater to make way for the new attraction tomorrow.

This will be the Fox picturization of Franz Molnar's stage play, "Liliom," an idyllic love story produced by the same director-star combination responsible for "Seventh Heaven," Frank Borzage and Charles Farrell.

Rose Hobart, H. B. Warner, Estelle Taylor and Lee Tracy are in the supporting cast. The new Fanchon and Marco Idea, "Seasons," opens with the new picture.

George Marion Writes Lyrics

A trio of Hollywood's composers created the song numbers for "Sea Legs," Paramount's new comedy starring Jack Oakie. Oakie and his leading woman, Lillian Roth, sing two numbers in the production, "It Must Be Illegal" and "A Daisy Told Me."

George Marion, Jr., author of the screen play, wrote the lyrics for both songs. Among his musical successes are the lyrics for the recent Charles Rogers starring picture, "Safety In Numbers."

The melody for "It Must Be Illegal" was composed by Ralph Rainger, creator of the music of Paramount's screen production, "Queen High."

W. Frankie Harling, who, with Richard Whiting, composed the melodies for the Ernst Lubitsch film, "Monte Carlo," wrote the music of "A Daisy Told Me."

"Up the River" Run Scheduled

Jailbreaking may be a serious business in real life, but it provides the basis for a comedy of prison life in John Ford's "Up the River," which is scheduled for a run at the Boulevard Theater starting tomorrow.

"Up the River" deals with the efforts of two burglars to supervise a romance between two inmates. The cast includes Spencer Tracy, Claire Luce, William Collier, Sr., and Warren Hymer. Maurine Watkins wrote the original story.

MUSICAL COMEDY OFFERED TONIGHT

An original musical comedy, "Full Speed," will be presented by the Elisa Ryan Studios of Dancing at the Wilshire Ebell Theater, formerly the Windsor Square, tonight. This musical production was written by Peggy Clarkin.

The cast will include Virginia Guinney, Morton Scott, Betty Bradbury, Georgia Lewis, Peggy Brooke, Thomas Toohey and De Lass McGran and will include over 250 dance students of the Elisa Ryan Studios.

FAVORITE RETURNS IN NOTED COMEDY

Leo Carrillo

"Mister Antonio" will be presented starting tomorrow night at the Hollywood Playhouse under the personal supervision of Henry Duffy, who returns to producing activity in Los Angeles.

In the starring role is Leo Carrillo, long a favorite with local audiences.

Others in the cast are Marion Clayton, William H. Turner, Olive Cooper, Lew Kelly, Byron Hawkins, Leo Lindhard, Lottie Williams, Leah Winslow and Alma Chester.

Novel Picture on Program at Carthay Circle

A short subject featuring strange phenomena is now being presented at the Carthay Circle Theater in conjunction with the feature, "Just Imagine."

The reel, "Strange As It Seems," is compiled by John Hix and released through Universal Pictures. The Multicolor process is used in its coloring, and a speaker is heard explaining the oddities.

Among the novelties are the "Goe-Duck," a curious combination of clam and duck that buries itself in deep mud; a three-eyed and two-mouthed calf, born a few weeks ago; "Hadja Ali," mystery man of the Far East who is able, through phenomenal control of stomach muscles, to swallow enormous quantities of water and kerosene; a modern Noah who is building an Ark in Oregon, in preparation for a flood he predicts for 1932, and the famous Crater Lake in Oregon.

Rubinoff Held Over for Week at Paramount

Rubinoff, guest conductor of the Paramount orchestra, will be held over for another week, according to word received yesterday. "The Virtuous Sin," with Walter Huston, Kay Francis and Kenneth MacKenna, will have its premiere at the Paramount Theater tomorrow.

Today the final performance of "Laughter" are being held. A novel feature has been arranged for tonight which includes the U.C.L.A. football rally at the Paramount.

"The Virtuous Sin" is taken from the story, "The General." Starting tomorrow, Jack Partington's stage show, "Collegiate," with Ray Bolger as master of ceremonies, will be presented.

International Books 'Mr. Wu' as Next Film

"Mr. Wu," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Spanish production of the play, "Wu Li Chang," will have its gala world premiere at the International California Theater Friday evening.

"Mr. Wu" is called one of the most dramatic stories ever presented upon stage or screen, and Ernesto Vilches, the star, is said to give a fine performance as the rich and powerful Chinese Mandarin.

Jose Crespo, popular young Spanish juvenile, has the principal supporting role.

Requests Made for "The Dove"

Repeated requests that Dorothy Mackaye be featured again in a stage presentation of "The Dove" are being left at the box office of the Figueroa Playhouse, where the comedienne is appearing for a final week in "A Cup of Sugar."

Following announcement that George Sherwood, Miss Mackaye's director, was seeking a new starring vehicle for her, came the deluge of requests for the play in which she once scored.

FOLLIES SHOW PLEASES

"French Models," this week's attraction at the Follies Theater, is scoring with burlesque fans. Fagan and Clark, principal comedians, are offering patrons the brand of humor for which they are noted. Elvie Herndon and Leona White, featured soubrettes, are also skilled in their line of entertainment. Dorothy Akern and Pauline Elliott are proving popular, while Bob Stanley and Robert Jones, singers, also aid in the presentation.

LATE SHOWS SCHEDULED AT WARNERS

Two Theaters Plan Gala Affairs for Halloween Merrymakers

Anticipating one of the largest crowds in the history of local theaters when Winnie Lightner in "The Life of the Party" starts at both Warner Brothers Hollywood and Downtown Theaters, Friday, the theater management have decided to extend the shows to include midnight Halloween parties on that night.

So, both Hollywood and Downtown theaters will hold a Halloween midnight showing. "The Life of the Party" is said to be not only appropriate but timely for an occasion of this kind. Winnie Lightner has never appeared more humorous or lively than in this story, it is said.

The supporting cast includes Irene Delroy, Jack Whiting, Charles Butterworth and Charles Judels. Roy Del Ruth directed.

Eddie Quillan to be Seen on Stage, Screen

Eddie Quillan is to appear in a comedy act on the stage at every performance during the week starting tomorrow at the R.-K.-O. Theater. This was arranged in conjunction with the showing of the film, "Big Money," in which he stars.

Entertaining from the footlights is no novel experience for young Quillan, who played the "big time" as a member of the former Quillan vaudeville family before entering pictures.

Quillan's contract with R.-K.-O. calls for him to headline the incoming variety show as a special added attraction. Seen in this unit are Carl Randall and Virginia Watson, in "You'll Find Out." Other acts are Bob Robinson, Gladys Blake, the Original Honey Boys and Sandy Lang.

"Moby Dick" to Play at Forum

"Moby Dick," Herman Melville's classic of the seas, and starring John Barrymore, starts today for a four-day showing at Warner Brothers' Forum Theater.

This story of conflict and romance forms a dramatic episode in literature and has been brought to the screen in a forceful manner. Barrymore appears as Ahab, the young seaman who turns against the world and sails the seven seas in vengeance against the sea monster. Joan Bennett has the role of the girl.

Actress Holds Unusual Title

Marguerite Churchill, who enacts the feminine lead in Raoul Wash's "The Big Trail," current attraction at Grauman's Chinese Theater, was the selection of the Camp Fire Girls as "the typical American girl" two years ago.

Miss Churchill was credited with being the youngest star to appear in a Broadway stage production. Walsh claims that Miss Churchill stood the rigors of the four months' location trip for the making of "The Big Trail" better than any one of the women on the trip and as well as any of the hardiest men.

"Office Wife" Date Advanced

Because of the demands for the showing of "The Office Wife," Fred Siegel announces that the picture will open tomorrow instead of Friday at the Majestic Theater.

"The Office Wife" is based on Faith Baldwin's novel of the same name. Dorothy Mackaill, Natalie Moorehead and Brooks Benedict have leading roles. Lloyd Bacon directed.

VIDOR FILM DUE FRIDAY

"Up the River" closes its run at the Criterion Theater tomorrow night. Friday morning "Billy the Kid" starts an engagement.

The new film, with John Mack Brown, Wallace Beery and Kay Johnson in featured roles, is King Vidor's latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production. It depicts the adventures of a notorious and colorful character of the late '70's and '80's, Billy the Kid, whose romances and battles throughout New Mexico are a part of the history of this comparatively new section of the country.

Realism is materially advanced, it is reported, by the new M.-G.-M. invention, "Realife," which brings the picture to the Criterion Theater on a wide screen. There is said to be a stereoscopic illusion also created by the new apparatus.

ALAMITOS BAY PLANS RUSHED

San Gabriel River Project to Start Shortly

Straightening of Channel to Cost $651,000

Olympic Aquatic Events to Be Conducted There

Plans to be used in straightening out the lower channel of the San Gabriel River where it empties into Alamitos Bay, a project to cost $651,000, will be ready within the next thirty days, according to an announcement yesterday by Chief Engineer Eaton of the Los Angeles County Flood Control District.

As soon as the engineers' plans are ready they will be submitted to Charles T. Leeds, breakwater and jetty expert, for checking. When the check is finished preparations for the preliminary work will be made pending the outcome of condemnation suits wherein some thirty-five acres in Orange and Los Angeles counties is being condemned. The major portion of the work, however, will not be started until after the winter rains.

As Alamitos Bay is to be the scene of many of the aquatic events connected with the Olympic Games, efforts will be made to have the river work all completed by 1932.

The lower channel of San Gabriel River is to be made straight for a distance of 4000 feet, starting at Hathaway avenue in Long Beach and reaching to Alamitos Bay. The improvement will eliminate overflows during flood periods.

Asserted Slayer of Policeman Placed on Trial

After selection of a jury, the trial of Juan Reyna, charged with the murder of Verne Brindley, Los Angeles police officer, opened in Superior Judge Hardy's court yesterday.

The first witness called was Fred Brindley, brother of the dead officer, who identified the victim. He was followed by Loren Miller, who was with Brindley at the time he was killed.

Ugene Blalock, deputy District Attorney prosecuting the case, charges that Reyna, when arrested for a traffic violation seized Brindley's gun and shot him to death.

Nathan O. Freedman, defense attorney, however, asserts that he intends to prove that the officers had beaten Reyna over the head with their guns before he seized Brindley's revolver and fired.

GRAND JURY STILL SILENT ON DAM QUIZ

Some Action Possibly Will Be Taken Tomorrow Anent Engineers' Report

The secret report containing the finding of engineers appointed to investigate charges that Los Angeles county was overcharged $700,000 for the abandoned San Gabriel dam excavations, remained as secret as ever yesterday when the grand jury adjourned at noon until tomorrow without officially considering the matter.

The report was received last Friday, but a lengthy argument followed concerning the advisability of releasing the report for publication. The argument ended in a deadlock and no action was taken.

Yesterday, those in close touch with the situation expected some action concerning the release of the report, but the grand jury adjourned immediately after hearing several witnesses in other cases.

The next session is scheduled for tomorrow. At that time, if other matters are disposed of, some action may be taken.

Row on Dancing Cited by Wife to Obtain Divorce

Improper dancing was her husband's accusation, Mrs. Thelma A. Trowell yesterday asserted in obtaining a divorce from Emmett Trowell of Pasadena, on grounds of cruelty.

"We had a dance at our home on the night of October 23, 1929," the wife told Superior Judge Gould. "My husband had been drinking. He called me into a bedroom and accused me of not dancing decently. Then he punched me in the face. When I went to the bathroom to bathe my face, he followed, and in the presence of two women guests, he struck me again. In December, last year, he threatened to kill me."

Judge Gould granted her a divorce, and approved a property agreement whereby their real estate at 1162 Forest avenue, Pasadena, is to be divided equally.

ABSENT WIFE DIVORCED

Pleas for his wife to return home after deserting him were continued for three years, Herbert A. Decker yesterday asserted in asking Superior Judge Bishop for a divorce from Alta Decker. She ignored his pleas, added Decker, who operates a chain of service stations. Judge Bishop granted him a decree.

Talking to Bottom of World

Edwin W. Pauley, president of Petrol Corporation, 4020 Bandini Boulevard, talking to Murray R. A. Little, the Sidney (Australia) distributor of the company's oil products in Australia and New Zealand.

Thousands of miles of telephone wire, and several large radio receiving and sending stations were brought into use early yesterday morning when Edwin W. Pauley, president of the Petrol Corporation, communicated by telephone with Murray R. A. Little, 17,000 miles distant at Sydney, Australia, distributor of the Petrol's products.

This call, according to local officials, was the longest in the history of telephone communication. It was one of the first to be made on the new telephone link between the United States and Australia.

The voice currents on the 17,000-mile journey travel by wire from Los Angeles to the Atlantic Coast, are radioed to a receiving station near London, and go through the London exchange by wire to a sending station, which puts them on their way to a receiving station near Sydney. The cost of conversing with Sydney from here is $57 for the first three minutes and $19 for each additional minute.

BY THE SENTRY ON HIS BEAT

In recognition of his efforts in behalf of former service men, the county council, United Veterans of the Republic yesterday announced indorsement of the candidacy of Sidney T. Graves. Graves, now chairman of the Board of Supervisors, is representative of the Third District.

Prior to the time Graves became a member of the Board of Supervisors three and one-half years ago veterans were denied preference in the matter of civil service positions. Graves succeeded in passing an ordinance providing 10 per cent preferment for former service men in civil service examinations.

Mrs. Graves, wife of the candidate last night opened a radio series of fifteen broadcasts in behalf of Graves's candidacy. Her discussion concerned achievements of Graves as a legislator and as a Supervisor.

Graves himself will be on the air tonight speaking from station KMTR from 9:30 to 9:40 o'clock. He will continue a discussion of county projects begun in the first radio address of his campaign given last week. F. J. Eggers of Hollywood will speak in Graves's behalf during the afternoon. He also will be heard over KMTR, speaking from 4 to 4:05 o'clock.

Nearly every line of manufacturing in California would be seriously and adversely affected by the adoption of Proposition No. 26 on the November 4 ballot, known as the Sunday closing bill, it was stated yesterday by Robert Linton, director and chairman of the Industries Committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

"It is the policy of manufacturers to keep Sunday work cut down to the lowest possible minimum, but to conform to the provisions of this law as framed would involve no small interruption of operations and curtailment of output," said Mr. Linton. "If strictly enforced, some manufacturers whose processes must be carried on continuously might have to go out of business."

Judges Keetch, Bishop Hazlett and Shaw will be familiar names to radio audiences by election day with the Citizens' Committee on Judges conducting broadcast appeals for them from five to eight times daily between now and election day.

The Independent Judiciary Committee is also conducting an elaborate broadcasting schedule for its candidates, with Rev. Gustav Briegleb, Rev. Frank G. Tyrrell, former Judge John Perry Wood and Nathan Newby as speakers.

Among those listed as in the ranks of supporters of Proposition No. 5, the State Employees' Retirement Act, is Arthur Pangburn, one time newspaper reporter and author, and publicist for one of the State departments. Mr. Pangburn says that the act will not increase taxes and is founded on an employee-contributory basis.

Secretary of State Jordan and State Treasurer Johnson have pledged their support to Proposition No. 1, the $20,000,000 bond issue for veterans' homes and farm loans. Both of these men have watched the operation of this act in the past at close range. Said Treasurer Johnson: "During the past eight years I have carefully observed the manner in which this remedial legislation has been administered and I feel justified as well as qualified to state that no agency of the State has performed more faithful and efficient service for the good of all the citizens of California than the Veterans' Welfare Board."

The Hygiene Museum of Dresden, discussing daylight savings, said: "Daylight saving in Germany was found to be detrimental to the health of children and their mothers; it aggravated working conditions and was depressing in its relation to industry because it further disrupted businesses that were founded upon a common acceptance of standard time."

In urging a vote of No against Proposition No. 21, providing for State reimbursement of county tax losses, the California Taxation Improvement Association states that the measure would be "a penalty on State thrift and economy."

Among the well-known persons who are supporting Superior Judge Hugh J. Crawford for re-election and have offered him their services are Robert M. Clark, former candidate for United States Senator, Judge Thomas P. White, Judge E. J. Lickley, Judge J. Perry Wood, Joseph Scott, John D. Fredericks, Jr., T. B. Cosgrove, Le Compte Davis, Miss Anna O'Keefe, Paul Vallee, Griffith Jones, Isaac Pacht, Ward Chapman, Lyle Pendergast, William Orme, Philip Cohen, Arthur Guerin, Tony Entenza, Joseph Musgrave, Charles J. Orbison, Margaret Ferris, L. B. Randall, Samuel Kress, Lucius F. Chase, Leonard J. Meyberg, Samuel Kress, A. W. Sorenson, R. D. Knickerbocker and William Bearman.

Martin I. Welsh, Democratic nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, is making a State-wide campaign on a platform demanding repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

The Socialists of Los Angeles are making preparations to care for a capacity attendance of those who want to hear Upton Sinclair, author and candidate for Governor, when he speaks at Trinity Auditorium Sunday at 8 p.m. at the Socialist rally and concert. Other speakers will be Chaim Shapiro, Socialist candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, and William W. Busick, State chairman of the party.

The Women's Democratic League of Southern California will give a tea for friends and workers of Milton K. Young, Democratic candidate for Governor, today at 2:30 p.m. at the Roosevelt, 7006 Hollywood Boulevard.

California's outworn corporation laws are working an unjustifiable hardship on California institutions and investors, according to Joseph P. Loeb, attorney and chairman of the State bar committee for the southern section, in asking support of proposition No. 24. "This amendment," Loeb declared, "is vitally needed to make possible enactment of corporation laws under which business men of California will not be impelled to incorporate in other States, thus paying tribute to those States for facilities exercised here."

The United Church Brotherhood of Los Angeles has joined in the refutation of a charge made by Rev. R. P. Shuler that Judge Arthur Keetch was ill advised in dismissing the first 1926 county grand jury, according to announcement from the Keetch campaign headquarters. Several Superior Court judges already had issued statements upholding the action of Judge Keetch, who is candidate for reelection.

A woman's division of the campaign in behalf of Judge Hazlett has been organized with Mrs. Florence Collins Porter as honorary chairman and Mrs. P. E. Keeler as active chairman. Headquarters have been established in the Financial Center Building. Among many of the outstanding club women of the country who are associated in the work are Mrs. Thornton Kinney, Mrs. H. W. Michaels, Mrs. Earl McClintock and Mrs. S. K. Strickler.

In an open letter to Judge Hazlett Mrs. Porter said: "I have known you for many years as a neighbor and friend, and also as a citizen of high standing. Your elevation to the Superior Court a few years ago was a just recognition of your ability and fitness in your profession, and I expect to see you continue in a long and distinguished career because of your eminent training, judicial qualities of mind and fine character."

The Civil Service Employees Protective League, representing 18,000 municipal workers, has opened headquarters to carry on a campaign in behalf of charter amendments 6-A, 7-A and 9-A. Capt. C. J. O'Neill of the fire department is in charge. The league is seeking the adoption of the amendments to clarify the charter on questions of lay-off and demotions occasioned by lack of funds to pay salaries or because of lack of work, and to provide definite procedure in the matter of the appeals of employees in cases of unjust dismissal. The amendments have the indorsement of the Mayor, City Council, Civil Service Commission, City Attorney and other officials.

Spouse's Dictation of Garb Major Divorce Cause in Mrs. H's Eyes

A husband dictated what clothes his wife should wear. She divorced him yesterday.

Miriam H. Heck told Superior Judge Gould that Gordon L. Heck insisted on dictating to her as to the kind and character of clothes she should wear.

"Continuously and without cause in the presence of friends and relatives he rebuked and criticised me about my clothes," added Mrs. Heck. "He didn't think they were old-fashioned enough. And he isn't a clothes expert, but a radio store owner."

FINE-POINT PLEA PROVES FUTILE

Auto-Radio Removal Attempt Sentences Affirmed

Defendants Hold Receiver Not Part of Motorcar

Application of Vehicle Act in Case Upheld by Court

Is a radio part of an automobile?

This fine point was raised in an appeal decided adversely yesterday when Superior Judges McLucas, Shaw and Bishop of the Appellate Department affirmed the sentence of John W. Stevens and Fowler Mayfield. The latter were found guilty of violating Section 147 of the California Vehicle Act by unscrewing a small radio from the front seat of a car which Luther Anderson had parked on Sycamore avenue near Hollywood Boulevard on June 18, last. Policeman Joseph Ransom arrested Stevens and Mayfield before the radio was removed from the car.

The section under which they were convicted defines as an offense to "break, injure, tamper with or remove a part or parts of a vehicle." A jury found the men guilty, and Municipal Judge Sheldon sentenced them to ninety days in jail. Attorney W. O. Grof, in his appeal, contended that a radio "tacked" to a car is not a part of the automobile, and that, hence, the act is inapplicable.

Without saying that a radio is part of a car, Judges McLucas, Shaw and Bishop found that no error prejudicial to the appellants appears in the record and they affirmed the judgment. Deputy City Prosecutor Matherly argued for the prosecution.

Police Tell How Colored Doctor Sold Them Dope

Dr. Darrington Weaver, Negro physician, sold narcotics illegally to police operatives on five occasions, officers testified yesterday in Municipal Judge Frederickson's court.

Weaver's preliminary hearing on charges of violating the State Poison Act was continued until today for additional testimony from the woman operative who assertedly purchased the drugs. Capt. E. A. Chitwood of the narcotic detail reported confiscating drugs valued at $10,000 in a raid on Weaver's office at 5010½ Central avenue. Chitwood said that Weaver had been doing a tremendous business in cocaine at $75 an ounce.

Weaver and his chauffeur, Delmus Golden, jointly accused with him, are defended by Peter Hornbrook as attorney.

A story of stealthy nocturnal raids on the pantry of E. L. Doheny's estate at 1409 Doheny Drive, in which the defendant, barefooted, is asserted to have obtained foodstuffs, was told before Justice of the Peace Billings at Beverly Hills yesterday during the arraignment on burglary charges of Ernest Perplies, 20-year-old transient, lately arrived here from East Prussia. LIPTON TO CHALLENGE FOR RACE CUP IN TWO YEARS

LONDON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Sir Thomas Lipton, entraining today for Southampton to take the Leviathan for America, stated that he had determined to have another Shamrock ready in two years to race for the America's Cup. It will be one, he said, that "will make the Americans sit up."

"Am I going to contest for the America's Cup next year?" said Sir Thomas. "I don't think so, unless I have a boat like the Americans have," he laughed, "but by the following year I'll have a Shamrock ready that will make the Americans sit up."

"We Scotch-Irish don't easily give up," Sir Thomas said as his train moved away. "I'm going to have another smack at the cup, but this time I'll win."

PRICE DEMOTES REGULARS

Bear Mentor Gives Players Tongue-Lashing for Poor Showings in Recent Contests

BERKELEY, Oct. 28. (Exclusive)—Coach Clarence (Nibs) Price put down his megaphone this afternoon and talked cold-turkey to his University of California football varsity. It is decisive enough when Nibs shouts through his small megaphone, but when he puts this aside and uses only the organs nature gave him, it is tough on the football players.

Price gave his Golden Bears a pretty accurate idea as to what he thinks of them, following their pretty punk showing the past several weeks. There was the second team which failed to click in the pinches in the San Francisco Olympic Club game, and the regulars who were all right except when within scoring distance against the Washington Huskies.

"NIBS" PRICE

The California mentor gathered his players around him today in skull session formation and soundly berated them as would-be gridsters. When Nibs was through, many of the gridmen wondered if they had intelligence enough to get through college.

Following on the heels of the coach's criticism, came a demotion of several of the first-string players. Even Rusty Gill went off the first string. Clarence "Moose" Garrity and Joe Hickingbotham suffered the fate of the beheaded. But most of the changes were interpreted by press observers as simply of a psychological nature—to put the men in mental trim for U.S.C. one week from Saturday.

MONTANA NEXT

Although Montana is officially the next team in line for the Californians, Price has eyes for nothing but the U.S.C. contest. An adequate defense for the Trojans' sensational sweeping attack is the goal in mind for the Bears. This week and next Price will introduce U.S.C. plays for the "goofs" and regulars to try against each other.

Among those who seemed to profit today from Prices's tirade were Don Handy, guard, and Dolph Timmerman, tackle. Don is brother to Capt. Carl Handy, and if the Bear leader does not watch out, Don

ENS WILL BOSS PIRATES AGAIN

Dreyfuss Has Confidence in Pittsburgh Pilot

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28. (AP)—Jewel Ens, who was beset with injuries among his players during his first full year, as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, fifth-place finishers in the National standings of 1930, will pilot the team again in 1931.

JEWEL ENS

Uncertainty which had existed among the club's followers as to whether Ens would be tendered another contract was dispelled today, when the management announced he had signed for another year. Terms of the new contract were not given out.

"We have confidence that Ens will keep the Pirates in the flag race next year," Sam Dreyfuss, vice-president of the Pirates, said in discussing the contract. "We had a fine team this year, but it was unfortunate. The squad for next season ought to be even better. French and Swetonic should be better pitchers and we look for much help from Charley Wood, the new left-hander. Moreover, some of the new players may measure up."

Ens, whose playing days were given largely to the minor leagues, has been with the Pirates since 1921, as player, coach and manager. He succeeded Donie Bush as manager late in the 1929 season.

After the first flare-up of optimism following Stanford's crushing defeat at the hands of the University of Southern California, opinion at U.C.L.A. in regard to Bruin chances for a surprise victory over "Pop" Warner's Palo Alto boys is toning down, and pessimism pervades the campus.

BILL SPAULDING

Bill Spaulding, Westwood mentor, says, "The team will go in and do its best, but don't be disappointed if things go against us for Stanford can play football." The way things stack up, the Bruins figure to go into Friday night's battle at the Coliseum with nothing to lose in the way of reputation, and everything to win, and with that attitude in mind, they should give the fans a great ball game to witness.

Dick Mulhaupt, who has been kept out of practice the past few days, is still troubled with an infected toe, according to Trainer Billy Burke. He may be injected into the Cardinal fray at a crucial moment, due to his acute ability to catch passes. Dick's place will be capably taken care of by either Les Haight or "Chuck" Smith.

One factor in favor of the locals is that they are experienced night gridders, having played both St. Mary's and Caltech under the arcs this year, while Friday night will be the first performance after dark for "Pop" Warner and his Redshirts, and it will take a little acclimating for the Stanford eleven. The ball quickly becomes wet and slippery on the dewy grass, and this factor is not conducive to accuracy and precision in the famous Warner reverses and laterals.

Norman Duncan, the tough customer from Santa Barbara, stands a good chance of being the Bruin hero against the Cardinals. Duncan is a great defensive fullback, and showed great form in line plunging last Friday night in U.C.L.A.'s 30-to-0 triumph over Caltech. He was used chiefly as an interfering back last year, but is now regaining his knack for cracking the enemy line for yardage. One of the fastest men on the squad, Norm is a good broken-field runner once he gets through the line into the

EX-TROJANS AIDED GOPHERS TIE CARDS

Barragar, Steponovich, Ward Helped Minnesota Gridders

BY BRAVEN DYER

HERE'S one of the best football yarns of the year. When Stanford held Minnesota to a scoreless tie some weeks ago—or maybe it was the other way around—Dr. Albert Boles got much credit for the sterling defense exhibited by the Gophers.

Dr. Boles, who used to be known as Boles Rosenthal until he changed part of his cognomen, was line coach at California for many years. He is a former Minnesota captain and having learned several things while scouting the Cards and Trojans for Nibs Price in years gone by, helped Fritz Crisler and Tad Weiman prepare for the game with Stanford.

"POP" WARNER

And after the Gophers had repulsed several Card attacks and sent the Redshirts home with nothing but a goose egg to console them, Dr. Boles was hailed as the savior of the situation from a Minnesota viewpoint.

OTHERS HELPED

But it turns out that the Gophers had other help and who should have supplied it but our old friends Nathan Barragar, Tony Steponovich and Johnny Ward. Barragar captained last year's Southern California varsity, Tony played end and running guard during his career, while Ward was a sub tackle.

This fall all three went east to play professional football with the Minneapolis Marines. During the course of their wanderings about the city they met up with certain Minnesota players and were invited to come out and help the Gophers prepare for Stanford.

Did Messrs. Barragar, Steponovich and Ward accept? Did they accept? Yes, sirre. And for two weeks, so the story goes, the three ex-Trojans drilled the Gophers in defense against Stanford formations.

Those of you who know your football know that Howard Jones has more on the ball when it comes to defending Pop Warner's stuff than any other coach in the business. And Barragar, Steponovich and Ward had not forgotten all they learned at Bovard Field.

The three of them were able to take care of every line position. Barragar having played center and guard against Stanford, Steponovich guard and end, and Ward tackle, although I don't believe John ever got into a game with the Cards. However, he had practiced against Stanford formations three seasons and that was about as good as playing in an actual game, at least from the standpoint of being able to instruct the Gophers.

DIRTY TRICK

So Minnesota went into the game employing a six-man line, as Jones has done against Stanford in the past, and it is now history that the Gophers three times repulsed the Cards when touchdowns not only seemed impending but mighty near imminent.

Of course, the three ex-Trojans helped do western football a dirty trick when they aided Minnesota, but perhaps Nate and the others didn't help as much as suspected. If they had maybe the Gophers would have won. But, anyway, wasn't it Pop Warner himself who said something last week about all's fair in love and war and football.

NATE BARRAGAR

Ex-Trojan Stars

At any rate, the present Trojans did their part Saturday to pretty thoroughly demonstrate that Stanford, in holding Minnesota to a tie, or vice versa, was not to be too seriously regarded as one of the real standard bearers of the West—at least not for the year of our Lord 1930.

If you are following your football closely these days you are keeping an eye on the situation in the Southern Conference, where there are some bone-crushing teams. Saturday one of the season's classics will be played when Alabama tangles with Kentucky. One of these teams, probably Alabama, will be the South's outstanding grid creation this year, and is very likely to appear at the Rose Bowl.

Kentucky has a back called "Shipwreck" Kelly, and M. B. Rice, the demon statistician, who has spent much of his life below the Mason-Dixon line, tells me that Alabama may look like the wreck of the Hesperus when Kelly gets through with them.

If Alabama wins Saturday Wallace Wade's team is a good bet to go through the rest of the season undefeated. Georgia, victorious over Yale, is also undefeated in the South, but still has New York U. Tulane and Alabama to get over.

Alabama has met much stiffer opposition than Kentucky to date, and for this reason I favor the Crimson Tide Saturday. Trimming Vanderbilt and Tennessee was no mean achievement, and Kentucky can point to no such tough games as these. Wade's team has scored 162 points to 13 for the opposition. Kentucky has 174 to 14.

Far Western Elevens Take Lion's Share

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—A check-up today on the returns from intersectional football games played so far this season revealed the East, South and Far West with a winning average of .500 or better.

The East had won seventeen and lost eleven; the Far West's record is two victories and one defeat, and the South has ten wins and ten losses to show for its intersectional warfare to date.

Largely because they have been unable to hold their own with southern adversaries, the middle western standard bearers have nineteen defeats as compared with fifteen victories. The Midwest has done well in its conflicts with the East, having broken even numerically and won the more important games, but has only two victories and eight defeats in its warfare with the South.

The South, on the other hand, has won only two out of ten from the East, several of the smaller

WRIGLEY FIELD SCENE OF GAME

Collection of Big Leaguers to Face Royal Giants

Bing Miller, Walberg, Shires in All-Star's Line-up

Altrock and Schacht Put on Famous Comedy Act

BY BOB RAY

Los Angeles baseball fans have a real treat in store for them this afternoon out at Wrigley Field where Earl Mack's American-National League All-Stars, containing such stars in their ranks as Lefty Grove, Bing Miller, Rube Walberg, Art Shires, Lefty O'Doul and many others, open a four-game series of exhibitions. The Royal Giants, one of the strongest colored clubs ever to invade Los Angeles for the winter, furnish the opposition for the All-Stars today.

LEFTY GROVE

Grove, acclaimed by critics as the greatest southpaw in baseball today, will be on the mound for the All-Stars for part of today's contest and may go the full route. Lefty, who has been the major-league strikeout king for the past four seasons, will be making his first appearance in Los Angeles and should prove a big attraction to local fans who have read so much of Grove's pitching prowess in the past two world's series.

ALTROCK AND SCHACHT

As an added attraction that is said to be worth the price of admission in itself, Nick Altrock and Al Schacht, baseball's foremost comedians, will put on their famous fifteen-minute act before the game. That means come early, for Altrock and Schacht put on a real show that shouldn't be missed.

"Whataman" Shires, the modest violet of the baseball world, also will make a special talk to the stands before the contest. Shires will tell why he became famous and how many hits he expects to get in the local exhibitions.

Aside from Grove, the All-Stars will have in their line-up Bing Miller, hero of the final game of last year's world series; Rube Walberg and Wally Schang, all members of the

ZACK FARMER, manager of the Coliseum, is to be featured this week. Mr. Farmer will answer questions pertaining to the progress made toward the 1932 Olympic Games in this city. He is also prepared to tell how speedily the contractors are enlarging the seating capacity of the Coliseum and any question that some sports fan might want answered. "POP" SHAKES UP TEAM

Stanford's Second and Third String to Battle Bruins in Coliseum Friday Night

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Palo Alto) Oct. 28. (Exclusive)—With new reports of a complete renovation of the so-called Cardinal football machine of 1930 springing up every time a cleat tears sod in the stadium, things began to happen this afternoon but how long they'll keep on happening is something else again. "Poor old Pop Warner," as the Southern California rooters so ungraciously reminded him last Saturday, made three changes in the line and one in the backfield.

Some say as how that means permanent changes and others say it means only that recuperation or rest or whatever it is a team needs after getting drubbed like Stanford did last Saturday, is the program and those taken off the varsity today will be back in the line-up after the U.C.L.A. night game at Los Angeles Friday. The reader is privileged to take his choice. If the reader happens to be one of the 88,000 who saw Cardinal and Trojan play tag last week-end, he or she undoubtedly will feel like rising right up and telling "poor old Pop" to take out the entire line and find a new one, if possible.

DICK BOGUE.

Don Colvin, end, replaces Phil Neill for the U.C.L.A. game, according to the present schedule. Neill still is considered the best end on the Cardinal squad, but he's not big enough to stand pounding every day like he got last week, and, maybe it was an off day, but Neill was boxed very effectively all last Saturday afternoon.

George Grey replaces Dick Bogue at tackle. Bogue is big and heavy, but he was one of those the Trojans were doubling backward, so the Stanford backs were being stopped by their own forwards.

Bill Simkins sits in for Rothert at fullback. Rothert stayed in the Trojan game longer than anyone else on his team, but he needs rest or something, and Simkins needs exercise.

Bill Marks gets the center call over Perry Taylor, but those who think they know look to Albertson to be the fair-haired boy on that job most of the rest of the way. Albertson was hurt Saturday after replacing Taylor.

DEMPSEY TO REFEREE

ATLANTA, Oct. 28. (AP)—Officials of the Atlanta Baseball and Amusement Corporation announced today Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, would referee the Stribling-Dekuh boxing match here November 11.

M'LARNIN VS. PETROLLE

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—The New York State Athletic Commission approved a welterweight match today between Billy Petrolle of Fargo, N. D., and Jimmy McLarnin, in Madison Square Garden, November 21. It was also announced Bud Taylor, Chicago bantam, will meet the winner of a Kid Chocolate-Fidel La Barba match here November 28.

S. C. FROSH TO FACE CARDS

Aubrey Devine's Players Go North Friday Night for Game With Stanford Yearlings

Hoping to start where their big brothers left off, freshmen of the University of Southern California are making preparations to meet Stanford's frosh squad in a game to be played Saturday at Palo Alto.

A party of forty players, coaches and managers will leave Los Angeles Friday night at 8 o'clock on the Lark and will arrive in Palo Alto at 9 the next morning.

AUBREY DEVINE.

Aubrey Devine's Trobabe squad made a mediocre start this season, but finally hit its stride two weeks ago when it downed the California freshmen by a decisive 27-to-0 score. It is quite likely that the same boys who started the California contest will open up the Stanford game with one possible exception.

Ford Palmer, former Hollywood star who has been laid up with a leg injury since the first game of the season, will probably start at right end for the Trojan freshmen with Bob Erskine, formerly at this position, starting at left end. Lawrence Stevens and Raymond Gribi, tackles; John Dye and Aaron Rosenberg, guards; Curtis Youel, center; Homer Griffith, quarter; Gordon Clark and Kenneth Fay, halfbacks, and Herald Williams, full, will probably complete the Southern California freshman starting line-up.

DAVE SHADE BATTLES TO DRAW WITH BRITISH CHAMP

LONDON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Dave Shade, California boxer, and Jack Hood, British welterweight champion, fought furiously through twelve rounds to a draw at Albert Hall tonight. The American was slow in getting started and Hood appeared to have a good advantage during the first half of the bout. Shade, however, rallied in the seventh round, dropping the Britisher for a count of eight, and continued to hold the upper hand until the end. Only his great power to assimilate punishment saved Hood in the closing rounds as Shade had him in difficulties in nearly every frame without being able to score a knockout.

Sonnenberg Defends World's Wrestling Title Against George at Olympic Tonight

DON HARD TEST FOR CHAMPION

Former Amateur Star May Tumble Title-holder

Ex-Michigan Grappler Has Air-tight Defense

Colorful Preliminary Bouts on Championship Card

A decisive victor in 308 matches, Gus Sonnenberg, champion of all the heavyweight wrestlers, tonight defends his championship against Don George in the main event of the Olympic wrestling program.

GUS SONNENBERG

Sonnenberg ought to beat George tonight. But whether he does is something else again. The ex-Michigan star, who twice held the national amateur crown, is not only a clever wrestler, but also is one of the smartest matmen in the game.

George, confident that his offensive wrestling is as good as it could possibly be, has concentrated on defensive tactics in preparation for his titular match. He has seen Sonnenberg perform, and he has beaten Bob (Bibber) McCoy, who used almost the same tactics on the mat that the champion does.

Wrestling experts, and mat instructors, who have seen George win five straight main events here, are confident that the ex-amateur will give Sonnenberg the hardest match he ever has had on the Pacific Coast. They will not predict a victory for the former Wolverine, but they insist that Sonnenberg will have to be at his best if he hopes to retain his crown.

The match is for a best two out of three falls, and George probably will try to win in a hurry. Sonnenberg is noted for his stamina, and his recuperative powers. He has outlasted many of his opponents and George can hardly expect to stand up under a long, gruelling match, as the champion can.

In his last match here, with Everett Marshall, Sonnenberg showed more real wrestling ability that he had displayed in any of his previous performances. He literally rushed Marshall off his feet, and won in a hurry. This was the exact opposite of his usual campaign, so George is prepared for any kind of an attack tonight.

George beat McCoy a couple of weeks ago because of a perfect defense. He prepared cannily for his opponent, and has spent an equal amount of time on defenses against Sonnenberg. As the champion and McCoy wrestle considerably alike, George believes he has a competent defense for the champion's attack.

In addition, he has worked on his usual array of holds, and has toiled strenuously on a couple of new ones, and hopes to puzzle the title-holder.

Promoter Lou Daro has lined up a pair of choice preliminary bouts. Jose Dominguez, colorful Mexican grappler, who scored a surprise victory over Joe Malcewicz recently, meets Howard Cantonwine, a 220-pound strong man, in the second event.

Henri De Glane, French mat star, who has lost only to Sonnenberg in this country, faces Moose Norbeck tonight in his local debut. Both of the preliminary events are one-fall, one-hour time limit matches.

Stribling May Face Sharkey

ATLANTA, Oct. 28. (AP)—The Constitution says W. L. (Young) Stribling, heavyweight contender, has agreed to meet Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, here in January and that a guaranteed offer of $50,000 has been made to Sharkey by the Atlanta Baseball and Amusement Company.

The promoters already have booked a Stribling-De Kuh bout here on Armistice Day. Stribling, the Constitution says, has agreed to a percentage cut. The offer to Sharkey's manager was telegraphed tonight. Stribling is in the East, preparing for a fight booked Friday in Boston.

BOSTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Johnny Buckley, manager of Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, tonight denied receiving an offer for Sharkey to meet W. L. (Young) Stribling in Georgia.

"I think," Buckley said, "Stribling is trying to get himself in good with the folks down home and suggested the offer. Stribling has an offer to meet Sharkey in New York for the milk fund and he can have the bout even now if he wants."

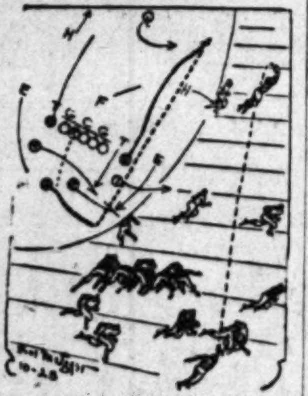
Dartmouth Is Best in Pass Attack Plays



BY SOL METZGER

It's a forward passing formation that Dartmouth takes when it lines up as in the accompanying diagram, though runs and punts are worked from it. Ball goes back to 2, 10 yards behind the line, who gives ground to the right rear. Note how a zone is cleared for the receiver, back No. 4.

Both ends straight down and then out wide to pull the rear defensive backs with them. No. 3 out to the right along the scrimmage line to pull the fullback with him.

No. 4 is the back to watch. Like No. 1 he rushes downfield to the left, pulling the back opposite him out. As they beat it full speed into this zone, 4 suddenly cuts back and into the area behind the defensive center, his quick cut-back freeing him from his opponent. He takes the pass from 2 on the dead run while the cohorts in the stands make the welkin ring with lusty cheers.

No. 3 alone protects the passes, so the timing must be perfect. Dartmouth does it by counting, the eligible man looking back for the pass at a certain count. That enables him to use all his speed and ingenuity to this point in outwitting and outrunning the opponent covering him.

gained the nod over Sammy Seaman in another six-rounder.

McGough had Seaman wobbly in the first round, and staged a rally in the last round to cinch the verdict.

Battling Shaw won by a technical knockout in the fifth round over Frankie Diaz. The latter was down for the nine-count in the first round from a left hook, and hit the floor for a shorter count in the fourth session. Referee Frank Holborrow stopped the fray in the fifth when Diaz's eyes became glassy.

Marcelino Lomeli and Oral Eubanks fought a four-round draw in the opener.

FIREMEN TO TACKLE SUBMARINE ELEVEN

Fire Department football players face the submarine base team at San Diego in their next game. The clash takes place at San Diego Sunday afternoon. Fresh from a 27-to-0 victory over Oneonta Military Academy, the firemen are confident they will take the navy team.

Thirty-five players will make the trip to the border city, E. O. Barnett, athletic director, announced. The navy team defeated the Bruin frosh recently and is rated as a real team.

Led by "Big Bertha" Newell, Jack Lawrence and Chum Irvin, the Gilmore Lions, 1929 champions of the Southern California Major Hockey League, swing into action tomorrow night at the Winter Garden Ice Palace against the husky Union Oil Pirates in a regular league game. They are determined to take the Pirates down a peg in the standings and are not keeping the statement a secret.

FAR WESTERN GRIDS EXCEL

teams of the South having been sent out of their class in such cases as Furman vs. Army and Hampden-Sidney vs. Cornell.

The Southwest, although represented by powerful teams, has only one major victory and three defeats to show for its outside activity principally because the southwesterners chose to tackle such teams as Notre Dame and Purdue. Southern Methodist retaliated last Saturday by stopping Indiana in conclusive fashion.

The Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast regions, constituting the far western section, scored when Oregon beat Drake and Colorado University trimmed Missouri, but Nebraska turned back Montana State.

Some of the most notable victories of all were those turned in by Notre Dame, for the Middle West, over one team from the Southwest and three from the East. Also noteworthy were the victories of Northwestern over Tulane, Vanderbilt over Minnesota and Georgia over Yale.

Several games have ended in ties, among them the Stanford-Minnesota and Chicago-Mississippi affairs.

CLIFF CAMPBELL TO BOX JUDY ZUNIGA

Judy Zuniga and Cliff Campbell meet in the main event tomorrow night at the Pasadena Arena. Zuniga is the Glendale High School youngster who has won his last seven out of eight starts via the knockout route.

The other bouts are Jack Leya vs. Pete Cardenas, 130 pounds; Billie Moore vs. Steve Pollock, 155 pounds; Joe Regan vs. Kid Venerable, 165 pounds, and Harry Alton vs. Bob Maxwell, 142 pounds.

Coming back from the big vessel last night, all ten were loud in their praise of the wonderful sport and claimed that a three-pound mackerel gave them as much fight as a fifteen-pound yellowtail gives the average man. Bonita, sandabs, perch and smelt were also listed among the day's catches.

The Battle to Go Through

Of the untied and the unbeaten teams to date, which have the better chances to slip safely through without a dent?

Notre Dame still must plow her way by Pennsylvania, Northwestern, Army and Southern California—

Fordham must still tackle West Virginia, Detroit, St. Mary's and Bucknell.

Dartmouth has Yale, Cornell and Stanford to overthrow.

Cornell has Dartmouth and Pennsylvania in the way.

Northwestern must duck by Minnesota, Wisconsin and Notre Dame. Georgia must stop Florida, Alabama, N.Y.U. and Georgia Tech. Kansas moves against Penn this week.

Alabama must whip Kentucky and Georgia; Kentucky's main obstacle is Alabama. Washington State should get by safely. Marquette's strong team has a tough one Saturday in Boston College. Western Maryland looks fairly safe.

Notre Dame undoubtedly has the roughest road to travel with Northwestern, Army and Southern California on successive Saturdays. That's enough for three teams to grapple with. Fordham's two hardest spots will be St. Mary's and Detroit—especially Detroit, with a team ranked as the best Coach Dorais has ever sent into action.

If Dartmouth gets by Yale and Cornell, there is Stanford waiting on her home field, all steamed up after the terrific beating from Southern California. Alabama and N. Y. U. are the two main bumps in front of Georgia's able delegation.

If Notre Dame can finish her long march unbeaten it will be a record in modern football, in so far as heavy schedules go.

"Fiddle" and the Kid

Fidel La Barba of Stanford says there is no connection between football and the ring. In meeting Kid Chocolate next week at the Garden, Fidel takes the stand that the kid is far from being a Duffield or a Mohler, two of Southern California's crack backs.

In addition to this the Stanford entry says he isn't using Pop's formations. Whether or not Kid Chocolate will reach out and absorb a few of the formations used by Howard Jones of Southern California is still a guess.

It is understood that La Barba and Chocolate intend to prove there are one or two fighters left who are still willing to fight. If these two, Mickey Walker and Jimmy McLarnin flop the species will be almost extinct.

That Army Touchdown

Epistles continue to arrive concerning the status of the Army touchdown in the Yale game. "You saw it," writes one noncombatant. "How did it look?" If Kilday went across on his first rush it was a touchdown. If he didn't, it was not. Stecker drove into the Army back and carried him about two feet. Yale officials say motion pictures show Kilday was stopped just short of the line. If this is true the ensuing aid was illegal.

It is getting to be difficult to tell whether a touchdown is a touchdown or whether it is a pomegranate.

Primo Carnera arrived back home in Italy amid many loud huzzas. Any home boy in this day and time who can put in a few months in another country and entice nearly $1,000,000 through the turnstiles is entitled to all the huzzas there are. There is a suspicion that on his next visit he will have to prove whether or not he can fight, a detail overlooked on his first visit.

Football Breaks

Harvard has lost her two big games to date—Army and Dartmouth. Yet in the Army game two forward passes to Harvard ends over the goal line missed by less than six inches. In the Dartmouth game Ben Ticknor fell on a blocked kick back of the line just a span away from touchdown territory.

The better teams may have won both games, but this takes nothing away from the facts that in any close game it is the break, one way or another, that so often decides. As Hek once wrote—"Dame Fortune is a cock-eyed wench that looks not where she aims."

H. P. W.

Just write—a sportsman crossed the hill
To vanish where the night is still,

A somewhat baffled duffer wants to know how he can keep too much right hand out of his golf swing. One way, and one of the best, is to first build up the use of the left hand, left arm and left wrist.

This can be done by left-hand practice around the house or the apartment. It is only natural for the strong hand, the right, hitting forward to overpower the weaker hand hitting backward, unless the weaker hand is taught to go to work and is strengthened.

It is impossible to come into the ball the right way with the right hand starting the down swing. Make a habit by practice of the left hand starting the back swing and the down swing until it has a feel of power and control.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS TO STAGE TOURNEY

Civil War veterans, now residing at the Soldiers' Home in Sawtelle, will battle it out today to determine who, in the ranks of '61, were the best miniature golfers.

The perpetual argument, as to who was the best general, Grant or Sherman, will not be settled, but the survivors of the armies of these two historic soldiers will battle it out over the Beverly-Wilshire links to determine which army had the best golfers. A trophy will go to the winning team, and another will be presented to the golfer with the lowest score.

ONEONTA GOES NORTH

The Oneonta Military eleven will make the trip to Berkeley this week-end to play the California freshmen. The Cadets have victories over Ventura J. C. and the U.S.S. Oklahoma and have been defeated by the Bruin frosh and the Firemen.

dics on the Pomona-Red- game last Friday night show while the Sagehens won the , 6-0, Lee Trine's Bull- had quite an edge in the mat- yards made from scrimmage passes.

of which goes to prove the Oxy Tigers, who tackle Bulldogs in the feature California Conference Friday evening in the Bowl, will be in for a evening.

amassed 159 yards from to the Sagehens' 111 130 yards on passes. Nixon's charges were eight yards from the air. Eddie Kienholz worked the against Redlands plays last night and hopes to effectively stop the powerful Bulldog attack. The Oxy squad is in pretty good shape physically and all hands are hoping for a victory.

Reports from Redlands are optimistic. Pete Beiden, who was injured in the Fresno State game early in the season, saw plent, of action against Pomona and has shown no ill effects. "Indian" Keele was injured in the Sagehen fracas, but it is believed that he will be all right by Friday. Trine played Joe Rabun for a short time against the Sagehens, but his broken hand had kept him out of practice for so long that it is doubtful if Rabun will be of much value to the Bulldogs this season.

Trine is worried about the Tiger running plays featuring Dick Glover. So far this year the Bulldogs have not been called on to meet such a flashy galloper as Glover and whether or not he can be stopped is a much-mooted question at the Bulldog institution.

Three other games featuring Southern California Conference teams are listed for this week-end with the feature tussle being the San Diego-Whittier game. The Poets will leave Saturday morning by rail for the border city. The contest is listed for that night at Service Field.

Eugene Nixon and his Pomona Sagehens will leave Friday night for Arizona, where they will take on the powerful Wildcats Saturday afternoon. Last week Arizona turned back the Oxy Tigers, 21-6. Reports from Eagle Rock, however, are to the effect that substitutes played three-quarters of the game. Nevertheless it is doubtful whether the Tiger first-stringers could have stopped Bill Hargis, the Wildcats' demon backfield ace.

The Caltech Engineers will be host Saturday afternoon to the up and coming Cal-Christian Panthers. While the Engineers are favored, the Panthers will no doubt put up quite a battle.

Accurate electrical timing for football games will be officially introduced to the public at the Oxy-Redlands game. A dual motor-driven clock with a six-foot face has been installed. It is visible from any point in the huge bowl.

The time-keeper will not carry a stopwatch but a switch connected by cord to the clock power installation. So that for time-outs and other interruptions of play he will cut off the current and so stop the chronometer.

Bill Annin, Occidental '16, is the inventor of the contrivance. Competing in the mile while in college, Annin established a mark of 5m. 27s. for the event, a record that stood for several years on conference books.

SPEEDY DADO FAVORED OVER CANTO ROBLETO

Speedy Dado, idol of the Filipinos, is going to be a hot favorite over Canto Robleto, Pasadena Mexican, when the flyweights go to the post at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night, because of Dado's greater experience and his past record. Robleto has a draw with Dado, but local fight fans want to see more of Robleto before they will rate him on a par with Dado, who claims he is once again in the best of shape and ready to meet all comers.

The Legion Stadium is one place where favorites are bowled over regularly. Only last Friday night Royal Elliott held Al Fay to a draw and the week before Young Papke was beaten by an unknown Filipino. Robleto has a chance to beat Dado because of the long lay-off the Filipino has had due to injuries.

Football fans will turn out to pay tribute to Marshall Duffield, who will be presented with a wrist watch before the main event.

The special event will be changed. Pickle Heintz and Gus Heib, heavyweights, are off the card, and Young Papke will be on one end of a new fight in this spot. An opponent has yet to be named who will meet Papke.

Benny Peltz, who fights Joe Galvis, Filipino, is reported to be the better fighter of the two. Galvis showed he is tough and willing when he beat Young Papke. He will probably last the six rounds.

open. Reuben Thoe, senior fullback, will see service also as a capable relief man for Duncan.

Bob Decker, sensational sophomore halfback, is also expected to be a big factor in Spaulding's offensive measures against Stanford. Decker is another speedy back, and very elusive in the open field. He averaged more than four yards per play against the Caltech Engineers. Buddy Forster, the slippery 150-pound halfback, may also give Warner's men some trouble if he is given good interference by his mates. Two years ago Buddy returned a kick-off ninety-seven yards to a touchdown against the Cardinals at Palo Alto.

Great public interest is expected in the rooting stunts put on by the U.C.L.A. rooting section. The Bruins originated a new idea in rooting stunts for the St. Mary's game, using electric lights in place of the colored cards used at day games, and plans for the Stanford tilt are even more elaborate. Four different colors of lights will be used, instead of two, as used at the Gael contest.

NOVICE TRACK EVENTS START AT CALIFORNIA

BERKELEY, Oct. 28. (Exclusive) Fall track training at the University of California took on a serious complexion today when Coach Walter Christie announced novice championships to be run off Thursday and Tuesday, and daily practice for his cross-country runners who will meet with U.S.C. and U.C.L.A. over Westwood Hills on the morning of the Trojan-Bear football game, November 8.

The cross-country runners were victorious against the San Francisco Olympic Club last Saturday and may compete Sunday in the Pacific Athletic Association championships in San Francisco.

MAMA GREETS PRIMO UPON HIS RETURN

GENOA (Italy) Oct. 28. (AP)—Primo Carnera's mother, who is over 6 feet tall, was the first to greet the giant Italian heavyweight when he arrived today on his return from an American boxing tour. The mother wept with joy.

"He is such a good son," she said. "Why, he sent me 1,000,000 lire (about $50,000) and wrote me to spend it buying a big enough bed for him."

Primo's father, brother and a host of other relatives, in addition to his mother, showered him with embraces.

MIQUE MALLOY SUSPENDED

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 28. (AP)—Mique Malloy, Chicago boxing promoter who promoted three of St. Louis's largest boxing programs from a box office standpoint, was indefinitely suspended today by Seneca Taylor, boxing commissioner. Taylor said Malloy had failed to meet obligations in several bouts here. Malloy promoted both of Primo Carnera's St. Louis appearances.

RABBIT PUNCHES

by PAUL LOWRY

SIX OR SEVEN—NIX

PERHAPS it was the six-man line that beat Stanford last Saturday, but I'll leave it to those who espouse that theory to explain why the Trojans scored more yardage against the seven-man than the six-man line.

Stanford used six men on the defensive wall in the first half and seven in the last half.

It is true that the Trojans scored four touchdowns in the first two periods and only two in the last half, but that doesn't wholly support the six-man theory.

There were more breaks in the first half, and the Trojans had to make 300 yards as against 200 in the last two periods to get only half as many touchdowns.

Getting away from technicalities, it looked to me as if Stanford just didn't have much of a line.

BAKER'S TOE FEATS

ONE of the excellent points about Troy's all-around performance against Stanford was Johnny Baker's kicking.

In the general scramble of the experts to pick out the high lights they overlooked the fine toe work of Howard Jones's running guard.

Southern California kicked off six times against Stanford. All of those boots were made by Baker, and three of them sailed over the goal line, and 5 yards behind it. Two of them went to the 5-yard line, and one was gathered in on the 10-yard line.

In addition, Johnny kicked five goals after touchdown, which is certainly a record for Trojan shooters.

Having lost three out of four games to Notre Dame by a single point, Trojan supporters will breathe easier as they view the encounter with Notre Dame here next December.

A WIRE SLIP

THIS is really a tough football season. You just can't get away with anything.

Sunday I wrote that the Trojans scored their greatest victory on record against a Stanford team.

The wire men dropped "ir" from their, and made it "the greatest victory," which brought the following from Mrs. M.E.B., Cal., '25:

"Your statement is incorrect, as many of your statements are. It is a matter of record that California defeated Stanford by the score of 42 to 7 in the year 1921."

Yes, Mrs. M.E.B., and I might add, having the California record in mind, that a California S.A.T.C. team beat a Stanford S.A.T.C. team 67 to 0 in 1918. I was referring only to Troy's record against Stanford—and not California's.

THE FOOTBALL RASSLERS

IT BEING the height of the football season, it is quite natural that Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg, the former Dartmouth gridiron hero, and Don George, ex-Michigan State, have it out in rasslin' holds at the Olympic tonight.

Don didn't play as much football for his dear old alma mater as Sonnenberg did for the Green, but he displayed a very capable method of circumventing Bibber McCoy's flying tackle when they wrestled here two weeks ago.

Of course, Bibber went to Holy Cross, and the Dartmouth tackle in the hands of the heavyweight mat king may be a more effective weapon. At any rate the question will be before the house this evening.

champion Athletics. The rest of the squad is made up of Lefty O'Doul of the Phillies, who last year led the National League in hitting; Harry Heilmann of the Reds, Charley Gehringer of Detroit, who is hailed as the best second-baseman in the game today; Red Kress of the St. Louis Browns, Sweeney of the Boston Red Sox, Earl Whitehill, sensational Detroit southpaw; Dutch Henry, White Sox pitcher, and Buck O'Neill, famous old-time catcher and present manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs. It's an imposing array of talent that has won eighteen games and lost only two during its barnstorming trip across the continent.

However, Lonnie Goodwin, manager of the colored club, says for the fans not to be surprised if his Giants knock over the big leaguers. Lonnie has brought out colored clubs to the Coast for the past seven winters and claims his present team is the strongest he has ever collected.

The Giants boast a collection of terrific sluggers, with Suttles, the husky first-sacker, being known as the colored Babe Ruth. Suttles has shown the curious plenty in batting practice at Wrigley Field for the past few mornings and is confident that he'll be able to knock at least one ball out of the lot, Lefty Grove or no Lefty Grove.

The game will start at 2:15 and ladies will be admitted free.

In their remaining exhibition games at Wrigley Field the All-Stars will play Fred Haney's Kelley Kars tomorrow ,the Royal Giants again tomorrow night and Wes Kingdon's slugging Commercial Club outfit Friday afternoon.

may usurp considerable playing time. Ted Beckett, who plays the other guard position, is California's outstanding defensive man in both practice and during games. There is not much chance of his being replaced unless he gets hurt.

Timmerman is just getting started once again after an enforced lay-off of several weeks due to a broken finger. This giant six-foot-two-inch tackle can play some real football when he gets into the midst of things.

CARD ANNOUNCED FOR MAIN-STREET BOXING

Carlo Curtis has completed the boxing card to be staged at the Main-street Club Saturday night, backing up the Herman Ritterhouse-Baby Sal Sorio ten-rounder with two sixes and a pair of fours. He has signed Tony Cadena and Bubbles Johnson, a pair of punching 154-pounders, for the six-round semi-wind-up, and Battling Shaw and Johnny Martinez, lightweights, will tangle in the six-round special event. The two fours are: Johnny Gabucco vs. Santiago Lujan, 118 pounds, and Frank Smith vs. Norman Kent, 135 pounds.

Moore Likely to Race Over Ascot Layout

Lou Moore, Hollywood racing ace, who has been a contestant on the leading tracks of the country for several years, may return to the Legion Ascot Speedway November 9 after a two-season absence. It was learned yesterday that Lou is having a special car built for Southwestern ovals and there is a good chance of the creation being ready for the 100-lap event at the Ascot saucer a week from Sunday.

Mechanics are assembling the mount at the local shops of Harry Miller. With a wheelbase of less than 100 inches, and a ninety-one-cubic-inch motor in an oversize block, the car is said to be ideally designed for competition on the short tracks in this section of the country.

The entry list for the 100-lap grind, the first long-distance event to be held in several months at the Legion plant, will open today. With several thousand dollars more prize money posted than has been offered the throttle knights in recent years, the outstanding drivers of the United States are expected to be lured here for the event, according to Legion officials.

MIXED-DOUBLES NET PLAY ON AT POMONA

CLAREMONT, Oct. 28.—With a large entry list, a mixed-doubles tennis tournament opened this afternoon at Pomona College for the college championship in this division. Tennis balls will be awarded winning teams.

The present tourney promises to produce several upsets as outstanding men and women court players are entered. Maurice Gerard, stellar captain of the freshman team last season, teams with Mildred Johnston to form one strong combination. Other outstanding groupings include John Alman-Mildred Lorbeer; Charles Gordon-Betty Clark; Comfort Higman-Frances Dundas and others.

The tournament, which this year precedes the annual men's championships, is being managed by Avery MacFedries and Ruth Whitcher.

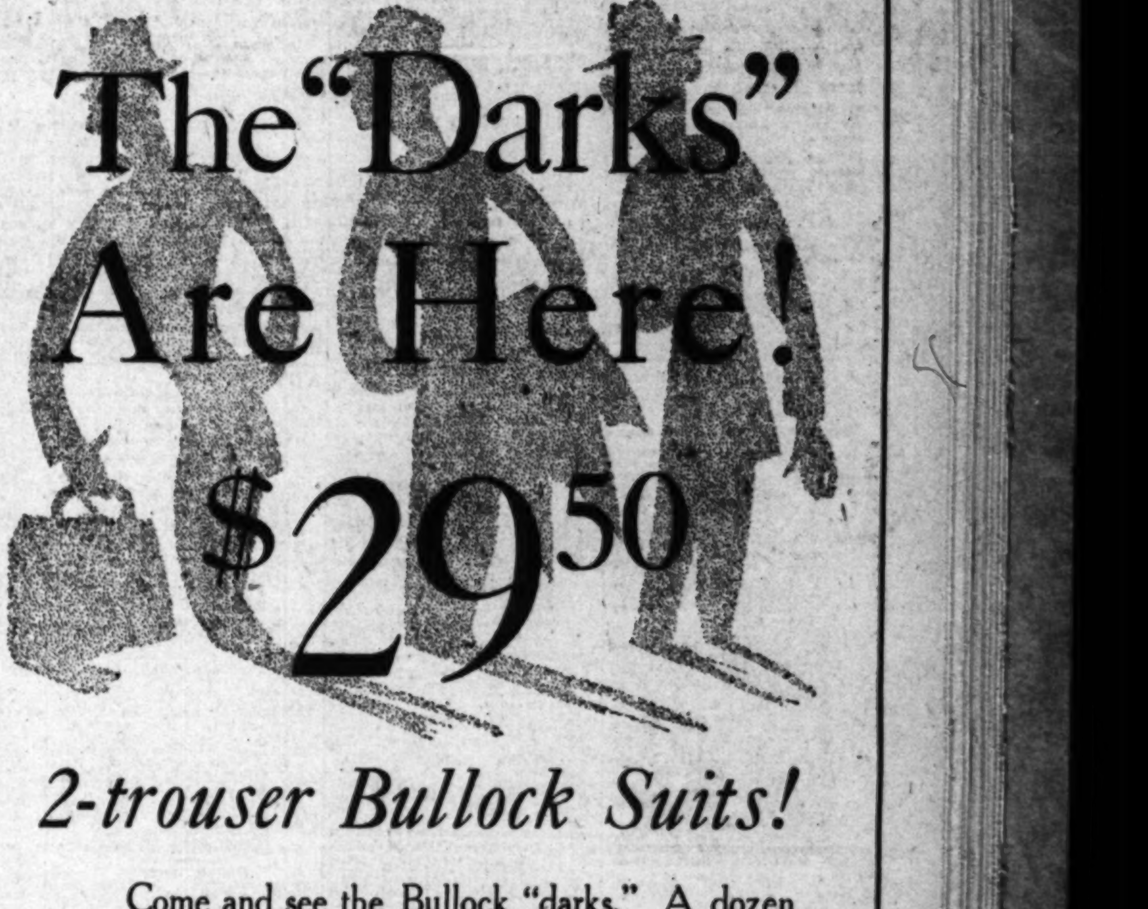
BULLOCK'S
STORES FOR MEN



The "Darks" Are Here!
$29.50

2-trouser Bullock Suits!

Come and see the Bullock "darks." A dozen dark tones of blue and brown and gray.

Some are darker than others. There are "medium darks." Soft tones. And also a few lighter shades. Some are plain. Some mixtures. They are all wonderfully fine looking!

Their price is almost unfair to the suits. $29.50! It does not indicate the Bullock specifications—the careful tailoring. It does not tell about the hand work in the making of the suits—such as shrinking of the fabric at the loom, hand stitching at the important seams, and so on. Nor of the 2 trousers, that wear longer, and always look fresher.

But here is the thought: These are the darks men want and will buy this season. The suits themselves are good suits—Bullock suits. And the $29.50 price indicates just this, and nothing else—suit VALUE!

University Store for Men . . . BULLOCK'S . . . Below Street Level, Hill

P. S. When you come to see the suits, come and look at those $25 topcoats, too. The ones that arrived a few days ago, in fleeces, imported tweeds, llama hair mixtures, coverts and a number of other fabrics. Celanese lined. Cravenette shower-proofed. And a song at $25!

RADIO "SELLING" GOLDEN STATE

KHJ'S 'California Melodies' Broadcast Over Nation

Columbia Network to Carry This Program Tonight

Junior Chamber Will Give "Times" Forum Feature

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m. Patrick and Marsh Orchestra, auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. World-wide news at 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

KHJ, with its weekly "California Melodies" broadcast that originates in Southern California and goes out over the Columbia network to the homes of the nation each Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, is a contributing factor to the Southland's growth to an extent as yet unestimated.

Pamphlets, good-will tours and the daily grist of publicity scattered far and wide through the mails, from train steps and on platforms, are feeble in their influence compared to the broadcasting of high-class entertainment. When the Easterner returns from shoveling his way in and out of the snow to sit before the loudspeaker and hear thirty minutes of sunshine in music and song, it finally 'gets' him.

Tonight John P. Medbury and Harry Tierney are the highlights of the half-hour. New York requested that California melodies again lead Medbury to the microphone. Harry Tierney, who wrote the music for "Irene," "Kid Boots," "Rio Rita" and many Ziegfeld Follies, will sing the chorus of his own number—"Whistling the Blues Away." A world radio premiere is Immerich Kalman's lovely melody, "What Have I Done?"

NORTHERN AUDITION WINNERS ANNOUNCED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28. (AP)—The two Northern California winners of the Atwater Kent Foundation audition were announced today as Bettye Catherine Baird, Merced, soprano, and Stephen F. Merrill, San Jose, tenor, by Robert I. Bentley.

The audition was held here the 20th inst. over KPO, with more than forty contestants. Miss Baird was identified as No. 29 in the contest and sang "April Morn," while Merrill was No. 8 and sang "Celeste Aida." Alternates were Muriel H. Scherruble of Albany and James W. Smith of San Francisco.

Miss Baird and Merrill will represent Northern California in the western audition November 17, next, with contestants of nine western States, to select two to represent the West in the national finals in New York.

They tell us that—

KFWB at 8 this morning, with its Los Angeles Breakfast Club, will have a "brilliant, sparkling entertainment program." Ted Weems is to be soloist.

Former Gov. Smith—KECA at 5 tonight—from New York.

Every now and then while you're twisting the dial you'll run into a political speaker.

KECA— 7:30 tonight—Grantland Rice will interview some national sporting celebrity. Who it is the local office doesn't know.

KHJ from 7 to 8 tonight—"Chimes of Normandy"—operetta—love, mystery, intrigue and ghosts—the music is delightful. A Raymond Paige product. It bids to outdo last week's "Mikado."

Keep your hat on—here comes an Indian chief—Shunatona—a tenor. Slim Martin and his band—Oscar Taylor, baritone—KNX at 6:30 tonight.

"Twelve new songs out of a total of fourteen numbers"—KECA at 9:30 p.m. Camel's Pleasure Hour—Piano Twins—Irving Kennedy—Betty Kelly. You won't have to walk a mile to dial.

KMTR, 8 to 9 tonight—the Ellis Club of Los Angeles—eighty-five men's voices—founded in 1888—an excellent hour.

A chain program—KFI at 6 tonight—Olive Palmer, opening with an aria from Rossini's "Barber of Seville." "A Perfect Day"—Kreisler's "Old Refrain."

A lady just phoned in to say, "She is a finished radio artist." Quiet, please.

An aria from "La Juive," and "Eli Eli"—Theodore Kittay, tenor—the KNX Ensemble—9 tonight.

Dreamy, sweet string music—KHJ from 9 to 10 tonight. A string symphony—then a popular concert.

And tomorrow—the Prince of Wales. No horses.

Halloween Fete Will Open Today

Introducing the city-wide observance of Halloween in Los Angeles in which thousands of playground children will take part, three of a series of twenty "ghost and goblin" plays will be presented this afternoon by children at Verdugo, Hazard and Lincoln Heights playgrounds.

The remainder of the series of Halloween plays will be offered at other playgrounds throughout the week, according to the Playground and Recreation Department.

On Friday evening the principal celebrations will take place at every municipal playground in the city.

SODIUM DEAL UNDER WAY

Receiver Scott of Former Watterson Enterprise Tells of Plans for New Concern

Stabilization of a California sodium mining and manufacturing enterprise which has risen and fallen in the last few years under varied financing and competition practices is indicated by David B. Scott in a Natural Soda Products Company announcement yesterday.

As receiver for the company, once a Watterson Brothers organization, Scott announces a deal whereunder certain unnamed Los Angeles and San Francisco interests acting through M. Kenzie Miller, Los Angeles investments dealer, are acquiring the company on the basis of $325,000 worth. They assume $225,000 of outstanding bonds and cover the remainder with cash and a forthcoming preferred stock issue.

The company owns or has under lease, Scott said, 4200 acres of sodium-yielding land on Owens Lake and a plant at Keeler. The company put out 33,000 tons of soda products last year, he said, consisting principally of soda ash and other sodium compounds such as those used in glass, soap and varied manufactures.

Scott has been operating the company since he was made receiver in 1927. Mark and W. W. Watterson, Bishop capitalists operating extensively in that California field, had the company up to that time from about 1915 when they came into possession of it and put it on the basis of $1,000,000 stock plus a considerable quantity of bonds. It went into receivership as one development of the crash which sent the Wattersons to the penitentiary for bank despoliation.

Scott, it is understood, will continue to operate the enterprise during the twelve-month interim before expiration of the Miller option and for a time at least will operate it for the proposed new company.

T. D. MODRA FALLS DEAD IN HIS HOME

Widely Known Southland Art Painter Succumbs at Hollywood

Theodore D. Modra, 57 years of age, painter, director of fine arts for the Pacific Southwest Exposition at Long Beach two years ago, and member of the art jury of the California Art Club, dropped dead of heart disease yesterday as he was entering his home, 2007 Canyon Drive, Hollywood.

A few moments before his fatal seizure, Mr. Modra who was regarded in art circles as one of the foremost painters in California, was strolling about the yard of his home. As he stepped over the sill into the kitchen, he collapsed and, it is believed, died instantly. The rescue squad of the fire department was summoned in the hope that he might be revived by the use of the inhalator, but hope was vain.

In addition to being a member of the art jury of the California Art Club at the time of his death, Mr. Modra was a former treasurer of the organization.

He leaves his widow, Katherine, and a brother, Roman Modra, prominent in politics in New York City.

Funeral plans had not been made last night.

Firemen Test to Be Repeated

Although he failed to climb through a second-story window as required in the civil service test for firemen, A. D. Zollers is to be given another chance, according to the decision of the Civil Service Commission yesterday. He had missed getting through by a couple of inches.

The request of Zollers, who explained that he had a sprained elbow when he took the physical test, was opposed by Chief Examiner Park on the grounds that "it would not be fair to the other applicants to give him a second test."

President Ellis, however, recalled how he had sprained his knee one time and that later, when he thought he was fit, he attempted to play ball and found the injury was still apparent. On his suggestion the board granted the application.

CHANGE OF POLICE STATION NAME ASKED

A request from the Hancock Park Chamber of Commerce urging that the name of the Wilshire Police Station be changed to the Hancock Park station because the district covers the Hancock Park area was filed by the Police Commission yesterday. The commissioners expressed the stand that if any change of name is to be made in division stations they should have the name of the street on which they are located. The commission recently considered changing the name of the Wilshire Station to the Pico-street Station, as it is on that street.

Wife to Handle Estate of Her Missing Mate

Mrs. Ruby May Lenk yesterday was appointed trustee of the estate of her husband, John Arthur Lenk, who has been missing for five years, on application of her attorney, Lois R. Mead, in Superior Judge Crail's court.

MRS. RUBY MAY LENK

Lenk disappeared two years after his marriage, and since then his father, John C. Lenk, died, leaving $150,000 to be divided among his two sons and his widow. In order that she could take charge of the share due her husband, Mrs. Lenk was appointed trustee.

COL. HUNTINGTON GIVEN HIGHER RANK

Carlos W. Huntington, veteran of the Ninety-first Division in the World War, has been notified of his promotion from the rank of major to lieutenant-colonel in the Officers' Reserve Corps. Col. Huntington served overseas with the Three Hundred Sixty-fourth Infantry and the Three Hundred Sixteenth Ammunition Train in the Powder River Division. He is now chairman of the speakers' bureau for the Republican State Committee, southern division.

NO BLAME FOUND FOR TEN DEATHS

Coroner's Juries Declare Week-end Traffic Mishaps Accidental or Unavoidable

Coroner's juries yesterday conducted inquiries into the deaths of ten persons killed in traffic accidents during the past week-end.

All of the mishaps were termed accidental or unavoidable and drivers and electric train crews in four accidents in which seven persons were fatally injured were exonerated from blame, as was one truck driver. In one accident in which two elderly persons came to their deaths lack of proper precaution was laid to the driver of an automobile.

The deaths of Fred Blaine Douglas, 40 years of age; his wife, Blanche, 41, and their two children, Nita, 15, and Kenneth, 4, of 201 West Mariposa street, Pasadena, who were fatally injured last Sunday when the automobile driven by Douglas was struck by a Santa Fe train at the Lincoln avenue crossing in La Verne, were declared accidental and the train crew exonerated from blame. The inquiry was conducted by Deputy Coroner Kane at the undertaking parlors of Todd & Reeves in Pomona.

Similar verdicts were returned by juries in the deaths of Victoriano H. Negrete, 85; John Elsie, 48; Jose Maria Vallesteros, 84; Hubert James Brown, Jr., 5, of Burbank, and John Sheldon Graham, Sr., 86, and his wife, Ella M. Graham, 76, 4123 Figueroa street.
